Russia Forges Ahead In Space Race

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians forged ahead in the space race again over the weekend by recovering an unmanned spaceship that splashed down in the Indian Ocean after circling the moon.

Sir Bernard Lovell, Britain's top space expert, predicted that the Soviets within months will make a manned shot around the moon. James E. Webb, outgoing head of the U.S. space program, said the latest Russian feat "shows a capability that could change the basic structure and balance of power in the world."

The spaceship, Zond 5, was launched on Sept. 14. It went into a holding orbit around the earth, then took off for the moon. It circled the moon on Wednesday, landed in the Indian Ocean Saturday night, and was picked up by a Russian recovery ship Sunday.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said scientific instruments aboard the space ship had been recovered with "a vast body of scientific information."

Project Lauded

Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory and an authority on the Soviet space program, called the Soviet shot "a considerable achievement . . . It probably means that a manned round-the-moon flight will occur in the coming months as a direct challenge to America's Apollo project."

Webb, who a week ago predicted the United States would remain second in the space race for years because of heavy cuts in its space budget, said the Zond 5 flight demonstrated that the Russians have "an able-bodied rocket" bigger than any operational U.S. rocket.

Webb said the flight was "the most significant demonstration of its time," comparable to Sputnik I, the first satellite to orbit the earth.

He also predicted that the next Soviet feat would be a manned flight around the moon.

West Germany's Bochum Institute for Satellites and Space Exploration predicted that such a flight would be accomplished with a three - man spacecraft "this year or at latest in the first quarter of 1960."

Russian Victory Seen

"With his fantastic success, the U.S.S.R. is on the way to being the victor and being the first to reach the moon," said the institute's director, Heinz Kaminsky.

Western sources speculated that the scientific equipment aboard Zond 5 included cameras and that pictures were made of the moon's surface. If so, it would be the first time film was used to take pictures of the moon at such a close distance. Such pictures should be of better quality than the pictures transmitted from space by U.S. or Soviet mooncraft.

Other valuable information from the flight included tests of control equipment and of temperature and air-pressure controls needed for later manned flights. Tass said Friday that flight information on the working of this equipment was frequently radioed back to earth.

Soviet scientist Leonid Sedov told Tass that Zond 5 had a special heat shield, that its speed was slowed down on re-entry by "air resistance" and that "at a comparatively small height" it was further slowed by parachute. No mention was made of retrorockets being fired to brake its descent.

Physicst Vladimir Kessnikh told Tass that plans for moon flights already drawn up by the Soviets would be changed "by the information contained in capsules of this spacecraft."

Zond 5 was also the first Soviet space capsule to be recovered at sea. All previous Soviet spaceships that returned to earth came down on land, in Soviet territory.

Returns Ship From Moon

SPACE SHOT. The Soviet Union announced the recovery at sea of a Zond-5 space ship from lunar orbit. Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said the ship, a prototype for a cosmonaut-carrying vehicle, was recovered Sunday from a "pre-set area" in the Indian Ocean midway between the tip of South Africa and western Australia after its moon voyage.

Near North Vietnamese Frontier

Marines Uncover Enemy Bunkers, Munition Sites

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines over the weekend found two heavily fortified camps just below the North Vietnamese frontier. The bases evidently were intended to sustain the Communist thrust through the center of the demilitarized zone that intelligence reports indicate is planned in the next six weeks.

While the Marines were uncovering hundreds of bunkers and huge stocks of munitions, South Vietnamese soldiers reported killing 98 North Vietnamese in a pitched battle on the eastern flank of the DMZ.

Most of the significant action reported today occurred in the northern provinces. Elsewhere another lull in the war appeared to be lengthening, with enemy forces avoiding contact and making a few attacks.

Upwards of 2,000 American Marines were probing the wooded foothills north of their Rockpile base, sitting athwart the central infiltration route from the 17th parallel.

Bunkers Located

Inside the demilitarized zone above the Rockpile the Marines on Saturday found a complex of 350 log bunkers, some reinforced with steel beams, and a huge stockpile of shells, rockets, rifle and machine-gun ammunition, mines and grenades and rice.

On Sunday, men of the 26th Marine Regiment a few miles to the south located a second underground fortress of some 300 bunkers, along with 1,200 mortar shells and other ammunition.

Each camp could have supported and sheltered an enemy regiment of about 2,500 men.

Officers at Marine headquarters said results of the DMZ operation have already exceeded intelligence estimates and more is expected. In the past three weeks the leathernecks have rounded up about 35 tons of supplies, including 16,000 rocket and mortar shells.

Prison Camp Hit

Two prison camps figured in the war news over the weekend.

South Vietnamese headquarters said the Viet Cong overran a prisoner of war camp at Binh Son, 325 miles north of Saigon, and killed 20 of the prisoners who refused to let their "rescuers" take them away.

The camp was defended by militiamen, one of whom was killed and 10 of whom were wounded. A spokesman said before the ground attack the town and the camp were hit by 100 rockets and mortar rounds which wounded 70 civilians.

At the other end of the country, deep in the Mekong Delta, South Vietnamese militiamen found a Viet Cong prison camp near the U Minh Forest and freed 11 men, 9 women and 5 children. Some of the prisoners said they had been captives for more than three years.

In the delta province of An Xuyen, the southernmost in the nation, a battalion of South Vietnamese troops swooped down on a marshy, paddyland area this morning. Within two hours the South Vietnamese had killed 40 fleeing guerrillas and swept up 19 weapons, including several heavy machine guns, plus a stock of mortar and rocket ammunition.

Northwest of the capital, on the Communist infiltration route from Cambodia, U.S. 25th Infantry Division soldiers fought a series of skirmishes and reported killing 29 of the enemy.

Viet-Bound Soldier Dies In Newell Cycle Mishap

A 21-year-old serviceman slated for Vietnam duty after a visit with his sister in Newell was killed early Sunday night in a motorcycle mishap on 6th St. Rd., Newell.

Pfc. John Simon Mills of Mt. Clair RD 2, W. Va., was pronounced dead at the scene by Hancock County Coroner John D. Herron.

The young soldier, who was apparently hurled from the cycle into a tree, suffered multiple head injuries, including a fractured skull.

He had been visiting his sister, Mrs. Donnie (Betty) Atchison of 6th St. Rd.

Hancock County Sheriff's deputies said Mills, operating the motorcycle owned by his brother-in-law, was headed west just past the Joetown intersection when the vehicle went off the roadway.

The mishap occurred at 5:28 p.m.

Mills, who was scheduled to leave for Southeast Asia after the visit with his sister, was the county's eighth traffic fatality this year.

He was born March 7, 1947, in North Vernon, Ind., a son of Fred G. Mills and Vernice

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police in Philadelphia are wearing blinker lights for night traffic duty. Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo ordered 5 belts, visible for a block, which flash green lights. They replace the white capes and caps traditionally worn by traffic policemen.

Board Opens Final Drive In Voter Signup

The County Election Board today launched a final, all - out campaign to register unqualified East Liverpool voters for the Nov. 5 general election before the deadline Wednesday night at 9.

The board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall, went into a 12-hour schedule that will continue until the deadline. Voters may register anytime between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., including the lunch and dinner hours, from today through Wednesday.

In addition, four branch registration offices were opened to allow unqualified electors to register without the necessity for a trip to the W. 6th St. office. The branch registration sites will operate today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

They are located in the Thorofare Market on Pennsylvania Ave., the North Side Fire Station on St. Clair Ave., the Pleasant Heights Fire Station on Lisbon St. and the lobby of the main Post Office downtown.

The offices will operate daily from 10 a. m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 to 9 p.m., except the Post Office site, which will close at 8 p.m. because of the lobby schedule.

Two registrars will be on duty at each branch office.

Although close to 8,000 East Liverpool voters are registered, an estimated 2,000 more are not.

When registration ends Wednesday, the books must remain closed until 10 days after the general election. Voter enrollment will resume on Nov. 16.

Judge Gives Reservists Second Stay

Army Ordered Not To Ship Two Units For Vietnam Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in two weeks, Justice William O. Douglas has ordered the Army not to send groups of reservists to Vietnam until the Supreme Court considers whether to hear their objections to being called up for active duty.

In issuing the order Sunday, Douglas told the Army he was staying until at least Oct. 7 any orders to send the 448th Postal Unit and the 1018th Service Supply Company to Vietnam.

Douglas, who acted one day after Chief Justice Earl Warren refused to intervene, issued a similar order Sept. 12 for the 1002nd Combat Supply Company. Warren and Justice Hugo Black also had declined to act in the earlier case.

The postal unit is from New York City, while the supply company is from Schenectady, N.Y. Both units are stationed at Ft. Lee, Va. The 1002nd is from Ohio and Stationed at Ft. Meade, Md.

Thirteen members of the postal unit and 83 members of the supply company asked for the stay. Their case, as in the one from 113 members of the 1002nd company, is based on the contention that it is unconstitutional for the President to activate the reserves for extended duty without the declaration of war or a national emergency.

The units involved were among several reserve groups called to active duty by President Johnson under a 1966 law which provided he could take such action if it were in the national interest.

Although only individuals asked for the Supreme Court hearing, Douglas' action applies to each unit as a whole. Actually, officials at Ft. Lee said orders had already gone out to keep the units on base indefinitely.

In issuing the Sept. 12 stay, Douglas said only that the case brought up several substantial questions. As reported by court officials Sunday, Douglas made no comment on his latest order.

Several things could result from the court's Oct. 7 session. It could refuse to hear the cases, thus automatically dissolving the stays and making the units eligible for immediate shipment overseas.

Or the court could agree to put the matter on its docket for a hearing, which would mean extending the stays until a decision is reached.

At least four justices would have to vote to hear the reservists' cases before they would be put on the docket, which would be unusual in view of the reluctance by the court to hearing challenges involving the Vietnam war.

Douglas issued Sunday's stay, as he did the others, by phone from a remote vacation spot in the state of Washington.

Rains Pelt District After Sunny Weekend

The weatherman kept his promise for an enjoyable weekend, but turned the skies loose shortly thereafter.

It began raining early this morning, with more showers due today, tonight and Tuesday.

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average near normal, with daily highs mostly in the 70s and nighttime lows in the 50s. It will turn cooler during the first half of the period, followed by warmer weather over the weekend.

Precipitation will total around a half inch, mostly during the first half.

Hippies Take A Trip

A Happening Without The Aid Of LSD

NEW YORK (AP) — Tired of being gawked at by camera-toting tourists from the wilds of suburbia, a group of hippies from the Lower East Side turned the tables Sunday.

They took their own tour and stared at the suburbanites.

About 50 hippies, clad in their best beads and bells, paid $5 each, then boarded a bus at St. Mark's Place, in the heart of the East Village, and set off for a day in Queens, a predominantly middle class borough of New York City.

The tour was the brainchild of Joe Skaggs, 23, an artist, who described the expedition as "a put-on of middle class values .... a sort of cultural exchange."

The turned-on tourists got glimpses of such nonhippie strongholds as housing developments, bowling alleys, neatly manicured lawns and other middle class symbols which many of the hippies left behind when they fled to the Village.

Included in the tour were several stops. During one of them —at a restaurant for ice cream —eight "straight" patrons fled through a side door when the hippies walked in.

Other Queens residents greeted the expedition with a mixture of surprise, skepticism and amusement.

"We're being invaded," cried one housewife, as the hippies de-bussed near her house. "It must be some kind of underground movie stunt," added her husband.

During a stop in Jamaica Estates, the hippies wandered around, snapping pictures of suburbanites watering their lawns and reading the Sunday papers.

"Hey what do you do at night around here?" one of the tour group asked a woman.

"Not much," she said. "We go to sleep early."

The tour ended with a happening in the Nirvana Headshop—a touch of hippiedom in Hillside, Queens—where four men and three women danced, nude, while an artist painted their bodies.

Bob Lake, who usually runs regular bus tours around Manhattan, acted as tour guide.

3,000 View 43rd Annual Exhibit Of Dahlia Society

Eugene Woznicki of Bedford won two top awards in the 43rd annual East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society which drew an estimated 3,000 Saturday and Sunday at Westgate School.

Fifty local and out-of-town exhibitors, from as far as Cincinnati, Mansfield, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, took part in the event.

"Court of Honor" winners were Woznicki, most perfect 'A' dahlia in show; Nick Kozopas of Bedford, largest; J. W. Anderson of Pittsburgh, best of three dahlias; Kozopas, most perfect 'B' dahlia.

Charles Stetina of Bedford, most perfect miniature dahlia; Mrs. L. S. Davies of Maple Heights, smallest and most perfect pompon; F. N. Richmond of Chester, best three "B" dahlias.

SYD CARTMELL of North Royalton won for the most perfect dahlia in the amateur division and best vase of three dahlias in the amateur division and Anderson for best three "BB" dahlias in show.

The Bedford society led with a total of 262 points, and Kozopas of Bedford was individual leader with 223 points. Frank Richmond of Chester was runnerup with 171 points.

The Amateur Division Sweepstakes was won by Charles Stetina of Bedford with 194 points. Cartmell was second.

Other winners were J. T. Eccleston, Leo Lawrence of the city society in open division, and Charles Glover, Mrs. Clarence Green and Lester Poe in the amateur; Dr. Robert Keesling of Cincinnati; Donald McIlrath, Wendell Fleckenstein,

Soviet Bloc Troops May Be Removed

Communist Paper Says Withdrawal Due In Few Days

PRAGUE (AP) — Hopes for early withdrawal of most of the Soviet Bloc troops who occupied Czechoslovakia last month were strengthened today by a report in the newspaper of the ruling Communist party, Rude Pravo.

The paper, silent Sunday on the subject, told its readers today that Premier Oldrich Cernik announced in Ostrava on Saturday, that "the withdrawal of troops will begin in the next few days. The majority of them will withdraw and it will not take a long time. But certain troops will remain. How many and for how long we will tell our public in due time."

So far, however, there were no definite signs of the partial troop withdrawal.

Troop movements were reported in southern Bohemia, but some military observers said they believed the Soviets were reinforcing the border with Austria. The Russians concentrated a large contingent of their forces on the border with West Germany shortly after they moved into Czechoslovakia on the night of Aug. 20-21.

Numerous Soviet troop transport planes took off from Prague's military airport Sunday, and airport sources said they carried troops. But it could not be established whether the troops were being rotated or being flown home to stay. The Soviets have been flying in supplies for their forces since the start of the invasion.

Few troops were seen on the roads Sunday, and the Czechoslovaks, trying to carry on with life as they best could, jammed the roads for outings in the country.

The Prague race track did a booming business in its third Sunday racing session since the invasion. But the track in the Slovak capital, Bratislava, announced it could not reopen yet because of technical reasons "due to recent events."

With officials trying to get thousands of citizens to return home from Western Europe, Rude Pravo carried statements by three of the country's best known film directors saying they did not plan to emigrate. The directors were Jiri Menzel, Jan Kadar and Jan Nemec. All are on assignment abroad but plan to return, the paper said.

Ohio Power Workers OK New Contract

Installation of transformers to feed power to the new East Elementary School was one of the top priority jobs facing Ohio Power Co. crews following the ending of the nearly three - month-old strike of utility workers.

Operations were expected to return to normal throughout Ohio Power Co. facilities, as the new 3-year contract went into effect.

The company said the new pact provides wage increases totaling more than 17 per cent, and was approved by the Utility Workers of America and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in separate votes over the weekend.

George Malcolm, Ohio Power Co. executive, said Ohio Power crews will be returning to various projects on which work was halted by the walkout.

The transformer project at East Elementary — where classrooms have been without lighting since the term opened Sept. 9 — is rated "high priority" Malcolm said. Completion

Army Ordered Not To Ship Two Units For Vietnam Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in two weeks, Justice William O. Douglas has ordered the Army not to send groups of reservists to Vietnam until the Supreme Court considers whether to hear their objections to being called up for active duty.

Board Opens Final Drive In Voter Signup

The County Election Board today launched a final, all - out campaign to register unqualified East Liverpool voters for the Nov. 5 general election before the deadline Wednesday night at 9.

The board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall, went into a 12-hour schedule that will continue until the deadline. Voters may register anytime between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., including the lunch and dinner hours, from today through Wednesday.

In addition, four branch registration offices were opened to allow unqualified electors to register without the necessity for a trip to the W. 6th St. office. The branch registration sites will operate today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

They are located in the Thorofare Market on Pennsylvania Ave., the North Side Fire Station on St. Clair Ave., the Pleasant Heights Fire Station on Lisbon St. and the lobby of the main Post Office downtown.

The offices will operate daily from 10 a. m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 to 9 p.m., except the Post Office site, which will close at 8 p.m. because of the lobby schedule.

Two registrars will be on duty at each branch office.

Although close to 8,000 East Liverpool voters are registered, an estimated 2,000 more are not.

When registration ends Wednesday, the books must remain closed until 10 days after the general election. Voter enrollment will resume on Nov. 16.

Hancock County Sheriff's deputies said Mills, operating the motorcycle owned by his brother-in-law, was headed west just past the Joetown intersection when the vehicle went off the roadway.

The mishap occurred at 5:28 p.m.

Mills, who was scheduled to leave for Southeast Asia after the visit with his sister, was the county's eighth traffic fatality this year.

He was born March 7, 1947, in North Vernon, Ind., a son of Fred G. Mills and Vernice

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police in Philadelphia are wearing blinker lights for night traffic duty. Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo ordered 5 belts, visible for a block, which flash green lights. They replace the white capes and caps traditionally worn by traffic policemen.

Rains Pelt District After Sunny Weekend

The weatherman kept his promise for an enjoyable weekend, but turned the skies loose shortly thereafter.

It began raining early this morning, with more showers due today, tonight and Tuesday.

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average near normal, with daily highs mostly in the 70s and nighttime lows in the 50s. It will turn cooler during the first half of the period, followed by warmer weather over the weekend.

Precipitation will total around a half inch, mostly during the first half.

Hippies Take A Trip

A Happening Without The Aid Of LSD

NEW YORK (AP) — Tired of being gawked at by camera-toting tourists from the wilds of suburbia, a group of hippies from the Lower East Side turned the tables Sunday.

They took their own tour and stared at the suburbanites.

About 50 hippies, clad in their best beads and bells, paid $5 each, then boarded a bus at St. Mark's Place, in the heart of the East Village, and set off for a day in Queens, a predominantly middle class borough of New York City.

The tour was the brainchild of Joe Skaggs, 23, an artist, who described the expedition as "a put-on of middle class values . . . . a sort of cultural exchange."

The turned-on tourists got glimpses of such nonhippie strongholds as housing developments, bowling alleys, neatly manicured lawns and other middle class symbols which many of the hippies left behind when they fled to the Village.

Included in the tour were several stops. During one of them —at a restaurant for ice cream —eight "straight" patrons fled through a side door when the hippies walked in.

Other Queens residents greeted the expedition with a mixture of surprise, skepticism and amusement.

"We're being invaded," cried one housewife, as the hippies de-bussed near her house. "It must be some kind of underground movie stunt," added her husband.

During a stop in Jamaica Estates, the hippies wandered around, snapping pictures of suburbanites watering their lawns and reading the Sunday papers.

"Hey what do you do at night around here?" one of the tour group asked a woman.

"Not much," she said. "We go to sleep early."

The tour ended with a happening in the Nirvana Headshop—a touch of hippiedom in Hillside, Queens—where four men and three women danced, nude, while an artist painted their bodies.

Bob Lake, who usually runs regular bus tours around Manhattan, acted as tour guide.

Bedford Man Leads

3,000 View 43rd Annual Exhibit Of Dahlia Society

Eugene Woznicki of Bedford won two top awards in the 43rd annual East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society which drew an estimated 3,000 Saturday and Sunday at Westgate School.

Fifty local and out-of-town exhibitors, from as far as Cincinnati, Mansfield, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, took part in the event.

"Court of Honor" winners were Woznicki, most perfect 'A' dahlia in show; Nick Kozopas of Bedford, largest; J. W. Anderson of Pittsburgh, best of three dahlias; Kozopas, most perfect 'B' dahlia.

Charles Stetina of Bedford, most perfect miniature dahlia; Mrs. L. S. Davies of Maple Heights, smallest and most perfect pompon; F. N. Richmond of Chester, best three "B" dahlias.

SYD CARTMELL of North Royalton won for the most perfect dahlia in the amateur division and best vase of three dahlias in the amateur division and Anderson for best three "BB" dahlias in show.

The Bedford society led with a total of 262 points, and Kozopas of Bedford was individual leader with 223 points. Frank Richmond of Chester was runnerup with 171 points.

The Amateur Division Sweepstakes was won by Charles Stetina of Bedford with 194 points. Cartmell was second.

Other winners were J. T. Eccleston, Leo Lawrence of the city society in open division, and Charles Glover, Mrs. Clarence Green and Lester Poe in the amateur; Dr. Robert Keesling of Cincinnati; Donald McIlrath, Wendell Fleckenstein,

Ohio Power Workers OK New Contract

Installation of transformers to feed power to the new East Elementary School was one of the top priority jobs facing Ohio Power Co. crews following the ending of the nearly three - month-old strike of utility workers.

Operations were expected to return to normal throughout Ohio Power Co. facilities, as the new 3-year contract went into effect.

The company said the new pact provides wage increases totaling more than 17 per cent, and was approved by the Utility Workers of America and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in separate votes over the weekend.

George Malcolm, Ohio Power Co. executive, said Ohio Power crews will be returning to various projects on which work was halted by the walkout.

The transformer project at East Elementary — where classrooms have been without lighting since the term opened Sept. 9 — is rated "high priority" Malcolm said. Completion

Crew Pushes Blacktop Job In Downtown

Although the work was interrupted briefly by heavy rain, a crew of the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry went to work today on blacktop resurfacing of the block-long section of Washington St. between E. 3rd St. and E. 4th St.

The crew moved into the downtown area after virtually completing work about 2:30 p.m. Saturday on the blacktop resurfacing of St. Clair Ave. between 6th St. and Princeton Ave. Application of the so-called gutter seal will finish the St. Clair job. The gutter seal is a thick coat of liquid asphalt material that is applied at the point where the new pavement abuts the curb.

The Washington St. job, the second step in a three - phase, $73,000 project, got under way shortly before 8 this morning. It was halted briefly less than 30 minutes later when a heavy downpour began and then resumed when the rain eased to a mild sprinkle.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the new surface on Washington St. will be left rough deliberately to give vehicles better traction while ascending or descending the grade in slippery weather.

The last phase of the project will see blacktop resurfacing of the River Rd. The project calls for the new surface to be slanted slightly toward the south so that surface water will run onto the berm nearest the Ohio River. As part of the resurfacing, dips and depressions will be eliminated by filling them with a coating of blacktop to level them with the rest of the surface.

The deterioration of the surface has been blamed in part by the fact that some of the surface water now runs onto the berm on the north side of the road, where the drainage is inadequate.

Cement-Laden Body Discovered In Lake

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Parma Police prosecutor will consider facts today in the death of a 33-year-old mother of three, whose cement-weighted body was found Saturday in Hinckley Lake, Medina County.

The body was identified Sunday as that of Mrs. Marilyn Rae Scarberry, of Parma, and police said her husband, Philip, 33, had admitted pushing his wife into the lake.

The Medina County coroner is to rule on the cause of death.

The body was found in a shallow area near a dam after fishermen spotted an arm in the water.

People Outnumbered

CANBERRA (AP) — Australia had 166,973,000 sheep and lambs at last count, equal to 14 for very person, the Commonwealth Statistician announced. It was an increase of 2.7 million over a year earlier, but 3 million fewer than in 1965.

Thieves 'Displeased' With Stolen Paintings

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Artist Herman Higger's works went out on a one night stand in an exhibition he never got to see.

Higger said he returned to his apartment Saturday night to find the door ajar and three of his own watercolors and a lithographed Picasso missing.

Sunday the unframed pieces were returned, rolled up and left at the door beside the morning paper.

Area Motorist Cited

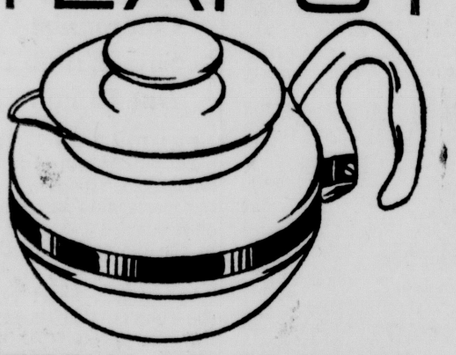

An Irondale area man was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville for failure to yield the right-of-way as the result of an accident Saturday.

Robert Lyle Carter, 37, of Irondale RD 1, driving a 1963 sedan on Route 213 at 1:05 p.m., halted for a stop sign, but failed to yield the right-of-way to Joseph Brooks, 52, of Steubenville, who was driving a 1967 pickup truck on Route 152.

There were no injuries and only slight damage to both vehicles.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Dry Clean Your Lap Dog

DEAR FOLKS: Here's a tip for those of you who have lap dogs.

We know that these little dogs are not supbathed too often. But because they d sit in our la while we're watching TV, etc., and w are contin uually rubbing them with our hands, their hair often gets oily.

Heloise

The other day when I couldn't bathe my little dog, I got out a box of cornstarch. After all, I figured if you could take out a lot of grease spots this way, why wouldn't it clean my doggy?

Well, it sure did! Here's how: I poured some cornstarch in my hand and rubbed him gently. As soon as it was mixed into the dogs hair, I rubbed him thoroughly with a DRY washcloth. After rubbing, the pretty little pet was almost greaseless.

Then using his brush, I brushed him until he was all nice, fluffy and clean again.

And, by the way, while we are talking about brushes and combs for pets, we found that a baby comb and brush was not only inexpensive, but excellent for these little lap dogs.

Let me caution you about one thing, though. Don't try to give your little dog this dry shampoo while he's sitting on your nice carpet or your favorite chair. That cornstarch flies like mad when he shakes!

HELOISE.

P.S. Don't forget to take an old bath towel and false-dry your little dog after his "bath." You'll get him real clean this way. P.P.S. Some people use cornmeal the same way on larger dogs with good results.

DEAR HELOISE: I recently put wall-to-wall carpet in my bathroom.

I had just ruined my lamb's wool floor polishers by drying them on the radiator. So I cut new discs from the leftover carpet. They work perfectly.

When they are soiled, I just throw them in my washer.

Be sure to cut the center hole as small as possible so it will stay on.

MRS. M. PICKETT.

DEAR HELOISE: When arranging cut flowers, I often find some have been cut too short.

My remedy is a woven plastic scour pad in the bottom of the base. This allows the stems to get water and the pad makes an excellent frog.

MRS. JEAN WILLIAMS.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a spray of plastic flowers as tie-backs on my curtains. I like this especially for a bright kitchen touch.

My kitchen is yellow and natural birch wood, and I have yellow curtains with a spray of daffodils holding them back.

The long-stemmed spray is best. Just bend the flower part around so it'll hold the curtain and hook the stem end onto the wall where you usually secure your tieback.

ELSIE H. SCHULTZE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a pair of pearl, button earrings wrapped in cellophane in my handbag at all times.

They certainly come in handy if I get downtown or elsewhere and discover I've forgotten to don a pair, which has happened on several occasions.

LIBBY WORTH.

DEAR HELOISE: I love a pretty bathroom with plenty of pretty guest towels.

In my bathroom, I keep a small, pink wicker basket filled with different colored fringed guest towels. I roll each one in a small roll and tack 'em in the basket.

They look very attractive and add a decorative touch to my bathroom. Also it's very convenient for my guests to reach for one when needed.

UN To Open 23rd Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats from around the world gathered today to close out the 22nd session of the U.N. General Assembly in preparation for the opening of the 23rd session on Tuesday.

Already four prime ministers, three deputy prime ministers and 47 foreign ministers are listed to attend the new session that is scheduled to run to Dec. 23. The general policy debate will start Oct. 2.

The main topic being transferred to the new session is the continuing Arab-Israeli conflict in the Middle East. It is chief among the 99 subjects on the prospective agenda.

But two main topics not on the agenda and certain to be thoroughly aired during the general debate are the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the Vietnam war.

Experts feel those two questions and the Middle East crisis, will dominate the general policy debate in the opening weeks.

Robles May Live In U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Marco A. Robles says he will live in the United States after he steps down next week as president of Panama.

The Miami Herald quoted Robles today as saying in an interview that he had purchased a house in Coral Gables, in the $25,000 to $30,000 range, and would make his home there.

There also were reports that Robles, 61, may serve in an advisory position on Latin American affairs in a Hollywood, Fla., bank. The board chairman of the First National Bank of Hollywood, Maynard Abrams, was a recent visitor to Panama where Robles presented him with the Vasco Nunez de Balboa Decoration, the highest given by Panama to a foreigner.

Robles told the Herald he did not plan to appear before the National Assembly when his political rival and successor, Dr. Arnulfo Arias, is sworn in on Oct. 1. Robles said he would have his farewell message read before the deputies.

Burning Ban Ends

SALINEVILLE — A ban on fire burning without permits in Salineville has been lifted, according to Fire Chief Tony Brandonisio.

Latin America's major contribution to the yuletide season in the United States is the poinsettia. Dr. Joel Roberts Poinsett, U.S. minister to Mexico, brought the shrub with the flaming red bracts to the United States in 1892 and it was given his name.

Area Workshop Set Friday For Fallout Shelters

Residents of Columbiana County are among those from a 14-county area invited to participate in a public fallout shelter workshop Friday at Painesville.

This will be the first of six such workshops to be held throughout Ohio within the next few months, James F. Worster Sr., deputy director of Ohio Civil Defense said.

Individual, family and community emergency preparedness will be stressed.

Counties in the area also include Ashland, Ashtabula, Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, Mahoning, Medina, Portage, Stark, Summit, Trumbull and Wayne.

The workshops are sponsored by the Ohio CD headquarters at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, and the Ohio Women's Civil Defense Council.

The northeastern Ohio session will be held at Lake County CD headquarters, 150 Freedom Rd., Painesville.

Registration will be from 8:30 to 9 a.m., with the workshop adjourning at 3:30 p.m.

Advance registration may be made by mailing check and name to V. Marlene Drobnic, director of women's activities, Ohio Civil Defense, Building 110, Ft. Hayes, Columbus, Ohio, 43216. The registration fee is $1.50.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a spray of plastic flowers as tie-backs on my curtains. I like this especially for a bright kitchen touch.

My kitchen is yellow and natural birch wood, and I have yellow curtains with a spray of daffodils h o l d i n g them back.

The long-stemmed spray is best. Just bend the flower part around so it'll hold the curtain and hook the stem end onto the wall where you usually secure your tieback.

ELSIE H. SCHULTZE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a pair of pearl, button earrings wrapped in cellophane in my handbag at all times.

They certainly come in handy if I get downtown or elsewhere and discover I've forgotten to don a pair, which has happened on several occasions.

LIBBY WORTH.

DEAR HELOISE: I love a pretty bathroom with plenty of pretty guest towels.

In my bathroom, I keep a small, pink wicker basket filled with different colored fringed guest towels. I roll each one in a small roll and tack 'em in the basket.

They look very attractive and add a decorative touch to my bathroom. Also it's very convenient for my guests to reach for one when needed.

UN To Open 23rd Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats from around the world gathered today to close out the 22nd session of the U.N. General Assembly in preparation for the opening of the 23rd session on Tuesday.

Already four prime ministers, three deputy prime ministers and 47 foreign ministers are listed to attend the new session that is scheduled to run to Dec. 23. The general policy debate will start Oct. 2.

The main topic being transferred to the new session is the continuing Arab-Israeli conflict in the Middle East. It is chief among the 99 subjects on the prospective agenda.

But two main topics not on the agenda and certain to be thoroughly aired during the general debate are the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the Vietnam war.

Experts feel those two questions and the Middle East crisis, will dominate the general policy debate in the opening weeks.

Robles May Live In U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Marco A. Robles says he will live in the United States after he steps down next week as president of Panama.

The Miami Herald quoted Robles today as saying in an interview that he had purchased a house in Coral Gables, in the $25,000 to $30,000 range, and would make his home there.

There also were reports that Robles, 61, may serve in an advisory position on Latin American affairs in a Hollywood, Fla., bank. The board chairman of the First National Bank of Hollywood, Maynard Abrams, was a recent visitor to Panama where Robles presented him with the Vasco Nunez de Balboa Decoration, the highest given by Panama to a foreigner.

Robles told the Herald he did not plan to appear before the National Assembly when his political rival and successor, Dr. Arnulfo Arias, is sworn in on Oct. 1. Robles said he would have his farewell message read before the deputies.

Burning Ban Ends

SALINEVILLE — A ban on fire burning without permits in Salineville has been lifted, according to Fire Chief Tony Brandonisio.

Latin America's major contribution to the yuletide season in the United States is the poinsettia. Dr. Joel Roberts Poinsett, U.S. minister to Mexico, brought the shrub with the flaming red bracts to the United States in 1892 and it was given his name.

Area Workshop Set Friday For Fallout Shelters

Residents of Columbiana County are among those from a 14-county area invited to participate in a public fallout shelter workshop Friday at Painesville.

This will be the first of six such workshops to be held throughout Ohio within the next few months, James F. Worster Sr., deputy director of Ohio Civil Defense said.

Individual, family and community emergency preparedness will be stressed.

Counties in the area also include Ashland, Ashtabula, Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, Mahoning, Medina, Portage, Stark, Summit, Trumbull and Wayne.

The workshops are sponsored by the Ohio CD headquarters at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, and the Ohio Women's Civil Defense Council.

The northeastern Ohio session will be held at Lake County CD headquarters, 150 Freedom Rd., Painesville.

Registration will be from 8:30 to 9 a.m., with the workshop adjourning at 3:30 p.m.

Advance registration may be made by mailing check and name to V. Marlene Drobnic, director of women's activities, Ohio Civil Defense, Building 110, Ft. Hayes, Columbus, Ohio, 43216. The registration fee is $1.50.

Personal Concern For Family And Friends

Few experiences are more gratifying than a visit with friends during a family emergency.

That is why we at The Dawson Funeral Home have gone to great lengths to provide parking facilities, comfortable surroundings, refreshment service, and personal attention in order to make visits satisfying and helpful.

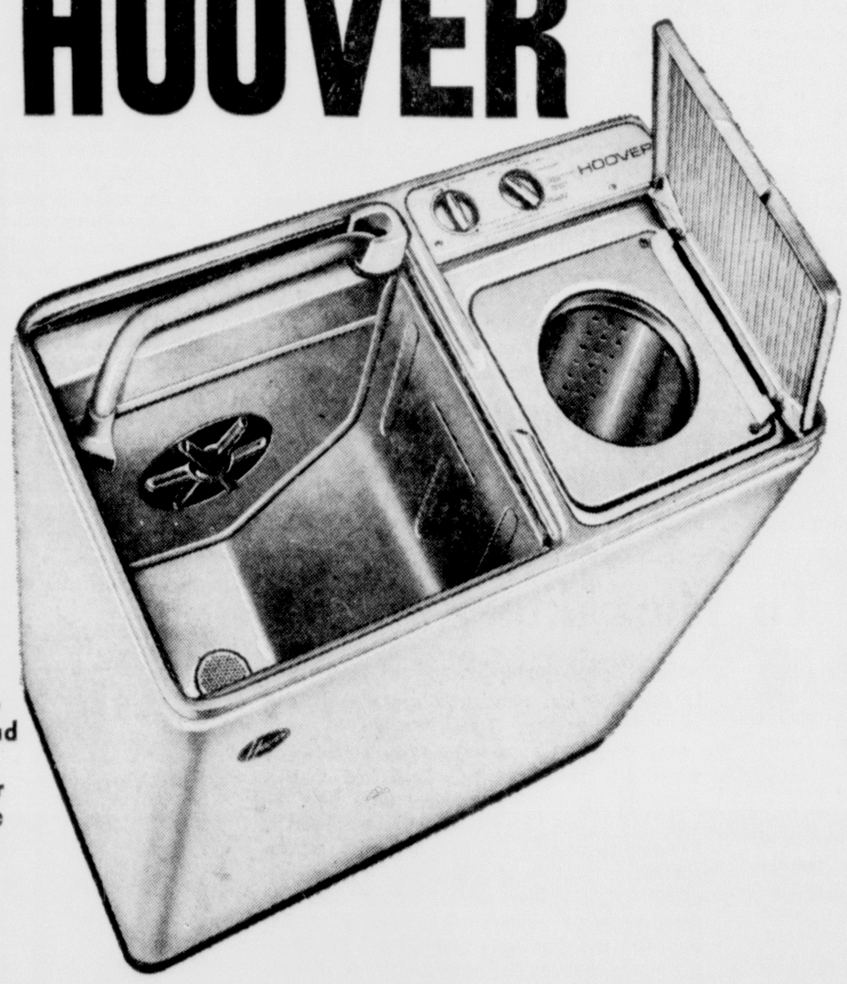

Personal concern for family and friends, frequently far beyond expectation, is but one of the many responsibilities that contributes so much throughout the entire funeral experience.

It is another reason why so many East Liverpool families recommend the Dawson Funeral Home. We hope you will, too.

What Does It Take?

What does it take to convince some politicians that a state income tax would not be in the best interest of Ohio and Ohioans?

Federal income tax already is eating up a discouraging portion of each paycheck. With the real estate tax revenue source at its limit, income tax money is keeping local communities from falling into financial chaos.

THE WIDELY HELD BELIEF that a state income tax would infringe upon the very lifeline of local government is supported by Ohio's top man in the finance field.

Howard L. Collier, Ohio finance director, feels this way: "Income tax at the local level historically has been correct. The cities, villages and municipalities have that (income tax) authority to help raise revenue and the state should not usurp the local government's ability to raise funds."

He is indisputably correct and every Ohioan should speak out against a state income tax at every opportunity.

Many Ohio communities have turned to income tax revenue for self preservation. Others are following. They have no alternative. They should not have to compete with the state for income tax money.

IN ADDITION to his infringement argument, Mr. Collier sees no present need for an income tax because current revenue is adequate to continue existing state programs.

If backers of a state income tax discard historical precedent, the compelling need for an inviolable local revenue source and a finance director's report that current revenue is adequate, what does it take to convince them their crusade should be abandoned?

Public Relations And The Schools

The issue of public relations seems to emerge as a factor in any defeat of a school proposal before the voters in the East Liverpool School district.

Public relations was not an especial concern prior to 1964 when approval was given at the polls for a $3.7 million bond issue for new buildings.

But since then, the relationship of the school administration and the general public has been termed a problem — by board of education members, the school officials, and critics and supporters of the schools.

Certainly the public has not fully understood the decisions and actions by the school administration at times, and, similarly, the school officials have not always grasped the interests and attitudes of the public.

There seems to be a tendency to think that better public relations can be achieved by working harder at public relations or hiring someone to provide the information about education matters. We doubt that the taxpayers of East Liverpool want to underwrite the expenses of an additional administrative aide to fill this task, and it is unlikely that either press or radio, always desirous of dealing firsthand with responsible officials, wants a channel through which to work.

The vote on the three levies and the reactions of those who opposed them indicated they were not convinced the taxes were needed.

There is a sizeable group of citizens in any community who are against taxation per se—because they do not understand the need for such revenue to schools or community or because they believe they are unable to afford them.

In East Liverpool, the number of older persons on Social Security or others on limited incomes is higher than average for such a city, so this hardcore anti-tax segment of the population is larger.

The fate of any levy depends upon the "education at any price" loyalists plus that margin of voters who must be convinced that the taxes are important, that the school system is doing its job and that the money will be well spent for good purposes.

These voters were not convinced last Tuesday upon any of these three premises.

In general, the public was proud of its new buildings, but was concerned about the delays in construction and the openings, and the planning gaps, bus transportation problems, teacher morale, the kindergarten issue, awards of contracts to out-of-area firms and other issues.

The task of the board now is to restore the faith of these "margin" voters by solving the problems now before them with decisions that are acceptable and understood, with actions which can stand by themselves on their own merits without a P.R. middleman to explain and sugarcoat them.

Public relations is a two-way street and both the board and the public are going to have to relate a lot more to each other — directly — in order to educate our young people properly.

The Transplantation Era

The latest milestone to get a backward glance from the medical field in its headlong dash of progress is the transplantation of the heart and lungs from one infant to another.

The 2-month-old Texas girl died several hours after the operation but it is just a matter of time until a similar surgical feat is carried out successfully.

A host of moral and ethical questions are being raised by the transplant era. Man is looking through the transplant door and the vista he sees is both thrilling and frightening.

HE WOULD LIKE more time to make up his mind but medical science is not waiting. New discoveries are coming at a fast pace. Traditional man is being forced to accept medical advances and fit them in with his personal concept of his being and his world as best he can.

The current transplant problem is strictly progmatic: How to build a supply of organs. Studies are under way to find more donors and develop a means of storing organs until the right recipient is located.

One section of the supply study that is providing food for thought and indicates the wider scope of the issue is test-tube development of organs.

Research is well on its way toward development of test-tube organs from living cells. Whenever success comes, it will help solve the organ supply problem but will raise the question of how long until human life has its origin in the test tube.

Just the thought that such a thing is in the realm of possibility gives one pause — and scientists tell us the day grows closer.

WHEN THE FIRST kidney transplant was completed 14 years ago, 1968's transplantation progress and its by products were a distant dream. Now the dream is at hand and is forcing man to cope with its accompanying moral and ethical problems.

He also is face to face with the fact that man is knocking on the door of test-tube creation and hardly is fitted for the role of creator.

Some men don't want to face the implictions that spring from realization of tomorrow's dreams but in the case of medical progress through genetic discovery, they have no choice.

They have to put on their thinking caps today.

A Small World

It may not be one world we live in but if there is any doubt that it is a small world a news item from Auckland, New Zealand, should dispel it.

New Zealand, as of right now, has ordered its exporters to stop shipping beef to the United States until after the presidential elections in November.

No, New Zealand is not breaking relations with us. After all, she is one of the few allies which is providing troops for our side in Vietnam.

New Zealand's exporters have called the halt because they are afraid some farm lobby may extract a promise from one of the presidential candidates that, if elected, he will curb imports.

This 'n That

More than four and one-half million Americans living today would be dead if the U.S. death rate had remained at the 1935 level.

Letter To The Editor

I am writing both in response to an article you carried Sept. 18, and to shed more light on the sale of the Glenmoor School. Please let it be understood that I went to the school board meeting Sept. 16 on my own, and not as a spokesman for the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church.

I asked for a clarification of that portion of the newspaper notice for the sale of the old schools which read ". . .terms: cash on day of sale." The clerk of the board said this meant cash on the day when the deed was delivered, which was accomplished that afternoon (3 p.m. Sept. 6, 1968).

I then expressed my regret at the board's choice of wording, saying that if we had known cash was not required on Aug. 19, we might have bid more and asked Steubenville Presbytery to approve it at their meeting Sept. 13. For under Presbyterian law, no congregation may mortgage or borrow without Presbytery's approval. We were thus limited to cash on hand, Aug. 19.

The newspaper did not mention the fact that Mr. Capehart has revealed that he had more than $10,000 in the bank the night of Aug. 19, and offered to leave a check for $10,000 after the board meeting. He was advised by a board member that it was not necessary.

My questions were asked only to receive information so I could better explain the board's actions to the community, and not in any way to object to Mr. Capehart's gentlemanly and above-board manner in the situation.

The request for playground equipment was made only because I had been told that it remained the board's property until Nov. 16, and that no one had yet officially asked for it. I wished to make it a matter of record, stating our desire to utilize previous gifts of the Glenmoor P.T.A. to the school, rather than see them destroyed. Unknown to myself, before Labor Day, the Capeharts had offered to return the playground equipment to the P.T.A. officers which they had received and were in the process of presenting to our church. Because of the permanent nature of the playground equipment's installation, legal counsel had advised that it is rightfully now Mr. Capehart's.

Thursday evening, Sept. 19, the Session of the Glenmoor U.P. Church directed that a letter of appreciation and thanks be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Doug Capehart for their gifts of basketball and playground equipment.

I hope the people of Glenmoor will join me in wishing the best possible to the Capeharts and their expanded golf course, going out of their way to personally thank them for their gifts to the youth of our community.

The Worm Turns

RAYMOND MOLEY

Logic Did Prevail

The famous political scientist, Moisei Ostrogorski, in his book on political parties, records his wonderment after witnessing the madness that attends one of our political conventions that out of this have come not always great presidents, but honorable presidents.

In explaining what seemed to him a miracle, he quoted the saying: "God takes care of drunkards, little children and the United States of America."

But the destiny that determined the results in Chicago, as at Miami Beach, was man-made.

A majority of delegates who come from the grass roots of America were determined to return to their place of origin and live in measurable peace with their political neighbors. They avoided the charge that they had been overwhelmed by the emotion of the convention. And so they did not violate the conditions under which they earned their credentials.

THEIR SENSE OF LOGIC was not affected by the bizarre conditions which surrounded them in Chicago. They kept their heads and their promises despite polls and propaganda.

One must probe deeply to discover the logical sequence that lay beneath all of the confusion. It was the logical pattern that emerged after the President's announcement March 31 that determined the 1,761 votes that were cast for Hubert Humphrey.

These delegates and the people at home who selected them were party men. They have determined that their party shall survive even though defeat may be the outcome this year.

And they know that to have ventured a wild experiment such as was suggested by Eugene McCarthy and George McGovern would shatter the party they have served so long and so loyally. With Humphrey as their leader, they can be assured that at least they will be a loyal opposition party.

But on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning of the convention I found my own somewhat worn faith in our political system shaken by the stark cynicism of some of the leaders in Chicago. For some of these leaders, especially such as Jesse Unruh and Michael DiSalle, had apparently decided to disregard all commitments and stampede the convention into nominating Edward Kennedy.

In this, these callous men revealed to all—who had the perception to see—their utter contempt for the electorate which they are supposed to instruct and lead.

They were not the victims of the emotions which they sought to arise, for they are cold, calculating operators. While they have piously preached—Unruh in his lectures to college students—of the wisdom of the people, they have contempt for true democracy.

They were trying to use a decent young man whose qualifications for president are wholly untried for their own profit and power. For his strength as a candidate would not be what he possesses in his own right. It would be that his name and his blood relationship are symbols related to two great tragedies.

Moreover, with the views he expressed in the last weeks, he would represent the repudiation of the national policies in the war in Vietnam which have been established by the president of the United States.

These leaders, who were attempting to draft Kennedy, would have shattered the unity—such as it is—of their party and Kennedy's party in a voyage on the tides of emotion that his candidacy would produce.

Fortunately, Kennedy saw more clearly than his would-be sponsors the nature of the draft movement and made the decision to stop it. Nothing so commended this young man as that decision.

Only once before have I seen in a national convention such a manifestation of the cynicism of political leaders. It was in 1944 when they induced a dying man to offer himself as a candidate, for none of the leaders who insisted upon Franklin Roosevelt's nomination that year believed he could survive another term in office.

THE EVIDENCE OF THIS was blatantly revealed in the speeches nominating various candidates for vice president. All or most of them emphasized the health and vigor of their favorites. They knew all too well that they were really nominating the man who would succeed Mr. Roosevelt. And the end came as they knew it would.

But despite confusion and the sordid efforts of a few leaders in 1968, a logical choice was made. Hubert Humphrey may or may not be elected but in either case his party will survive.

And so Edward Kennedy will be free to win his way by his own talents and through his own efforts.

Timely Quotes

Your veto, Ambassador Malik, may stifle the legal vote of this council, but it cannot suffocate the soul of a proud people defying the imposition of an ersatz government made in Moscow.
—U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball to Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik after Malik's veto of a U.N. resolution condemning the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

There is no safety in hiding, not for me. . . not for our children who inherit the world we make for them. For all of us the only path is to work in whatever way we can to end the violence and end the hatred and division that threaten us all.
—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D. Mass.

Good Behavior

Something constructive may yet come out of the controversy over the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice.

Maybe the Senate and perhaps the House, too, will begin to define just what is required of Supreme Court justices in relation to the constitutional provision that the tenure of all federal judges shall be "during good behavior."

There is a paradox in the fact that, if Justice Fortas is not confirmed to head the Supreme Court, whatever objections to his activities may have been made in the debate will remain uncorrected. Actually, he could be rejected for the position of chief justice and still continue to serve on the bench as an associate justice.

PERHAPS THERE WOULD have been more logic if the Senate had raised the question of "good behavior," as it is authorized to do under the Constitution, which says: "The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior."

The real issue today is not whether Abe Fortas has the ability to be a chief justice, but whether he has, by his outside activities while serving as an associate justice, violated the "good behavior" clause of the Constitution.

Judges often disqualify themselves to hear a case when they feel it is improper to do so because of a past relationship with a client in a law office or some other personal or business association.

But the charge is made that Justice Fortas performed certain duties for the executive branch of the government which could make it impossible for him to sit on certain cases that might arise in the future.

One point that has been brought up relates to a fee of $15,000 paid for nine lectures delivered by Justice Fortas this summer at American University. The money was raised from among friends and former business associates of Mr. Fortas.

Certainly if cases arise in which any of these persons or institutions are involved, he would promptly disqualify himself. But should a justice of the Supreme Court accept a financial benefit of any kind that could raise an issue of qualification to hear particular cases which could someday be on the Supreme Court's calendar? Was this "good behavior"?

THE QUESTION will not be answered if Justice Fortas is not confirmed, because he will still remain a member of the Supreme Court.

Proposals have been made for a code of ethics to cover outside activities of judges. For the basic responsibility has been left to Congress.

Members of Congress generally have been receiving a lot of mail abiut the Fortas controversy, most of which concerns a deciding vote which he made on some of the obscenity cases ruled upon by the Supreme Court.

Dissatisfaction with the Supreme Court has also been expressed because of a widespread belief that a majority if the justices have attempted "to rewrite the Constitution."

This is probably one of the biggest of the influences back of the expected Senate filibuster against the appointment of Mr. Fortas as chief justice.

NOT ONLY ARE long-standing decisions overruled but judicial authority has been broadened at will. There is a simply remedy for this — Congress can pass a law limiting the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court in particular types of cases.

Even if Mr. Fortas fails to win confirmation, he will remain a member of the court, and the real issues — namely, "good behavior" of judges and the usurpation of judicial power — will not have been resolved one way or the other.

Letter To The Editor

I am writing both in response to an article you carried Sept. 18, and to shed more light on the sale of the Glenmoor School. Please let it be understood that I went to the school board meeting Sept. 16 on my own, and not as a spokesman for the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church.

I asked for a clarification of that portion of the newspaper notice for the sale of the old schools which read ". . .terms: cash on day of sale." The clerk of the board said this meant cash on the day when the deed was delivered, which was accomplished that afternoon (3 p.m. Sept. 6, 1968).

I then expressed my regret at the board's choice of wording, saying that if we had known cash was not required on Aug. 19, we might have bid more and asked Steubenville Presbytery to approve it at their meeting Sept. 13. For under Presbyterian law, no congregation may mortgage or borrow without Presbytery's approval. We were thus limited to cash on hand, Aug. 19.

The newspaper did not mention the fact that Mr. Capehart has revealed that he had more than $10,000 in the bank the night of Aug. 19, and offered to leave a check for $10,000 after the board meeting. He was advised by a board member that it was not necessary.

My questions were asked only to receive information so I could better explain the board's actions to the community, and not in any way to object to Mr. Capehart's gentlemanly and above-board manner in the situation.

The request for playground equipment was made only because I had been told that it remained the board's property until Nov. 16, and that no one had yet officially asked for it. I wished to make it a matter of record, stating our desire to utilize previous gifts of the Glenmoor P.T.A. to the school, rather than see them destroyed. Unknown to myself, before Labor Day, the Capeharts had offered to return the playground equipment to the P.T.A. officers which they had received and were in the process of presenting to our church. Because of the permanent nature of the playground equipment's installation, legal counsel had advised that it is rightfully now Mr. Capehart's.

Thursday evening, Sept. 19, the Session of the Glenmoor U.P. Church directed that a letter of appreciation and thanks be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Doug Capehart for their gifts of basketball and playground equipment.

I hope the people of Glenmoor will join me in wishing the best possible to the Capeharts and their expanded golf course, going out of their way to personally thank them for their gifts to the youth of our community.

Logic Did Prevail

The famous political scientist, Moisei Ostrogorski, in his book on political parties, records his wonderment after witnessing the madness that attends one of our political conventions that out of this have come not always great presidents, but honorable presidents.

In explaining what seemed to him a miracle, he quoted the saying: "God takes care of drunkards, little children and the United States of America."

But the destiny that determined the results in Chicago, as at Miami Beach, was man-made.

A majority of delegates who come from the grass roots of America were determined to return to their place of origin and live in measurable peace with their political neighbors. They avoided the charge that they had been overwhelmed by the emotion of the convention. And so they did not violate the conditions under which they earned their credentials.

THEIR SENSE OF LOGIC was not affected by the bizarre conditions which surrounded them in Chicago. They kept their heads and their promises despite polls and propaganda.

One must probe deeply to discover the logical sequence that lay beneath all of the confusion. It was the logical pattern that emerged after the President's announcement March 31 that determined the 1,761 votes that were cast for Hubert Humphrey.

These delegates and the people at home who selected them were party men. They have determined that their party shall survive even though defeat may be the outcome this year.

And they know that to have ventured a wild experiment such as was suggested by Eugene McCarthy and George McGovern would shatter the party they have served so long and so loyally. With Humphrey as their leader, they can be assured that at least they will be a loyal opposition party.

But on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning of the convention I found my own somewhat worn faith in our political system shaken by the stark cynicism of some of the leaders in Chicago. For some of these leaders, especially such as Jesse Unruh and Michael DiSalle, had apparently decided to disregard all commitments and stampede the convention into nominating Edward Kennedy.

In this, these callous men revealed to all—who had the perception to see—their utter contempt for the electorate which they are supposed to instruct and lead.

They were not the victims of the emotions which they sought to arise, for they are cold, calculating operators. While they have piously preached—Unruh in his lectures to college students—of the wisdom of the people, they have contempt for true democracy.

They were trying to use a decent young man whose qualifications for president are wholly untried for their own profit and power. For his strength as a candidate would not be what he possesses in his own right. It would be that his name and his blood relationship are symbols related to two great tragedies.

Moreover, with the views he expressed in the last weeks, he would represent the repudiation of the national policies in the war in Vietnam which have been established by the president of the United States.

These leaders, who were attempting to draft Kennedy, would have shattered the unity—such as it is—of their party and Kennedy's party in a voyage on the tides of emotion that his candidacy would produce.

Fortunately, Kennedy saw more clearly than his would-be sponsors the nature of the draft movement and made the decision to stop it. Nothing so commended this young man as that decision.

Only once before have I seen in a national convention such a manifestation of the cynicism of political leaders. It was in 1944 when they induced a dying man to offer himself as a candidate, for none of the leaders who insisted upon Franklin Roosevelt's nomination that year believed he could survive another term in office.

THE EVIDENCE OF THIS was blatantly revealed in the speeches nominating various candidates for vice president. All or most of them emphasized the health and vigor of their favorites. They knew all too well that they were really nominating the man who would succeed Mr. Roosevelt. And the end came as they knew it would.

But despite confusion and the sordid efforts of a few leaders in 1968, a logical choice was made. Hubert Humphrey may or may not be elected but in either case his party will survive.

And so Edward Kennedy will be free to win his way by his own talents and through his own efforts.

Timely Quotes

Your veto, Ambassador Malik, may stifle the legal vote of this council, but it cannot suffocate the soul of a proud people defying the imposition of an ersatz government made in Moscow.
—U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball to Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik after Malik's veto of a U.N. resolution condemning the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

There is no safety in hiding, not for me. . . not for our children who inherit the world we make for them. For all of us the only path is to work in whatever way we can to end the violence and end the hatred and division that threaten us all.
—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D. Mass.

Good Behavior

Something constructive may yet come out of the controversy over the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice.

Maybe the Senate and perhaps the House, too, will begin to define just what is required of Supreme Court justices in relation to the constitutional provision that the tenure of all federal judges shall be "during good behavior."

There is a paradox in the fact that, if Justice Fortas is not confirmed to head the Supreme Court, whatever objections to his activities may have been made in the debate will remain uncorrected. Actually, he could be rejected for the position of chief justice and still continue to serve on the bench as an associate justice.

PERHAPS THERE WOULD have been more logic if the Senate had raised the question of "good behavior," as it is authorized to do under the Constitution, which says: "The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior."

The real issue today is not whether Abe Fortas has the ability to be a chief justice, but whether he has, by his outside activities while serving as an associate justice, violated the "good behavior" clause of the Constitution.

Judges often disqualify themselves to hear a case when they feel it is improper to do so because of a past relationship with a client in a law office or some other personal or business association.

But the charge is made that Justice Fortas performed certain duties for the executive branch of the government which could make it impossible for him to sit on certain cases that might arise in the future.

One point that has been brought up relates to a fee of $15,000 paid for nine lectures delivered by Justice Fortas this summer at American University. The money was raised from among friends and former business associates of Mr. Fortas.

Certainly if cases arise in which any of these persons or institutions are involved, he would promptly disqualify himself. But should a justice of the Supreme Court accept a financial benefit of any kind that could raise an issue of qualification to hear particular cases which could someday be on the Supreme Court's calendar? Was this "good behavior"?

THE QUESTION will not be answered if Justice Fortas is not confirmed, because he will still remain a member of the Supreme Court.

Proposals have been made for a code of ethics to cover outside activities of judges. For the basic responsibility has been left to Congress.

Members of Congress generally have been receiving a lot of mail abiut the Fortas controversy, most of which concerns a deciding vote which he made on some of the obscenity cases ruled upon by the Supreme Court.

Dissatisfaction with the Supreme Court has also been expressed because of a widespread belief that a majority if the justices have attempted "to rewrite the Constitution."

This is probably one of the biggest of the influences back of the expected Senate filibuster against the appointment of Mr. Fortas as chief justice.

NOT ONLY ARE long-standing decisions overruled but judicial authority has been broadened at will. There is a simply remedy for this — Congress can pass a law limiting the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court in particular types of cases.

Even if Mr. Fortas fails to win confirmation, he will remain a member of the court, and the real issues — namely, "good behavior" of judges and the usurpation of judicial power — will not have been resolved one way or the other.

U.S. Aid Threatened

Decision Sought In Water System

LISBON — A hearing on the Columbiana County commissioners' motion for a judgment in litigation blocking construction of the proposed $620,000 St. Clair water system is set for 1 p.m. Friday in Common Pleas Court.

The commissioners last week succeeded in having the hearing date advanced a couple of weeks because of threatened cancellation of a $240,000 federal grant made in February 1967.

Charles J. Gause, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, said he called the Housing and Urban Development Department office in Chicago regarding a grant for the Lisbon water service extension project and was advised the St. Clair grant was being cancelled.

GAUSE SAID he pleaded with department officials to continue the grant, explaining the commissioners cannot act until the litigation is decided. A return call from Chicago advised the grant has been extended until Nov. 15.

Gause said he is concerned because loss of the grant might jeopardize federal assistance for other water and sewer projects. He will visit the HUD office in Chicago Oct. 8 with reference to the Lisbon project.

Opponents of the St. Clair water system have had it tied up in the courts since July 27, 1967, when the commissioners voted to proceed with construction.

—:—

BIDS WERE taken last April with Nardei Contracting Co., Inc. of Bridgeville, Pa., the winner on a proposal of $507,031.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said the commissioners' motion for a judgment and dismissal of the case will be the issue Friday.

He says the opponents' appeal from the commissioners' action to proceed was dismissed a year ago by Judge Louis Tobin in Probate Court and the court has no jurisdiction in the injunction proceeding opponents filed later.

Opponents claim they have their own water wells and the $3-per-front-foot assessment for the public water system is excessive and out of proportion to any benefit they might receive.

They are represented by the law firm of Alexander and Savinell of Steubenville.

Delay in the courts also held up the proposed improvement of St. Clair Ave. Ext. to Route 170 in Calcutta, according to County Engineer John Ursu.

Serviceman Injured Badly In Car Wreck

SALINEVILLE — Rodney Chambers, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Chambers, is in "critical" condition at Moses Cone Hospital in Greensboro, N. C., as the result of injuries received in an auto accident when returning to Ft. Bragg, N. C., following a furlough here.

Chambers received severe facial, chest, and lung injuries. Rev. and Mrs. Chambers of the First Methodist Church have left for Greensboro.

Auto Wrecks On Route 154

An East Palestine man complained of injuries, but was not treated, in a one - car accident Sunday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

David Alan Sutherin, 21, of 110 Alice Ave., East Palestine, was driving a 1963 coach on Route 154, about a half - mile west of Route 170, at 10:45 when the auto went off the south side of the road, struck a guardrail and came to rest in a ditch.

Sutherin was cited by the patrol for reckless operation. There was moderate damage to the front of his auto and property damage to the guardrails and post.

Lee Roy Calhoun, 19, of Lisbon RD 3, was driving north on Lisbon Rd., 350 feet south of Route 344, when Dan Bogdan Jr., 48, of Leetonia RD 1, driving a 1962 coach north, stopped his vehicle to make a left turn. Calhoun failed to stop and his auto went off the left side of the road, turned sideways and struck Bogdan's auto.

Calhoun was cited for speeding. Neither man was injured.

of the St. Clair Ave. substation serving the new high school and North Elementary School — which have electric heating — is also rated with priority.

A utility spokesman said it is hoped to have electrical power in the school by Wednesday.

The walkout affected 24 men in East Liverpool.

Malcolm said the firm this morning was organizing the work to be undertaken first.

Ratification of the new pact was announed late Sunday.

Fringe benefits include provisions increasing vacations to five weeks after 25 years of service, adding one more paid holiday for a total of nine and full company payment of hospitalization and medical care insurance.

The company valued the total package at about $1 per hour per man.

The Utility Workers Union represents 443 workers at four power plants — Philo, Kidd, Kammer and Windsor — and at the firm's Canton and Coshocton divisions.

The IBEW represents 420 workers at the Steubenville, Zanesville and Newark divisions.

A similar pact is to be presented Tuesday to a third union, the Electric Service union, the company said. Electric Service, represening 303 workers in Tiffin, Findlay and Lima, struck July 1 but returned to work July 31.

Three Drivers Cited In Salineville Cases

SALINEVILLE — Citations have been issued three motorists here.

Police Chief Gordon Sweeney said Vernon Leroy Homan, 25, of Salineville has been charged with reckless operation for a mishap on Route 644 in the village Saturday; Chester Allen Paxon, 20, of Salem for speeding on W. Main St. Thursday and David P. Long, 18, of Wellsville for a stop sign violation on E. Main St. Saturday.

Homan was arrested by Deputy Forrest Young and Paxon and Long by Deputy Robert Oswalt.

Man Leaves Sedan Before Train Hits

SALINEVILLE — A North St. resident escaped injury when his 1965 two - door sedan was struck by a freight train early Sunday morning at the Hayti crossing, near here.

Extensive damage resulted to the auto operated by Barry A. Maylone of North St., when it was struck by a freight train pulled by three engines Sunday at 12:45 a.m.

Maylone told Constable Alvin Johnston of Washington Township, that he started across the tracks and when the car became wedged between them, he abandoned it.

Johnston charged Maylone with reckless operation. He will appear Oct. 1 in Columbiana County Court at Lisbon.

YOUR WATCH MOVEMENT

Often, following a summer of activity, early fall is a good time to check your watch movement, and perhaps have your watch cleaned. I do hope that you wear a suitable watch for sports activities, and keep your finer or more expensive timepiece for business or dress occasions. Sand, water and sun affect different movements in various ways, and unless your watch is specifically designed for "skin diving", for example, the normal waterproof watch is not likely to survive such treatment.

Watches that have special features such as alarms and calendars may also need more check-ups than a regular jeweled movement without added mechanism. This certainly does not mean that the movement is not a good one, but simply that there are added parts which need watching. You might compare it to your automobile that has automatic windows or air-conditioning, as well as the standard auto features.

Finer watch movements are well worth the slight charge every two or three years for a minor "check-up" and cleaning. Contrast this with the popular advertised brands that seem like a bargain at first, but must be completely replaced in that same length of time. Often, a good repairman will tell you that the value of a cheaper timepiece is not worth the cost of repair, so it is better to purchase a new watch.

As members of the American Gem Society, our first concern is providing our customers with the proper value in all gems and jewelry. This also holds true for the watches we sell. We believe that quality lines, rather than those heavily advertised, often provide the most dependable and satisfactory service at little more cost.

Decision Sought In Water System

LISBON — A hearing on the Columbiana County commissioners' motion for a judgment in litigation blocking construction of the proposed $620,000 St. Clair water system is set for 1 p.m. Friday in Common Pleas Court.

The commissioners last week succeeded in having the hearing date advanced a couple of weeks because of threatened cancellation of a $240,000 federal grant made in February 1967.

Charles J. Gause, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, said he called the Housing and Urban Development Department office in Chicago regarding a grant for the Lisbon water service extension project and was advised the St. Clair grant was being cancelled.

GAUSE SAID he pleaded with department officials to continue the grant, explaining the commissioners cannot act until the litigation is decided. A return call from Chicago advised the grant has been extended until Nov. 15.

Gause said he is concerned because loss of the grant might jeopardize federal assistance for other water and sewer projects. He will visit the HUD office in Chicago Oct. 8 with reference to the Lisbon project.

Opponents of the St. Clair water system have had it tied up in the courts since July 27, 1967, when the commissioners voted to proceed with construction.

—:—

BIDS WERE taken last April with Nardei Contracting Co., Inc. of Bridgeville, Pa., the winner on a proposal of $507,031.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said the commissioners' motion for a judgment and dismissal of the case will be the issue Friday.

He says the opponents' appeal from the commissioners' action to proceed was dismissed a year ago by Judge Louis Tobin in Probate Court and the court has no jurisdiction in the injunction proceeding opponents filed later.

Opponents claim they have their own water wells and the $3-per-front-foot assessment for the public water system is excessive and out of proportion to any benefit they might receive.

They are represented by the law firm of Alexander and Savinell of Steubenville.

Delay in the courts also held up the proposed improvement of St. Clair Ave. Ext. to Route 170 in Calcutta, according to County Engineer John Ursu.

of the St. Clair Ave. substation serving the new high school and North Elementary School — which have electric heating — is also rated with priority.

A utility spokesman said it is hoped to have electrical power in the school by Wednesday.

The walkout affected 24 men in East Liverpool.

Malcolm said the firm this morning was organizing the work to be undertaken first.

Ratification of the new pact was announced late Sunday.

Fringe benefits include provisions increasing vacations to five weeks after 25 years of service, adding one more paid holiday for a total of nine and full company payment of hospitalization and medical care insurance.

The company valued the total package at about $1 per hour per man.

The Utility Workers Union represents 443 workers at four power plants — Philo, Kidd, Kammer and Windsor — and at the firm's Canton and Coshocton divisions.

The IBEW represents 420 workers at the Steubenville, Zanesville and Newark divisions.

A similar pact is to be presented Tuesday to a third union, the Electric Service union, the company said. Electric Service, representing 303 workers in Tiffin, Findlay and Lima, struck July 1 but returned to work July 31.

Serviceman Injured Badly In Car Wreck

SALINEVILLE — Rodney Chambers, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Chambers, is in "critical" condition at Moses Cone Hospital in Greensboro, N. C., as the result of injuries received in an auto accident when returning to Ft. Bragg, N. C., following a furlough here.

Chambers received severe facial, chest, and lung injuries. Rev. and Mrs. Chambers of the First Methodist Church have left for Greensboro.

Auto Wrecks On Route 154

An East Palestine man complained of injuries, but was not treated, in a one - car accident Sunday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

David Alan Sutherin, 21, of 110 Alice Ave., East Palestine, was driving a 1963 coach on Route 154, about a half - mile west of Route 170, at 10:45 when the auto went off the south side of the road, struck a guardrail and came to rest in a ditch.

Sutherin was cited by the patrol for reckless operation. There was moderate damage to the front of his auto and property damage to the guardrails and post.

Lee Roy Calhoun, 19, of Lisbon RD 3, was driving north on Lisbon Rd., 350 feet south of Route 344, when Dan Bogdan Jr., 48, of Leetonia RD 1, driving a 1962 coach north, stopped his vehicle to make a left turn. Calhoun failed to stop and his auto went off the left side of the road, turned sideways and struck Bogdan's auto.

Calhoun was cited for speeding. Neither man was injured.

Three Drivers Cited In Salineville Cases

SALINEVILLE — Citations have been issued three motorists here.

Police Chief Gordon Sweeney said Vernon Leroy Homan, 25, of Salineville has been charged with reckless operation for a mishap on Route 644 in the village Saturday; Chester Allen Paxon, 20, of Salem for speeding on W. Main St. Thursday and David P. Long, 18, of Wellsville for a stop sign violation on E. Main St. Saturday.

Homan was arrested by Deputy Forrest Young and Paxon and Long by Deputy Robert Oswalt.

Cohn-Bendit was seized as he tried to enter St. Paul's Church where President Leopold Senghor of Senegal was receiving a peace prize awarded by the German book trade. About 3,000 demonstrators chanted protests against award of the prize to Senghor, calling him a "murderer of students" and an oppressor in his country.

New York Has Big Property Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Although it is the city's biggest property owner, the municipal government spends more than $20 million a year renting private property.

More than 900 leases a year are negotiated by Carl Madonick, commissioner of real estate. He rents space in everything from tenements to the world's tallest building.

Church halls are leased for use as badly needed kindergarten classrooms. Garages are rented to house garbage trucks. Storefronts are rented for neighborhood antipoverty offices.

In poor neighborhoods, tenements are leased as havens for addicts seeking rehabilitation.

And in the high - cost heart of Manhattan, the city is a tenant of the Empire State Building. The city rents space on the 80th floor for transmittr equipment of WNYC and WNYC-TV which broadcast from the antennae atop the tallest skyscraper.

About 3,000 demonstrators chanted protests against award of the prize to Senghor, calling him a "murderer of students" and an oppressor in his country.

New York Has Big Property Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Although it is the city's biggest property owner, the municipal government spends more than $20 million a year renting private property.

More than 900 leases a year are negotiated by Carl Madonick, commissioner of real estate. He rents space in everything from tenements to the world's tallest building.

Church halls are leased for use as badly needed kindergarten classrooms. Garages are rented to house garbage trucks. Storefronts are rented for neighborhood antipoverty offices.

In poor neighborhoods, tenements are leased as havens for addicts seeking rehabilitation.

And in the high - cost heart of Manhattan, the city is a tenant of the Empire State Building. The city rents space on the 80th floor for transmittr equipment of WNYC and WNYC-TV which broadcast from the antennae atop the tallest skyscraper.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. C. Brandstadt

Bedwetting Can Be Caused By Tension

A mother writes that her daughter, 9, has been a bedwetter ever since she was 2. Doctors can find no kidney or bladder disease and say that the cause is emotional tension. They say that she will outgrow the habit in time. In the course of the examinations, they found that this girl was born with double ureters.

Dr. Brandstadt

THIS developmental oddity would have no effect on this girl's kidney or bladder function and no treatment is required for it. The sooner she learns to control her bladder, however, the better, because she is not likely to outgrow her bedwetting until she makes up her mind that she wants to be a big girl.

—:—

SEVERAL treatments for this condition have been used. Some work for one child but not for another. In one study, children from 5 to 14 were put on a training program. Each child drank all the fluid he wanted during the day but was urged to postpone emptying his bladder at home until the discomfort became unbearable. The amount of urine then passed was measured and the trick was to try to top the previous high.

—:—

EACH CHILD was also urged to start and stop the urinary stream several times when urinating away from home. This helped him to develop a greater consciousness of bladder control. After six months of this training, 19 per cent were cured and 11 per cent were nearly cured. This total of 30 per cent were the children who had the greatest desire to stop wetting the bed.

—:—

IN SOME instances, drugs have helped to relax the bladder muscles. These drugs include atropine, ephedrine, propantheline and imipramine. All require a doctor's prescription.

—:—

Q—What is the cause of the "fifth disease" in a child?

A—Erythema infectiosum (its technical name) usually occurs in children 3 to 12 years of age. It is an acute communicable disease caused by an as yet unidentified virus. The victim has a fiery red rash that may itch. It starts on the cheeks and spreads to the rest of the body.

—:—

IT CLEARS UP and recurs for a few days or even weeks before it disappears completely. Because it is relatively rare and often clears up quickly, the diagnosis is rarely made unless there is an epidemic. The only treatment is to relieve the symptoms if they are bothersome. Incidentally, the other four diseases are measles, German measles, scarlet fever and roseola.

—:—

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Hearing Due Tuesday For Cited Drivers

Municipal Court hearings are due Tuesday for six motorists cited over the weekend by city police and the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Court was not in session today because of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year's holiday. The hearings tomorrow also will include several on charges other than traffic violations. The traffic defendants are:

William E. Baker of Lexington, Ky., cited on a reckless driving charge Friday at 6:11 p.m. on Dresden Ave. by Patrolman Charles Coen. He posted a $57.50 appearance bond.

Raymond A. Holt of the Bell School Rd., cited Friday at 7:51 p.m. in Peach Alley on a charge of improper auto registration. Allen Keyser of 2125 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., arrested Saturday at 7:10 p.m. on Dewey Ave. by Coen and Patrolman James Woods on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and operating an auto without a license.

John Karesedes of Canton, cited by the patrol Saturday at 6:45 p.m. on Route 30 on a charge of passing improperly on the right. He posted a $17.50 bond. Tom R. Buckel of Wellsville RD 1, cited by the patrol Friday at 6:30 p.m. on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle. He posted a $32.50 bond.

Lorin R. Murray of Box 183, Chester, cited Friday at 3:24 p.m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith on a charge of improper passing. He posted a $57.50 bond.

Cubanola Martin of 444 14th St., Wellsville, is due for a hearing Friday on a charge of operating an auto without a muffler. He was cited by the patrol last Friday at 6:10 p.m. on Route 7.

Thomas Possage of Lisbon RD 2 is slated for a hearing Wednesday on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited at 3:11 this morning.

James Brenneman of 1609 Alpha St. also is slated to appear in court Tuesday on charges of intoxication and "resisting or abusing a police officer." He was arrested on Alpha St. Sunday at 7:13 a.m. by Patrolman Jack Strobel.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Even among men who consider themselves healthy, the chances are one in five that they'll have a heart attack before their 60th birthday.

One of America's most colorful battlefield commanders, the late Gen. George S. Patton Jr., also renowned for his deep knowledge of military history, never learned to read and write until he was 12.

Add the picturesque windmills of Holland to the victims of progress. They still look fine on post cards, but their task of removing excess water from the Netherlands has been taken over by electric pumps.

Here's why you need regular exercise: about half of your body weight is made up of 10 million muscle cells. Unless you flex the muscles, they weaken into flab.

A student's intelligence quotient can be affected by the outlook of his teacher. Studies by a Harvard psychologist found that teachers with positive attitudes could increase the I.Q. of students by as much as four points within a single school year. Negative-minded teachers held the students back.

Nutrition experts believe most Americans probably eat too little in the morning and too much at night. Their recommendation: eat two-fifths of your daily caloric intake for breakfast, two-fifths at lunch, and only one-fifth during your evening meal.

Quotable notables: "My grandfather, Frank Lloyd Wright, wore a red sash on his wedding night. That is glamor." —Actress Anne Baxter.

Safety in age: Some medical authorities question the wisdom of the mandatory rule retiring commercial pilots at 60. Tests hve shown that they respond better to stress situations than younger pilots. And government studies reveal that the accident rate among nearly 10,000 licensed flyers aged 60 and over is lower than for any other age group except those in the 45-49 bracket, whose safety record is only slightly superior.

Drinking problems: Schools and colleges today need to have alcohol education programs, says the National Institute of Mental Health. It points out that 60 per cent of teen-agers now drink before leaving high school, drinking is no longer taboo at many colleges, and more than half a dozen even serve beer on campus.

Botanical myth: Did you think, as most people do, that sunflowers always turn their petals toward the sun? Well, they don't. Prevailing winds often determine the direction in which the blossom head faces.

Worth remembering: "Juvenile delinquency is the result of parents trying to train children without starting at the bottom."

History lesson: Can you identify the U.S. presidents who bore the following nicknames: "Old Fox," "Sectional President," "Veto President," and "Boss"? They were, in order, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Grover Cleveland, and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Disenfranchised: Millions of Americans may lose their voting rights, come November, because one out of six persons in our nomadic population will have moved to another state during the year. A residence of six months to a year is required of voters by most sates. In New York the period is only three months—in Mississippi it is two years.

Prosperity note: More Americans should eat high on the turkey this Thanksgiving. In 1940 the United States had 35 million turkeys, one for every four persons. This year the supply is more plentiful—about one for every two persons, theoretically allowing a drumstick for nearly everybody.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Citizens' Meeting Due On Zoning In East End

A public citizens meeting regarding zoning in East End has been set for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the former IOOF Hall on Pennsylvania Ave., Bert Willison of 1812 Harvey Ave., chairman, said.

The meeting was called, Willison said, to familiarize area residents with zoning and to receive their reactions pro and con.

Willison, the owner of three local establishments, recently was cited for violation of a zoning law in connection with the use of his property on Pennsylvania Ave.

Expected at the meeting are Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine, former prosecuting attorney, a representative of the City Planning Commission and the County Commissioners, Willison said.

Q.—How about the longevity of shellac? Can it be stored very long?

A.—Unlike most paints, shellac is short-lived . . . and shellac which is more than about six months old should be discarded. Its life can be preserved to some extent by storing it in glass jars, rather than tin cans — but even then, not too long!

House Members Keep Speaker On His Toes

NEW DELHI (AP) — Speaker Sanjiva Reddy of the lower house of Parliament has a hard time keeping up with those members who are in jail and those who are released.

Rules require police to inform him when a member of Parliament is arrested and require the speaker to notify the house.

One day recently Reddy told the house some members had been arrested for demonstrating at the British high commission. But then he learned they had been bailed out and were already back in their seats.

Boys Claim Marathon Record In Basketball

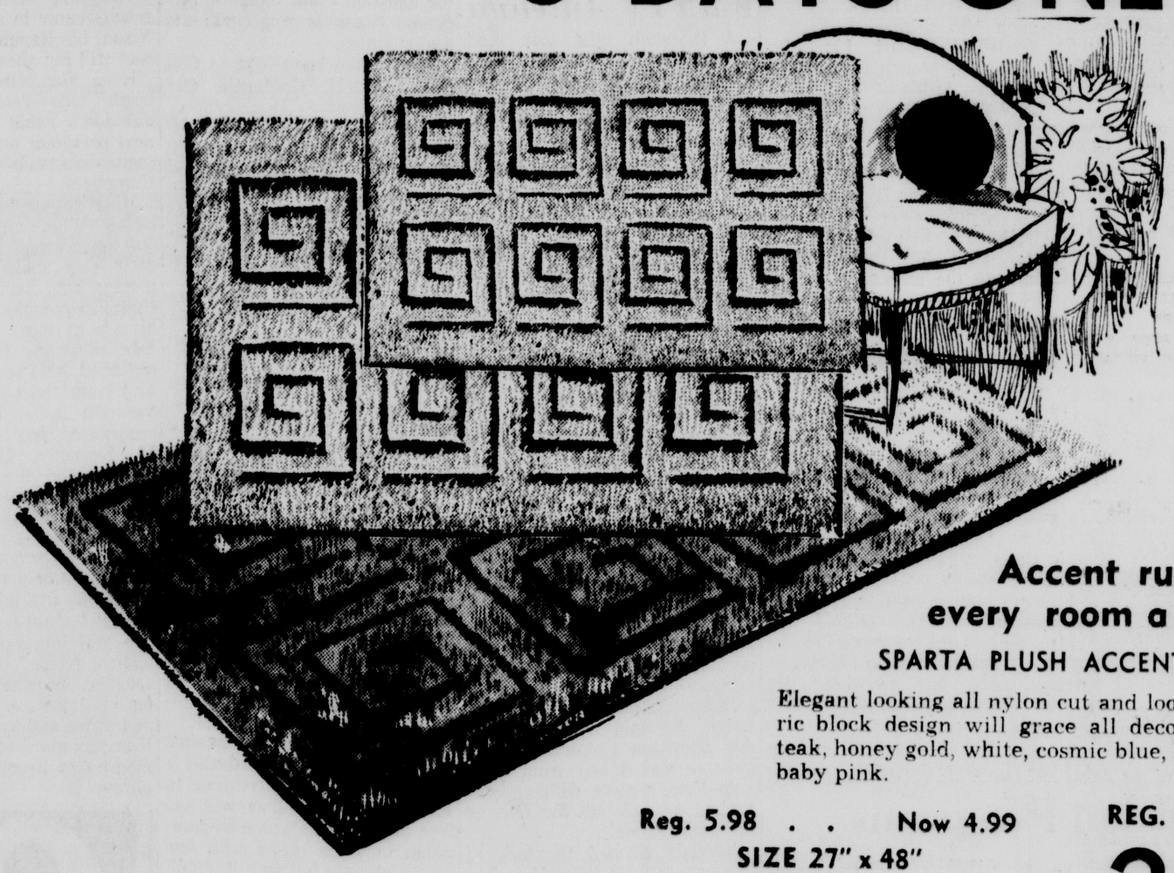

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Ten high school boys from First Baptist Church here claim the world's record for a marathon basketball game — 36 hours and 3 minutes.

They took 3-minute rests between quarters and 15 minutes between halves. Parents brought them food, and in the later stages some of the boys took advantage of the halftime break for a quick shower.

The final score was 2,066 for the Turkeys and 1,956 for the Gunkeys.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. C. Brandstadt

Bedwetting Can Be Caused By Tension

A mother writes that her daughter, 9, has been a bedwetter ever since she was 2. Doctors can find no kidney or bladder disease and say that the cause is emotional tension. They say that she will outgrow the habit in time. In the course of the examinations, they found that this girl was born with double ureters.

THIS developmental oddity would have no effect on this girl's kidney or bladder function and no treatment is required for it. The sooner she learns to control her bladder, however, the better, because she is not likely to outgrow her bedwetting until she makes up her mind that she wants to be a big girl.

—:—

SEVERAL treatments for this condition have been used. Some work for one child but not for another. In one study, children from 5 to 14 were put on a training program. Each child drank all the fluid he wanted during the day but was urged to postpone emptying his bladder at home until the discomfort became unbearable. The amount of urine then passed was measured and the trick was to try to top the previous high.

—:—

EACH CHILD was also urged to start and stop the urinary stream several times when urinating away from home. This helped him to develop a greater consciousness of bladder control. After six months of this training, 19 per cent were cured and 11 per cent were nearly cured. This total of 30 per cent were the children who had the greatest desire to stop wetting the bed.

—:—

IN SOME instances, drugs have helped to relax the bladder muscles. These drugs include atropine, ephedrine, propantheline and imipramine. All require a doctor's prescription.

—:—

Q—What is the cause of the "fifth disease" in a child?

A—Erythema infectiosum (its technical name) usually occurs in children 3 to 12 years of age. It is an acute communicable disease caused by an as yet unidentified virus. The victim has a fiery red rash that may itch. It starts on the cheeks and spreads to the rest of the body.

—:—

IT CLEARS UP and recurs for a few days or even weeks before it disappears completely. Because it is relatively rare and often clears up quickly, the diagnosis is rarely made unless there is an epidemic. The only treatment is to relieve the symptoms if they are bothersome. Incidentally, the other four diseases are measles, German measles, scarlet fever and roseola.

—:—

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Hearing Due Tuesday For Cited Drivers

Municipal Court hearings are due Tuesday for six motorists cited over the weekend by city police and the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Court was not in session today because of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year's holiday. The hearings tomorrow also will include several on charges other than traffic violations. The traffic defendants are:

William E. Baker of Lexington, Ky., cited on a reckless driving charge Friday at 6:11 p.m. on Dresden Ave. by Patrolman Charles Coen. He posted a $57.50 appearance bond.

Raymond A. Holt of the Bell School Rd., cited Friday at 7:51 p.m. in Peach Alley on a charge of improper auto registration. Allen Keyser of 2125 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., arrested Saturday at 7:10 p.m. on Dewey Ave. by Coen and Patrolman James Woods on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and operating an auto without a license.

John Karesedes of Canton, cited by the patrol Saturday at 6:45 p.m. on Route 30 on a charge of passing improperly on the right. He posted a $17.50 bond. Tom R. Buckel of Wellsville RD 1, cited by the patrol Friday at 6:30 p.m. on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle. He posted a $32.50 bond.

Lorin R. Murray of Box 183, Chester, cited Friday at 3:24 p.m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith on a charge of improper passing. He posted a $57.50 bond.

Cubanola Martin of 444 14th St., Wellsville, is due for a hearing Friday on a charge of operating an auto without a muffler. He was cited by the patrol last Friday at 6:10 p.m. on Route 7.

Thomas Possage of Lisbon RD 2 is slated for a hearing Wednesday on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited at 3:11 this morning.

James Brenneman of 1609 Alpha St. also is slated to appear in court Tuesday on charges of intoxication and "resisting or abusing a police officer." He was arrested on Alpha St. Sunday at 7:13 a.m. by Patrolman Jack Strobel.

Raymond Burr is doing some guestings on other shows this season (he was on the Phyllis Diller show Sunday) mainly to let viewers know he's not a paraplegic, as he appears in his own "Ironside" series.

He receives 3,500 letters a week on an average, and many of them are from fans who believe he's really confined to that wheel chair. In a special two-hour version of "Ironside" next Thursday he's operated on, but unsuccessfully, so Ray will stay wheel chair-bound for at least another season as Robert T. Ironside.

-:-

"MANY YEARS AGO I was in a wheel chair for six months. It was the last year I did Dragnet on radio. I'd had an operation for an old piece of shrapnel from World War II. Now here I am back in a wheel chair," Ray comments.

Several viewers assumed Ray had become crippled from one of his handshaking tours of Vietnam, of which he's made 11, and although he's had countless viruses, several operations and accidents, Ray today looks like the healthiest man in the world.

He's also one of the happiest. Ray has become as interested in paraplegics as he was in law during his nine seasons as Perry Mason when he barnstormed the country addressing bar groups. Now he attends PVA (Paralyzed Veterans of America) conventions and meetings, and has become a hero to many paraplegics.

"AT THE CONVENTION in Houston this year a paraplegic named Len Chrysler remembered an 'Ironside' episode in which I was stopped by an escalator.

'Look,' he said, as he came up to me in the hotel, 'I'll show you how that's done.' He strapped himself into his wheel chair and grabbed the moving railings and hoisted himself down the escalator by his hands and arms, with the chair dangling under him," relates Ray.

Between film takes on the "Ironside" set, Ray never stays in the wheel chair. He still fights a weight problem, currently tips the scale at 269 pounds, but says he is coming down. At the studio and at home he does isometrics, uses the weights and performs other regular exercises.

-:-

"AFTER 'PERRY MASON,' I'd have bet I wouldn't ever do another TV series, but the rating on the 'Ironside' movie (a full-length movie was the pilot) was so great and the character gave me a chance to act more of a human being. In 'Perry Mason' a third of every episode was in the courtroom, and I thought I'd reached a saturation with the public after nine years," says Ray.

As for 'Ironside,' he'd prefer not to be "hung up too long" in it. Ray figures three seasons would be about right for him.

Besides the grueling schedule of as hour film a week for half the year, and his current activities at veterans' hospitals, he also is chairman of the national advisory board for Florida Memorial College, which opened its new $10 million campus in Miami this month after moving from St. Augustine where it had been for 76 years.

Florida Memorial has a 98 per cent Negro enrollment.

Ray also is involved in establishing new colleges, such as the University of the South Pacific in Fiji, which opens next March.

-:-

THREE YEARS AGO he bought his own island, Naitauba, in the Fijis, and he grows cattle and coconuts there. Although not there as much as he would like, he still considers it his home ("Everyone wants his own island").

How does the 51-year-old Ray find time for all of his activities?

"You just don't recognize the fact that you don't have time," he says. "I want to do a picture when we finish 'Ironside' in February or March.

"Also, I'd like to see a better-produced Emmy Awards show," adds Ray, who may get involved. "I'm tired of those envelopes, and how poor the show is visually.

"Educational TV fascinates me, too. Do you know, if it were done right, in the next 17 years through TV everyone on earth could have a high school education?"

Man's Body Located Along Scioto River

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County deputies said Sunday they were continuing a search for the slayer of Emil Zbinden, 47, Columbus, whose body was found Saturday in a secluded area along the Scioto River south of here.

Deputies said Zbinden was known to carry large sums of money, but none was found on his body and his billfold was missing. Lack of blood at the scene led deputies to believe he had been shot elsewhere. He had been shot four times, they said.

His car was found in Lancaster Sunday, police reported.

Thorough Thief Removes Tower With TV Antenna

A thorough thief took not only a television antenna at a Pleasant Heights home but the 30-foot tower that supported it, the owner complainted to police Saturday afternoon.

Harold E. Taylor of 1901 Harvey Ave., owner of the rental property at 601 Northside Ave., said the mast and antenna were stolen some time between Wednesday and Friday. He placed the loss at $30, plus $120 damage to the slate roof caused when the antenna and tower were removed.

Four other cases of theft and vandalism were reported over the weekend.

Gaylen Parker of 618 Blackmore St. told officers the battery and a spare tire were taken from his truck between 1 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Sunday while it was parked near his home. James Brown of 826 Princeton Ave. reported a socket wrench set was taken by a thief who looted the glove compartment of his car while it was parked near his home Saturday night.

Diane Chapman of 720 Cartwright St. told officers Saturday afternoon a woman's white sweater was taken from her auto Friday night while it was parked on a lot at the rear of Westgate School.

Vandals slashed the tops of two convertibles Saturday night or Sunday on the lots at two adjoining East End auto agencies. Two cars were damaged at Al Green's Lincoln-Mercury at 1340 Pennsylvania Ave. and one was vandalized at Tad Pontiac at 1273 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Presidential Campaigns Evaluated

A Look At The 'Big Race'

★ ★ ★ Nixon

By WALTER R. MEARS

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, confident but cautious, is campaigning for the White House from a script which emphasizes television and devotes little public attention to his two presidential opponents.

Nixon's standard campaign speech includes a set series of taunts at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

Nixon tells the crowds—generally big ones—that a nation in trouble should not turn for leadership to a member of the administration that got it there.

George C. Wallace, the third party candidate, gets not a word from Nixon on the campaign platform. The Republican nominee contends that would only build up Wallace, so he never mentions the man.

Concern Over Wallace

Nevertheless, Wallace is a matter of real concern to Nixon's strategists. They believe Nixon can maintain his current lead in the opinion polls, and translate it into victory over Humphrey. But they share a fear that Wallace might win enough electoral votes to deny a majority to either of the major party candidates, thus sending the election to the House of Representatives.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, charged in an interview that the Democrats have a conscious strategy designed to do just that.

"The Democrats are doing everything they can to build up Wallace," Ellsworth said. He said they see in a House decision their best chance of denying Nixon the presidency.

Nixon's campaign pace is generally a leisurely one, with two or three speeches a day, each virtually identical. The schedule is shaped around television, and the question - and - answer programs Nixon is staging in the major states.

There have been four so far: Ohio, Illinois, California and Pennsylvania.

There will be at least a half-dozen more. Nixon's travels are frequently structured around the campaign television shows. So is his schedule. Each of them is preceded by a day of relaxation and preparation.

Speech Appeal

Nixon's campaign speech features an appeal to the people the candidate calls forgotten Americans. "You are Republicans, you are Democrats, you are independents," Nixon says. "You have been quiet. You have been going to work and you have been paying your taxes and supporting your schools."

But now, says Nixon, these quiet, forgotten Americans are aroused and ready to speak out with votes on Nov. 5.

The set speech's main assault on Humphrey links the vice president to that administration.

Leading in the public opinion polls, Nixon has passed to his campaign staff a word of warning against overconfidence.

While the word is out against overconfidence, the word also is out that if the polls continue to run as they have, Nixon will feel free in the weeks ahead to campaign in some states with few electoral votes but with Republicans running for Senate or House seats or governorships.

"You may see more of that," one Nixon advisor said.

Jet airliners began regularly scheduled flights in the U.S. Jan. 25, 1959.

★ ★ ★ Humphrey

By HARRY KELLY

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign is showing smoke if not fire. With his quest for the presidency in its second week, the vice president drew in Toledo what appeared to be the biggest crowds of his campaign—and he was as obviously delighted as a boy with a double dip ice cream cone.

"Thank you, thank you very much," he said beamingly, pumping hands as a hundred or more persons crowded around his car Sunday outside an ice cream parlor.

Humphrey is behind and knows it. He started late and slow. Even the money, he says, is in short supply, thus his television advertising was late. He also feels the turbulence surrounding the Chicago convention hurt him in the polls.

But Humphrey, the cheerful exponent of the politics of hope, still manages to sound confident.

Wait until the middle of October, he says, then go out and cover all the Nixon money available. "We're going to win," he says.

Although Humphrey was the frontrunner, he came out of the convention without much treasury or organization. And Humphrey was disappointed in the first week of his campaign.

Disappointing Tour

He sprinted from coast to coast and back—with a tailwind of disappointing crowds, hecklers and snubs from Texas Gov. John Connally and California's Jesse Unruh, as well as some well-publicized oratorical miscues over the party's Vietnam plank and the withdrawal of troops from Vietnam.

Humphrey was tired—trying to cover too much ground, talking too long without guarding his tongue closely enough and campaigning past midnight.

The first postconvention poll results came in and Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, was still far ahead.

Even then, Humphrey saw a bright side—that now antiwar dissidents could see that their next president would be Nixon if they didn't do something for Humphrey.

More advance men then were added to his campaign to bring out the crowds. The scheduling crew was shaken up. Enough money was collected so that Humphrey could go ahead with his advertising.

In addition, Humphrey was endorsed by President Johnson. And from the other side of the Vietnam issue, he won public embraces from Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, George S. McGovern and Wayne Morse. He also made a pilgrimage to see the Democrat who pulled off one of history's best-known political upsets, Harry S. Truman.

Confident Of Victory

Would all this activity be enough? Humphrey thinks he can win by taking the offense against Nixon on issues of personality, prosperity, by calling for civil justice as well as law and order and by trying to paint Nixon as more of a hawk or foreign policy hardliner than Humphrey.

★ ★ ★ Wallace

By JULES LOH

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — "My campaign," said a grinning George C. Wallace to an audience in Dallas the other day, "reminds me of the old joke that begins, 'They laughed when I sat down to play. . .'

"Well," he said to the boom of applause and the scream of rebel yells, "not many Democrats or Republicans are laughing now."

Wallace has said that even he, whose political antennae are probably as sensitive as anybody's, did not anticipate when he announced his third-party candidacy in January the degree of success it would achieve by late September.

Wallace, for example, expected his "mission impossible" task force of Alabama lawyers to win for him a place on the ballots of 40 states at most.

Last week, when he met the qualifications of the 50th state —although Ohio remains in doubt—he began referring to the Democrats and Republicans as "the other two national parties."

Funds Okay

He says his campaign treasury is in good condition, "but don't get the idea we're swimming in money," and he plans to eliminate many of the fund-raising dinners that have been a staple of his campaign appearances. There also is a rumor that he soon will replace his prop-driven DC7 airplane with a speedier prop-jet model.

He also plans to slow the pace of his campaign. Last Friday he completed a fatiguing swing through the Southwest, Midwest and South, and will not resume again until next Friday, when he will embark on a trip through the Northeast, Midwest and Far West.

The secret of Wallace's success has become clear as his traveling road show — complete with a country band and two blonde vocalists—the Taylor Sisters, Mona and Lisa—has wound its way through 31 states. Wallace has demonstrated an acute sense of the fundamental fears and irritations that gnaw at a great many bewildered Americans, and an ability to speak of them in simple, colorful terms.

Concerning law and order, for example, the visceral issue of his campaign, Wallace says the Democratic and Republican candidates promised to enforce the law but that both of them, by past policies, had helped to bring about "today's anarchy."

Midwest Has Wet Weather

By The Associated Press

Widely varied and occasionally turbulent weather and some freezing temperatures ushered in the fall today.

Violent showers dumped heavy amounts of rain on parts of the Midwest late Sunday and early today.

In northwestern Iowa, the town of Royal was swamped by five and one half inches of rain during the night. Nearby Spencer absorbed four and three quarters inches. A rash of tornadoes hit the same area earlier Sunday causing property damage and disrupting electrical power in Orange City.

More than four inches of rain fell on Russell, Kan., and Minneapolis, Minn., received an inch and one half during the same period.

Winds up to 70 miles an hour and half-inch size hail hit the area around Wichita, Kan.

The turbulence was associated with a slow-moving cold front stretching from Kansas to Minnesota. Locally heavy rain showers accompanied the front while lighter showers preceded it across the Midwest. A band of light showers also extended from the Great Lakes to New England.

Generally fair and mild weather remained to the east of the front. In the west cold air continued its grip in the wake of the first heavy snows that fell Friday.

Freezing temperatures and some frost are expected over parts of the high plains. Temperatures ranged from 22 at Evanston, Wyo. to 83 at McAlester, Okla., early today.

Temperatures and conditions around the nation: Boston 68 clear, New York City 75 cloudy, Philadelphia 68 cloudy, Washington 66 clear, Atlanta 65 clear, Miami 75 partly cloudy, Detroit 69 partly cloudy, Chicago 67 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 67 rain, St. Louis 70 partly cloudy, Kansas City 72 rain, Dallas 77 partly cloudy, Denver 49 partly cloudy, Phoenix 70 clear, Los Angeles 67 clear, San Francisco 58 clear, Seattle 56 cloudy, Anchorage 32 clear, Honolulu 78 partly cloudy.

20 Cars In Mishap

TODDINGTON, England (AP) — At least 20 automobiles were involved Sunday night in a multiple pileup on Britain's leading highway, the M1. Reports said 12 persons were seriously injured, two critically.

Only two more total solar eclipses will be visible in the U.S. during the remainder of this century—March 7, 1970, and Feb. 26, 1979.

Surfers Save Pilot Of Downed Airplane

SALISBURY, Mass. (AP) — The pilot of a downed plane was rescued by surfers Sunday.

Police said Paul Lamson, 44, of Hampton, N.H., ditched his disabled single engine plane in the Atlantic about 900 feet from shore to avoid hitting persons in a crowded beach area.

He clung to the wing of the craft until it began to sink, then attempted to swim to shore.

Lee Knapp, 17, a senior at Amesbury High School, and another unidentified surfer, paddled out on their boards to Lamson and supported him between them while they paddled to shore, police said.

Lamson was treated for facial cuts and a broken nose at the Exeter, N.H., hospital and released.

Thorough Thief Removes Tower With TV Antenna

A thorough thief took not only a television antenna at a Pleasant Heights home but the 30-foot tower that supported it, the owner complainted to police Saturday afternoon.

Harold E. Taylor of 1901 Harvey Ave., owner of the rental property at 601 Northside Ave., said the mast and antenna were stolen some time between Wednesday and Friday. He placed the loss at $30, plus $120 damage to the slate roof caused when the antenna and tower were removed.

Four other cases of theft and vandalism were reported over the weekend.

Gaylen Parker of 618 Blackmore St. told officers the battery and a spare tire were taken from his truck between 1 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Sunday while it was parked near his home. James Brown of 826 Princeton Ave. reported a socket wrench set was taken by a thief who looted the glove compartment of his car while it was parked near his home Saturday night.

Diane Chapman of 720 Cartwright St. told officers Saturday afternoon a woman's white sweater was taken from her auto Friday night while it was parked on a lot at the rear of Westgate School.

Vandals slashed the tops of two convertibles Saturday night or Sunday on the lots at two adjoining East End auto agencies. Two cars were damaged at Al Green's Lincoln-Mercury at 1340 Pennsylvania Ave. and one was vandalized at Tad Pontiac at 1273 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Presidential Campaigns Evaluated

A Look At The 'Big Race'

★ ★ ★ Nixon

By WALTER R. MEARS

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, confident but cautious, is campaigning for the White House from a script which emphasizes television and devotes little public attention to his two presidential opponents.

Nixon's standard campaign speech includes a set series of taunts at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

Nixon tells the crowds—generally big ones—that a nation in trouble should not turn for leadership to a member of the administration that got it there.

George C. Wallace, the third party candidate, gets not a word from Nixon on the campaign platform. The Republican nominee contends that would only build up Wallace, so he never mentions the man.

Concern Over Wallace

Nevertheless, Wallace is a matter of real concern to Nixon's strategists. They believe Nixon can maintain his current lead in the opinion polls, and translate it into victory over Humphrey. But they share a fear that Wallace might win enough electoral votes to deny a majority to either of the major party candidates, thus sending the election to the House of Representatives.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, charged in an interview that the Democrats have a conscious strategy designed to do just that.

"The Democrats are doing everything they can to build up Wallace," Ellsworth said. He said they see in a House decision their best chance of denying Nixon the presidency.

Nixon's campaign pace is generally a leisurely one, with two or three speeches a day, each virtually identical. The schedule is shaped around television, and the question - and - answer programs Nixon is staging in the major states.

There have been four so far: Ohio, Illinois, California and Pennsylvania.

There will be at least a half-dozen more. Nixon's travels are frequently structured around the campaign television shows. So is his schedule. Each of them is preceded by a day of relaxation and preparation.

Speech Appeal

Nixon's campaign speech features an appeal to the people the candidate calls forgotten Americans. "You are Republicans, you are Democrats, you are independents," Nixon says. "You have been quiet. You have been going to work and you have been paying your taxes and supporting your schools."

But now, says Nixon, these quiet, forgotten Americans are aroused and ready to speak out with votes on Nov. 5.

The set speech's main assault on Humphrey links the vice president to that administration.

Leading in the public opinion polls, Nixon has passed to his campaign staff a word of warning against overconfidence.

While the word is out against overconfidence, the word also is out that if the polls continue to run as they have, Nixon will feel free in the weeks ahead to campaign in some states with few electoral votes but with Republicans running for Senate or House seats or governorships.

"You may see more of that," one Nixon advisor said.

★ ★ ★ Humphrey

By HARRY KELLY

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign is showing smoke if not fire. With his quest for the presidency in its second week, the vice president drew in Toledo what appeared to be the biggest crowds of his campaign—and he was as obviously delighted as a boy with a double dip ice cream cone.

"Thank you, thank you very much," he said beamingly, pumping hands as a hundred or more persons crowded around his car Sunday outside an ice cream parlor.

Humphrey is behind and knows it. He started late and slow. Even the money, he says, is in short supply, thus his television advertising was late. He also feels the turbulence surrounding the Chicago convention hurt him in the polls.

But Humphrey, the cheerful exponent of the politics of hope, still manages to sound confident.

Wait until the middle of October, he says, then go out and cover all the Nixon money available. "We're going to win," he says.

Although Humphrey was the frontrunner, he came out of the convention without much treasury or organization. And Humphrey was disappointed in the first week of his campaign.

Disappointing Tour

He sprinted from coast to coast and back—with a tailwind of disappointing crowds, hecklers and snubs from Texas Gov. John Connally and California's Jesse Unruh, as well as some well-publicized oratorical miscues over the party's Vietnam plank and the withdrawal of troops from Vietnam.

Humphrey was tired—trying to cover too much ground, talking too long without guarding his tongue closely enough and campaigning past midnight.

The first postconvention poll results came in and Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, was still far ahead.

Even then, Humphrey saw a bright side—that now antiwar dissidents could see that their next president would be Nixon if they didn't do something for Humphrey.

More advance men then were added to his campaign to bring out the crowds. The scheduling crew was shaken up. Enough money was collected so that Humphrey could go ahead with his advertising.

In addition, Humphrey was endorsed by President Johnson. And from the other side of the Vietnam issue, he won public embraces from Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, George S. McGovern and Wayne Morse. He also made a pilgrimage to see the Democrat who pulled off one of history's best-known political upsets, Harry S. Truman.

Confident Of Victory

Would all this activity be enough? Humphrey thinks he can win by taking the offense against Nixon on issues of personality, prosperity, by calling for civil justice as well as law and order and by trying to paint Nixon as more of a hawk or foreign policy hardliner than Humphrey.

★ ★ ★ Wallace

By JULES LOH

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — "My campaign," said a grinning George C. Wallace to an audience in Dallas the other day, "reminds me of the old joke that begins, 'They laughed when I sat down to play. . .'

"Well," he said to the boom of applause and the scream of rebel yells, "not many Democrats or Republicans are laughing now."

Wallace has said that even he, whose political antennae are probably as sensitive as anybody's, did not anticipate when he announced his third-party candidacy in January the degree of success it would achieve by late September.

Wallace, for example, expected his "missior impossible" task force of Alabama lawyers to win for him a place on the ballots of 40 states at most.

Last week, when he met the qualifications of the 50th state —although Ohio remains in doubt—he began referring to the Democrats and Republicans as "the other two national parties."

Funds Okay

He says his campaign treasury is in good condition, "but don't get the idea we're swimming in money," and he plans to eliminate many of the fund-raising dinners that have been a staple of his campaign appearances. There also is a rumor that he soon will replace his prop-driven DC7 airplane with a speedier prop-jet model.

He also plans to slow the pace of his campaign. Last Friday he completed a fatiguing swing through the Southwest, Midwest and South, and will not resume again until next Friday, when he will embark on a trip through the Northeast, Midwest and Far West.

The secret of Wallace's success has become clear as his traveling road show — complete with a country band and two blonde vocalists—the Taylor Sisters, Mona and Lisa—has wound its way through 31 states. Wallace has demonstrated an acute sense of the fundamental fears and irritations that gnaw at a great many bewildered Americans, and an ability to speak of them in simple, colorful terms.

Concerning law and order, for example, the visceral issue of his campaign, Wallace says the Democratic and Republican candidates promised to enforce the law but that both of them, by past policies, had helped to bring about "today's anarchy."

Midwest Has Wet Weather

By The Associated Press

Widely varied and occasionally turbulent weather and some freezing temperatures ushered in the fall today.

Violent showers dumped heavy amounts of rain on parts of the Midwest late Sunday and early today.

In northwestern Iowa, the town of Royal was swamped by five and one half inches of rain during the night. Nearby Spencer absorbed four and three quarters inches. A rash of tornadoes hit the same area earlier Sunday causing property damage and disrupting electrical power in Orange City.

More than four inches of rain fell on Russell, Kan., and Minneapolis, Minn., received an inch and one half during the same period.

Winds up to 70 miles an hour and half-inch size hail hit the area around Wichita, Kan.

The turbulence was associated with a slow-moving cold front stretching from Kansas to Minnesota. Locally heavy rain showers accompanied the front while lighter showers preceded it across the Midwest. A band of light showers also extended from the Great Lakes to New England.

Generally fair and mild weather remained to the east of the front. In the west cold air continued its grip in the wake of the first heavy snows that fell Friday.

Freezing temperatures and some frost are expected over parts of the high plains. Temperatures ranged from 22 at Evanston, Wyo. to 83 at McAlester, Okla., early today.

Temperatures and conditions around the nation: Boston 68 clear, New York City 75 cloudy, Philadelphia 68 cloudy, Washington 66 clear, Atlanta 65 clear, Miami 75 partly cloudy, Detroit 69 partly cloudy, Chicago 67 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 67 rain, St. Louis 70 partly cloudy, Kansas City 72 rain, Dallas 77 partly cloudy, Denver 49 partly cloudy, Phoenix 70 clear, Los Angeles 67 clear, San Francisco 58 clear, Seattle 56 cloudy, Anchorage 32 clear, Honolulu 78 partly cloudy.

20 Cars In Mishap

TODDINGTON, England (AP) — At least 20 automobiles were involved Sunday night in a multiple pileup on Britain's leading highway, the M1. Reports said 12 persons were seriously injured, two critically.

Only two more total solar eclipses will be visible in the U.S. during the remainder of this century—March 7, 1970, and Feb. 26, 1979.

Surfers Save Pilot Of Downed Airplane

SALISBURY, Mass. (AP) — The pilot of a downed plane was rescued by surfers Sunday.

Police said Paul Lamson, 44, of Hampton, N.H., ditched his disabled single engine plane in the Atlantic about 900 feet from shore to avoid hitting persons in a crowded beach area.

He clung to the wing of the craft until it began to sink, then attempted to swim to shore.

Lee Knapp, 17, a senior at Amesbury High School, and another unidentified surfer, paddled out on their boards to Lamson and supported him between them while they paddled to shore, police said.

Lamson was treated for facial cuts and a broken nose at the Exeter, N.H., hospital and released.

Helmet Saves Area Man As Car, Cycle Hit

A 25-year-old Dixonville man credited a safety helmet with saving him from death or serious injury Sunday night when his motorcycle and an auto were involved in a collision at Dresden Ave. and 6th St.

David Edward Pinkerton of Macrum St. escaped with a minor laceration of the face, although his motorcycle was termed a "possible total loss" and the collision also damaged the entire right side of a 1964 sedan driven by Leah P. Kelley of 225 W. 7th St., the city's "Meter Maid" supervisor, officers said.

Pinkerton was treated at the scene by an ambulance attendant. Officers cited the woman driver on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way.

She told police she was driving south on Dresden Ave. and starting to turn onto E. 6th St. at the Diamond when her car was hit by the motorcycle. Pinkerton was northbound. He told Patrolman Charles Coen, the investigating officer, that he was "thankful I was wearing a helmet or I probably would have been killed." The crash was timed at 10:06.

No one was injured in two other traffic mishaps Saturday afternoon.

Ruth V. Alford, 46, of 1529 Wyoming Ave. told officers the left rear quarter panel of her 1968 two-door sedan was damaged in a hit-skip collision at 3:30 p.m. on Lincoln Ave. at Smith St.

She told police she was driving north on Lincoln Ave. and attempting a left turn onto Smith St. when a car traveling east on Smith St. turned too wide at the intersection and struck the side of her car. The other driver "gave me a good cussing" and left the scene, the woman told police. She furnished police with a license number.

A parked car was damaged in a mishap at 3:49 p.m. on Avondale St. 50 feet north of Bank St., officers said.

Ann L. White, 18, of 1019 Ephriam St., driving north on Avondale in a 1966 sedan, hit a parked 1967 sedan owned by John R. Manypenny of 910 Avondale St., officers said.

The young woman said she steered to the right to avoid an oncoming vehicle. The collision damaged the right front of her auto and the left rear and trunk of the Manypenny car.

Area's Dentists To Meet Tuesday

"Investment Opportunities in the Market" will be discussed when the East Liverpool District Dental Society meets Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Country Club.

The speaker will be Donald Rodenbaugh of Youngstown, a registered representative of Singer, Deane and Scribner with the New York Stock Exchange. He also will discuss "The Self-Employed Retirement Keough Act."

Rodenbaugh is a graduate of Gannon College, Erie, Pa., with a bachelor of science degree in economics and finance.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, will conduct the business session.

Baldasare To Speak At Wellsville Meeting

Wellsville Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare will be guest speaker during the Wellsville Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday noon at Meade's Restaurant.

New officers of the club are Don Penn, president; Frank Rivelle, first vice president; Lester Fowler, second vice president, and Tom Piatt, treasurer.

In Birth Control Protest

Congregation Walks Out On Washington Cardinal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bitter dispute within the Washington Roman Catholic archdiocese has intensified in the wake of an unprecedented walkout protest against Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle, archbishop of the diocese.

About 200 persons walked out of St. Matthew's cathedral during masses Sunday as the cardinal rose to urge obedience to Pope Paul VI's latest edict banning use of artificial birth controls.

The cardinal, who has been challenged on his interpretation of the Pope's encyclical by 44 area priests, had ordered a pastoral letter criticizing the dissenters read in all Roman Catholic churches in his jurisdiction.

Cardinal O'Boyle himself read the letter at three masses at St. Matthew's, and watched without apparent emotion as the people walked from the crowded cathedral. Most returned after he finished reading the message.

It was estimated that at least another 200 persons left other churches when the letter was read.

Lay Groups Approved

The protest had been urged by two lay organizations supporting the dissident priests.

The cardinal said after the services that it was the first time he had encountered such a protest in his 20 years as archbishop of Washington. "It is a very emotional matter," he said. Other church officials said it was probably the first time parishioners had taken such action in any Catholic church.

The dispute arose following issuance of the Pope's edict July 29 prohibiting the use of all forms of artificial contraceptive devices, leaving only the rhythm method acceptable for Catholics.

Cardinal O'Boyle immediately interpreted the encyclical as binding on all Catholics. This was challenged by a group of 51 priests, later reduced to 44, who contend the Pope's statement leaves it up to individual Catholics to follow as a matter of personal conscience.

Disciplinary Action

As the dissent continued the cardinal several days ago took disciplinary action against 13 priests. Action against the remaining 31 is pending.

In the 800 word letter, which was to be read "without comment or discussion," Cardinal O'Boyle told dissidents that continued disobedience of the birth control teaching might result in their being struck by a curse mentioned in the Book of Deuteronomy.

The curse mentioned in Deuteronomy 29: 18-20 says "the wrath and the jealousy of the Lord" would fall on a man who follows his conscience over divine law.

Mention of the curse immediately brought criticism from one of the 44 priests, the Rev. James P. Kennelly, who said the cardinal quoted the passage out of context.

The cardinal "is, if the words are applied literally, calling us pagans," because the quote referred to nonbelievers who rejected the God of Israel, he said.

Escapees Rob Two Ohio Men

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) —Two Mount Vernon area men were held at gunpoint Sunday, tied up and robbed by three escapees from state hospital honor farm here after the men discovered the escapees in a home north of Mount Vernon.

Donivan Switzer Jr., 25, and Richard Ziegler, 19, found the trio in Switzer's home. The escapees fled in the men's car after takinga number of guns, some ammunition and money.

Knox County deputies identified the three fugitives as Robert W. Jones, 23, Cuyahoga County; James H. Fenwick, 29, Summit County, and Ronald E. Addison, 22, Richland County. They walked away from the farm Saturday night.

Police Shoot Farm Youth During Battle

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP)—A 14-year-old farm boy was killed Sunday night as he exchanged shots with police, wounding one officer, after an hour-long auto chase in Pike and Ross counties.

The boy, Paul Prater of near Waverly, was hit by a shotgun blast as he fought off police officers at a farmhouse near here, Capt. Roger Wilson of the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

Highway patrolman Ronald Schinkle was hit in the cheekbone by a bullet from the boy's .22 caliber rifle, Wilson said. Schinkle was hospitalized in good condition, with the bullet lodged in the bone.

A Pike County deputy sheriff went to the home of Mrs. Betty Peters, Prater's mother, after the sheriff's office received a phone call from the farm home reporting the boy had fired a shot at his mother. She was not hit.

Prater left the house in an auto, chased by deputy John Smith. Other police cars joined the chase that weaved over Pike County and went briefly into Ross County before Prater's car wrecked near the home of Walter Kimbleton, Route 3, Waverly. Prater fired several shots at the police cars during the chase, Capt. Wilson said.

Prater ran to the porch of the Kimbleton home, where he made his last stand. In between shots at the police, he dared them to come and get him and said he wouldn't be taken alive, Wilson said.

Corporal Robert Dwyer of the Portsmouth highway patrol post received injuries when he ran into a barbed wire fence after Prater's car wrecked.

Wilson said one police cruiser was hit seven times by Prater's bullets. A Waverly police cruiser also was hit at least once.

Schinkle was driving the cruiser that was hit seven times, Wilson said, and apparently was shot at the scene of the final shootout.

Interviews Held In Beaver Junior Miss Competition

Forty-two girls were interviewed Sunday at Beaver by judges in the annual Beaver County Junior Miss pageant program, and 18 will receive notices later this week of their selection as semi-finalists for the Oct. 5 event.

The pageant is sponsored by the Beaver Area Jaycees. Personal interviews will be held Sept. 29, with the initial rehearsal set for Sept. 30, Raymond Kehr, chairman, said.

Among area girls competing for the $500 scholarship and other prizes are Carol Ancrile, Becky Liberatore, Patty Muslovski and Nadine Vuynovich of Midland and Diana Page of Western Beaver area.

Soviets Find Battered Ship

MOSCOW (AP) — William Willis, the 75-year-old American who floated across the Pacific Ocean alone on a raft four years ago, is believed lost on his third attempt to cross the Atlantic.

A Soviet fishery ship came upon a de-masted, deserted sailboat on which Willis' passport, medical card, other documents and a diary were found, Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported Sunday.

The boat was found in the Atlantic about 400 miles east of Ireland by a fisheries ship from the Latvian town of Leipaja. Tass said it was hoisted aboard the Soviet ship after a futile search for Willis. But the report did not indicate where the boat and the papers would be taken.

Tass said the passport was numbered 22757 and had been issued in New York City on March 18, 1968. It gave Willis' birth place, Germany, and his date of birth, Aug. 19, 1893.

The diary indicated Willis had set out on a round-the-world voyage alone May 3, 1968. Tass said the last entry in the diary was July 18.

In New York, Willis's wife said, "I still have hopes until the Coast Guard lets me know officially."

The Coast Guard in New York said it had not been informed by the Russians. It added it was difficult to check the passport number given by Tass since it contained five instead of the usual six digits and did not have a letter preceding it.

Ohio Democrats Set Two Changes In New Platform

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democrats campaigning for state office this year will be expected to follow a platform which includes repeal of the Ferguson Act and a call for a lower voting age.

The platform, adopted Saturday near the end of the party's state convention here, also calls for a stronger state Civil Rights Commission, penal reform and a grand jury investigation of the recent Ohio Penitentiary riots and legislation giving all Ohio workers the right to join labor organizations.

The only change in the proposed platform specifically named migrant workers among those it said should have the right of collective bargaining.

Other major points in the platform:

—Higher standards, pay and training for all law officers.

—Open meetings for all public bodies except those specifically exempted by law.

—Up to 50 per cent of state aid to local school districts.

—A voting age of 18 and voter residence requirements of six months instead of one year.

—Correction of "inequities in the present tax structure of our state."

—A stronger department of insurance and increased protection for policyholders from "arbitrary cancellations and rate increases."

—Encouraging business to locate in depressed areas.

—Improved salaries for all persons working in mental health.

Piano Numbers Given During Club Meeting

Piano selections were presented by Mrs. Anna Curry during the meeting of the Golden Age Club of the Chester Area Friday afternoon in the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Devotions were conducted by Lester Lutton, president, and a reading was given by Mrs. Nina Anderson.

Mrs. Anna Newman received the corsage.

Refreshments were served 39 by Mrs. Ruth Chapman, Mrs. Susan Huff and Mrs. Hazel Kidder.

The next meeting will be Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the church.

Bids Planned For New Link Of Lake Road

The Ohio Highway Department said today it will open bids Oct. 15 at 10 a. m. in Columbus on construction of another district link of State Route 11 — the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway.

The work will extend through Fairfield Township in Columbiana County and Beaver Township in adjoining Mahoning County. The project length is 4.9 miles.

The work will entail construction of a series of bridges over Beaver Creek and railroad property and other spans to carry secondary roads over the Freeway. State Route 344, Route 14-A, Garfield Rd. and Renkenberger Rd. will span the highway on bridges, the bid proposal said.

It's part of a series of projects stretching 93 miles the Ohio eventually will connect the Ohio River at East Liverpool with Lake Erie at Ashtabula. The overall cost of the lake-river road has been estimated at $82 million.

The highway department said it also will open bids Oct. 15 on blacktop resurfacing of a 7.3 mile stretch on Route 30 in West and Hanover Townships.

Added Cuts Proposed In Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $71.9 billion defense-spending bill, already trimmed $5 billion below President Johnson's requests, is facing attempts for even more cuts in the Senate.

New cuts were proposed in a series of amendments, before the Senate for action today, offered by Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., who argues that domestic programs have suffered because the Defense Department gets too big a share of the budget.

About a third of the appropriation is earmarked for Vietnam.

Efforts to cut the defense appropriation below committee recommendations have failed in the past. Key members of the military appropriations subcommittee argue further reductions could jeopardize national security.

Johnson asked for $77.1 billion, the House approved $72.2 billion and the Senate Appropriations Committee cut nearly $353 million more.

Differences between the Senate and House versions will be resolved in conference.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to election day. East Liverpool is the only community in Columbiana County where voter registration is required.

Registration Ends Sept. 25

LBJ Confers With Mahon At His Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson met Sunday with Rep. George Mahon, chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, on the eve of final congressional action on several key money bills.

Mahon, a Texas Democrat, was not an announced ranch visitor, but he showed up in the President's church-going party on Sunday.

His visit came at a time when Congress is winding up action on defense and foreign aid spending, with Johnson's appropriation requests facing cuts of some $12 billion.

Presidential press spokesmen confirmed Mahon's presence at the ranch over the weekend as "a personal guest", but had nothing to report on what was discussed.

However, with the money bills at the crucial turn and Johnson facing up to making Congress-imposed spending cuts, Mahon's presence seemed to be a bit more than coincidental.

LBJ Remains In Texas

The President, meanwhile, decided to continue his Texas ranch stay at least into today, with indications that he may remain even a day or two more.

Joined by his wife, Lady Bird; daughter, Mrs. Patrick Nugent, and 15-month-old grandson, Lyn, the President was enjoying warm, sunny weather and touring the countryside.

He stepped up his church-going Sunday, taking in Roman Catholic and Lutheran services near his ranch and attending the dedication of a new parish house for his friend, the Rev. Wunibald Schneider, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church in neighboring Stonewall.

Viet Policy Approved

At the parsonage dedication, 77-year-old Archbishop Robert Lucey of San Antonio gave strong endorsement of the President's Vietnam policy, with Johnson standing on the steps behind him and grandson Lyn occasionally tugging at the priest's knee.

The archbishop told the crowd of about 200 that the purpose of the Vietnam war was "to teach unjust aggressors that unjust aggression does not pay."

In this, he said, Johnson followed a papal peace program enunciated in 1917, which stated "when unjust aggression begins in this world of ours, the peace-loving nations must do something about it."

Britain built up the largest empire in history.

'Treats' Are Served At Veterans Hospital

Volunteers from the East Liverpool Area chapter of the Red Cross served cookies, coffee and punch to 450 Sunday at the Veterans Hospital near Pittsburgh.

The cookies were made and donated by the Second Church of Christ, the Calcutta Firemen's Auxiliary, the Ladies Aid Society of Longs Run United Presbyterian Church, Red Cross volunteers and others. Lap robes for wheelchairs were donated by the Second Church of Christ.

Serving the refreshments were Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, Mrs. Byron Dray, Miss Lena Palmissano, Mrs. Nellie McLain, Mrs. Collin Davis, Miss Phyllis Crook, Mrs. Kenneth Myers, Miss Olive Smith, Mrs. Howard Ludwig, Mrs. Leonard Cole, Mrs. Joe Mercer and William McNichol.

HHH Heckled During Tour Across Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey's first Ohio trip of the presidential campaign, winding up here today, was marred by hecklers and an act of violence amid the cheers.

The Demorcatic candidate dealt with hecklers in Cleveland Sunday by urging his supporters in the audience to laugh at those trying to disrupt his speech.

At the Cuyahoga County Democratic Steer Roast, a group of demonstrators chanted, "Dump the Hump" and "Peace, Now."

Humphrey countered, "Did you ever hear such nonsense? Let's laugh back at them." Then he added, "Some people just make damn fools of themselves."

Before Humphrey went on the platform at the steer roast at Euclid Beach Park, William McWilliam, 41, of Cleveland was stabbed, reportedly when he went to the aid of a policeman who was in a fight with two Negroes. Several other fights were broken up by police.

McWilliam, an attorney for the Federal Aviation Administration, was later reported in serious condition at Euclid General Hospital. He was stabbed in the back.

A 22-year-old Negro was arrested in the incident.

In his speech to several thousand at the steer roast, Humphrey labeled the Eisenhower-Nixon administration of 1953-60 as "eight years of fitful sleep—the great GOP slumber."

"You can tell your grandchildren that you were there when America awoke," he said.

Later, in a television interview in Cleveland, Humphrey criticized third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace with some of his strongest words to date, calling the former Alabama governor "a racist."

Humphrey went to Cleveland from Columbus, where he addressed a fund-raising dinner held Saturday night in connection with the State Democratic Convention.

The vice president was met at the Cleveland airport by Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who rode with Humphrey in a motorcade to downtown, where a crowd of anti-Humphrey demonstrators was waiting.

U. S. Senate candidate John J. Gilligan was with Humphrey for most of the Ohio campaign trip, and was praised several times by Humphrey.

In his Columbus speech Saturday night, Humphrey pledged "to do everything in my power" to end the Vietnam war.

2 Airliners Hijacked To Cuba Sunday

HAVANA (AP) — Two Colombian airliners that took off two hours apart from the same airport in Colombia were hijacked Sunday and flown to Cuba with 130 persons aboard.

A Boeing 727 jet with 72 passengers and a crew of six landed in Camaguey, 300 miles southeast of Havana, shortly after noon. No one was injured and the plane was released Sunday night and returned to Barranquilla, Colombia.

The other plane, a DC4 with 57 passengers and a crew of four, landed in Santiago de Cuba. The Swiss Embassy, which handles Colombian affairs in Cuba, said all aboard were safe and the plane and those aboard would return to Colombia today.

Cuban officials would not say, and Colombian officials had not determined yet if the twin hijackings were coincidental or part of a plot. Both hijackers apparently were Colombians, and both presumably were given asylum in Cuba.

Colombian Defense Minister Gerardo Ayerbe Chaux said he believed the double piracy was a Castroite plot directed from Havana. He said it seemed improbable that the two incidents could have been a coincidence. But the pilot of the jetliner said he thought his hijacker might have been a smuggler in trouble with the government, which is cracking down on illegal imports.

The planes, both owned by Avianca Airlines, had taken off from Parranquilla, the country's main port on the Caribbean, for hops to other towns in Colombia.

Capt. Alfonso Lopez of the 727 jet said a short man in his 30s, armed with a knife and grenade, entered the cabin of his plane and "said we had to go to Cuba." The airline said all the passengers were Colombians except Roy Haag and Peter Vuska, whose nationality was not known.

The DC4 took off from Barranquilla two hours and 11 minutes after the jet. Its pilot, Alfredo Crisman, said a youth of 18 or 20 knocked on the door to the cockpit, entered holding a pistol and spoke just one word —"Cuba." The airline said all the passengers on that plane were Colombians except Marty Bowman, whose nationality also could not be learned immediately.

On Friday, an Eastern Air Lines jet bound from San Juan to Miami was diverted to Cuba. The plane's 40 passengers were flown to Miami Saturday.

Pacifist Sees End To War In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The man who heads U.S. participation in the pacification program in South Vietnam said today he sees "growing hope for an end to this war—perhaps sooner than many dare to think."

Robert W. Komer, the boss of all U.S. efforts to swing the allegiance of the South Vietnamese people to the Saigon government, told the Saigon Lions Club that most indications are "that a viable and independent South Vietnam is emerging from the crucible of strife."

The Communist offensives in February, May and June had a major psychological effect both in Vietnam and in the United States, Komer said. But he said enemy losses were greater.

Komer said Hanoi hoped for the collapse of the Saigon government, but "they instead provided it with a challenge it rose to meet." Today, Komer said, the Saigon regime "is stronger and more stable than in years, while the Viet Cong are kept propped up only by a massive infusion of regular North Vietnamese troops."

Komer said Hanoi had hoped to spark a general antigovernment uprising but "instead created greater hatred of their terror tactics."

Bids Planned For New Link Of Lake Road

The Ohio Highway Department said today it will open bids Oct. 15 at 10 a. m. in Columbus on construction of another district link of State Route 11 — the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway.

The work will extend through Fairfield Township in Columbiana County and Beaver Township in adjoining Mahoning County. The project length is 4.9 miles.

The work will entail construction of a series of bridges over Beaver Creek and railroad property and other spans to carry secondary roads over the Freeway. State Route 344, Route 14-A, Garfield Rd. and Renkenberger Rd. will span the highway on bridges, the bid proposal said.

It's part of a series of projects stretching 93 miles the Ohio eventually will connect the Ohio River at East Liverpool with Lake Erie at Ashtabula. The overall cost of the lake-river road has been estimated at $82 million.

The highway department said it also will open bids Oct. 15 on blacktop resurfacing of a 7.3 mile stretch on Route 30 in West and Hanover Townships.

Added Cuts Proposed In Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $71.9 billion defense-spending bill, already trimmed $5 billion below President Johnson's requests, is facing attempts for even more cuts in the Senate.

New cuts were proposed in a series of amendments, before the Senate for action today, offered by Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., who argues that domestic programs have suffered because the Defense Department gets too big a share of the budget.

About a third of the appropriation is earmarked for Vietnam.

Efforts to cut the defense appropriation below committee recommendations have failed in the past. Key members of the military appropriations subcommittee argue further reductions could jeopardize national security.

Johnson asked for $77.1 billion, the House approved $72.2 billion and the Senate Appropriations Committee cut nearly $353 million more.

Differences between the Senate and House versions will be resolved in conference.

ANN LANDERS

Dad's Stroke Kills Mom

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: May I say a word to N. Y. Dilemma, the woman whose husband suffered "a small stroke" and now demands all her time and attention?

It happened to my father, or I should say to my mother. Although it was Father who had the "small stroke," it was Mother who died from it.

For 14 years Mother waited or him hand and foot — "get me this . . . bring me that . . . I'm ready for my bath now . . . I'd like some hot tea." Mother pushed him around the house in a converted kitchen chair because he hated the idea of being in a wheel chair.

The first year Mother lost 15 pounds (Which Father gained). She left the house only to bring in groceries or to do Father's errands. Her social life was zero. She dropped out of the bridge club, the church circle — everything. She couldn't even have visitors to the house because Father was always needing something.

Mother died last year — a blessed and welcome release from her slavery. Father is still alive — in a convalescent home. If I knew 15 years ago what I know now, I'd have insisted that Mther get a "sitter" for Father two afternoons a week and an evening or two as well. His stroke was slow death for her. — BITTER.

Dear Bitter: The "slow death" you described was more than just exploitation by a sick and selfish person. It would not have occurred had your mother not been a martyr type who was willing to allow it.

University Head Attacks Defiance On Ohio Campus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "We will not tolerate defiance . . . We will not be thrown into a panic by totally false accusations of discriminations," Ohio State University President Novice G. Fawcett said today.

"We will not be stampeded into unconsidered action by the noisy few . . . who propose to seek perfection, not by working toward it, but by snarling and sneering at those who do work toward that elusive goal," said Fawcett in a speech prepared for delivery to incoming freshmen.

He told the newcomers that, "We will not willingly serve as a soapbox upon which exhibitionists may pose in order to direct attention to their ludicrous, and often revolting self-expression."

Fawcett stressed the importance of communication between the university and its students: "You must get through to us, and we to you . . . now."

2 Women Arrested In Topless Bikinis

TUJUNGA, Calif. (AP) — Two young women clad only in bikini bottoms were arrested as they swept the driveway in front of a house Sunday.

Police booked Gayle Ann Bell, 21, who lives there, and Carole Corene Rose, 24, on suspicion of indecent exposure. The two are topless waitresses.

"Our boss told us it's legal," one of them told police.

Czechoslovaks' Outlook Bleaker

Russians Angry, Czech Housecleaning Too Slow

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Clearly the housecleaning in Czechoslovakia is not moving fast enough to suit Moscow. The Russians are getting angrier every day.

For Czechoslovaks, the outlook is getting bleaker. They are receiving bad news in installments, but by now there is little doubt that much, if not practically all, of what began in January in the liberalization movement must be reversed.

Even so, policy reversal falls short of Moscow demands. Part of the price for pulling out occupation troops is elimination from any positions of authority of all those Moscow chooses to regard as "anti-Soviet."

It is a month since Czechoslovakia was occupied, and the Moscow press still is full of complaints. As the Soviet news agency Tass put it: "Forces hostile to socialism are today still using mass media to whip up anti-Socialist, anti-Soviet sentiments." It demanded that such forces be halted by "political isolation."

The pressure on Czechoslovak leaders is bringing results. A short time ago, Alexander Dubcek, the party chief and symbol of the reform movement, spoke of "negative phenomena" in that movement and deplored the idea that "anti-Socialist forces or their remnants can harm our development and the fulfillment of the Moscow agreement." His remarks were transmitted by Moscow radio.

Even more to the point were the words this week of Gustav Husak, chief of the party in Slovakia and considered a man to watch as a contender for Dubcek's position.

Tass carried a long abstract of a Husak speech Sept. 17 in Slovakia, with little in it for the Russians to quarrel with.

"It is now usually said that we will continue our post-January policy," said Husak, "but I am afraid everybody is imagining something different by this."

He then denounced the activities of the Czechoslovak press and broadcasting after January, saying "no state is indifferent" to such things.

Do the Czechoslovaks want the Russian troops to leave?

"The strengthening of the forces of socialism and the elimination of the possibility for anti-Socialist, anti-Soviet forces to act are a prerequisite for a rapid withdrawal of the troops," said Husak. "This is how matters stand."

The message is blunt enough. All voices which can be considered either anti-Socialist or anti-Soviet must be stilled, and the Russians will be the judges. If the present regime cannot or will not do it, the Russians probably can find others who will.

Trial Ordered In Moore Suit

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — A suit involving Republican gubernatorial candidate Arch Moore will go to trial in Marshall Common Pleas Court.

Judge Richard A. Warmuth ruled Saturday against a motion to dismiss the suit.

The court litigation was begun by Moundsville attorney Dona A. Barr on behalf of William F. Wells, an incompetent.

The suit alleges that Moore paid $8,313 for a third interest owned by Wells in a piece of land also owned by Wells' brother and sister, James P. Wells and Catherine Wells.

The suit further states that Moore paid a total of $30,655 for the other two-thirds interest, nearly four times the amount paid William F. Wells for his share.

The suit says that Moore later sold the entire tract to the Mobay Chemical Co., which is also a defendant in the proceedings.

Dad's Stroke Kills Mom

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: May I say a word to N. Y. Dilemma, the woman whose husband suffered "a small stroke" and now demands all her time and attention?

It happened to my father, or I should say to my mother. Although it was Father who had the "small stroke," it was Mother who died from it.

For 14 years Mother waited or him hand and foot — "get me this . . . bring me that . . . I'm ready for my bath now . . . I'd like some hot tea." Mother pushed him around the house in a converted kitchen chair because he hated the idea of being in a wheel chair.

The first year Mother lost 15 pounds (Which Father gained). She left the house only to bring in groceries or to do Father's errands. Her social life was zero. She dropped out of the bridge club, the church circle — everything. She couldn't even have visitors to the house because Father was always needing something.

Stapler Is Work Saver

One of the great worksavers is the stapler.

This super - tool is like a hammer that supplies its own nail, holds it in place for you and drives it.

For mammoth nailing jobs, a stapler can cut down the required time to just a fraction of that which would be needed with a regular hammer.

Consider using a stapler for such jobs as fastening roofing, putting up ceiling tile. If you think you might have no further use for a stapler other than the one job, then rent one.

THE STAPLES may look small but they have amazing holding power. Don't forget that there are two points, not one, being driven in. The broad, flat head adds to their holding power and, in the case of materials that tear easily, nothing will do so well.

Not all staplers are the same. There are three basic stapling tools. Pick the one that suits you best.

The staple gun is the one most used around the shop. Squeeze the handle and you compress a spring that trips the staple free and drives it at the same time.

It's a handy tool to use, easy to handle, accurate and powerful. Some are adjustable for different jobs, which is a handy feature. Though designed for one-hand operation you can put a little extra zip into the gun by pressing the palm of your hand against the back of the gun when using it. There is a certain amount of kick-back with a staple gun and this will minimize it.

THE PLIER stapler is a little like the office and home stapler that has been around for years. For shop use they've made them sturdier and more powerful. This type of stapler has jaws with the work going in between, good for fastening thin materials together.

Instead of the staple going straight in, it is crimped on the other side of the material. Again, because of a powerful spring, a light squeeze is converted into greater force. Because it drives a closed staple, it is not good for nailing jobs.

The hammer stapler is great for fast tacking jobs and it works just the way its name implies.

You swing it like a hammer and when it meets a surface it triggers a staple and the weight of the head at the same time. This is less accurate than the gun but it is faster because you can operate it as fast as you can swing it. Use it on big jobs —insulation, roll roofing and the like.

PRICES for staplers vary greatly. In recent years there have been cheap ones put on the market but their use is limited. They look like the real thing but power, capacity and versatility are limited.

Get a tool that will handle a variety of sizes of staples. One size staple will not do for all. The tool should take plenty of staples at a single loading. It should have the power to drive the staple in flush with the surface of the work.

Get a stapler that is not limited to one manufacturer's staples. There are a great many staples on the market and at one time or another you may want to try them all.

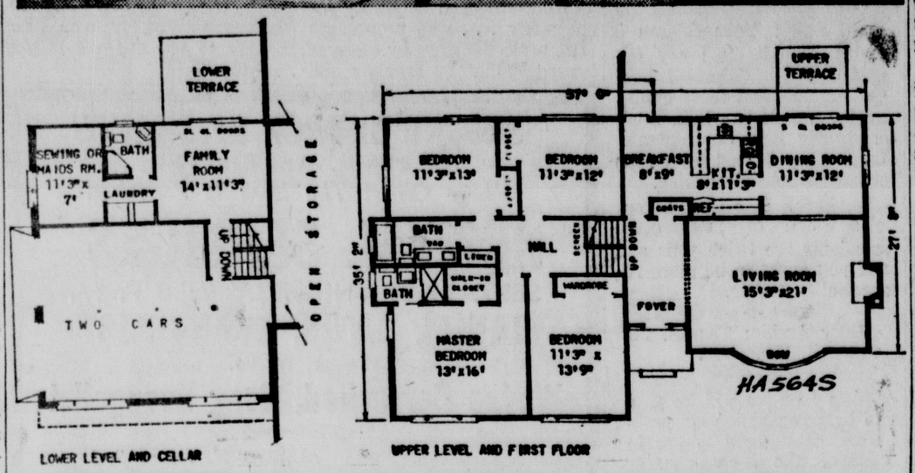

Air Traffic Delayed By Rambling Moose

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — A moose tied up air traffic Sunday at Waterville Airport, which serves a city of 20,000 in central Maine.

Airport officials said the female moose ambled onto the runway and sat down, delaying landings and takeoffs until she meandered into nearby woods.

A plane circled the airport waiting for the moose to leave, but finally landed at the other end of the 5,000 foot-long runway.

THIS ATTRACTIVE split-level house has the living areas on the main level, four big bedrooms and two baths on the upper level and the option of an extra bedroom and bath, plus a family room, on the lower level along with a two-car garage. Basement and storage space are under the living level. Area for living and bedroom levels is 1,685 square feet. Enamel Is On The Move

Once king in the nursery and kitchen, enamel is moving out into the sophisticated world of contemporary living.

Gaily - enameled dining room chairs and tables, colorful couches and cabinets are no longer relegated to back rooms but are coming out into the open. Why? Because enamel is a quick and easy way to give furniture a dramatic, different appearance.

Or to revive the appeal of an old piece of furniture. Or to inject a splash of color into a room. And enamel is colorful —available in a wide range of colors — from avacado to zippy oranges and light - hearted yellows.

IN ADDITION to being colorful, enamel covers surface marks and scars. And its colorfast and durable. So an enamel finish is care-free; no worries about damage from spills or dirt. Just whisk stains away with a damp cloth.

The uses for enamel paints are infinite. Everything from umbrella stands and mirror frames to end tables and chairs will be enhanced with enamel. Even old pieces retrieved from the attic take on new usefulness with a colorful enamel finish.

As always, your paint project will be the best possible if you prepare the furniture properly. When working with wood, make sure that the surface is clean. Use odorless paint thinner to remove oil, wax or polish. Then sand lightly to dull the gloss and improve the adhesion between the old finish and the enamel.

Wood furniture that is in poor condition should be stripped down to the bare wood. Use a good paint remover and follow the directions carefully. Fill any cracks or holes with plastic wood or water putty and let it dry thoroughly. Finally, sand as smooth as possible and apply an enamel undercoat. If you apply a second undercoat, sand lightly between coats.

EVEN factory - sanded unfinished furniture should be sanded lightly before the enamel undercoat is applied. Be sure that there are no stray fingermarks or dirt on the surface of the piece before the undercoat is applied. again, if a second undercoat is applied, sand lightly between the coats to improve the bonding.

When renewing wrought iron,, aluminum or other metal furniture, clean thoroughly and sand away all traces of rust. Prime the bare spots with a rust inhibiting metal primer such as one containing zinc Chromate. When this is dry, apply the enamel.

The final step is a bright new finish is the proper application of the enamel. Load the brush generously. Flow the enamel onto the surface in long, smooth strokes with the grain of the wood. Don't re-load the brush. Cross-stroke. Then with the nearly dry brush, go over the surface with the grain, once again using long, smooth strokes. You will get an even coverage and eliminate any excess which might cause runs.

Caulking Gun Can Seal Gaps In Door, Window

Newspaper Enterprises Assn.

Anyone finding a broken window pane or a hole in the wall would repair it quickly enough.

You may have enough open joints and cracks in your home right now that equal the area of a missing pane of glass or a hole in the siding.

The joints around door and window frames alone might equal an opening even larger than the ones mentioned.

—:—

THE BEST and easiest way to seal those joints is with caulking compound. Use a good quality compound, one that will not run because it is too liquidy and yet is pliable enough to fill joints no matter how irregular.

Caulking is a putty - like material. When dry it has a plastic consistency. This is why it can expand and contract without cracking.

Properly applied, it will prevent moisture from creeping in, block drafts and hold down fuel bills.

The easiest way to apply caulking compound is with a caulking gun. The gun has a barrel that is loaded with caulking. Pressure on the trigger pushes the caulking out through a tip or nozzle that allows it to flow in a bead of the proper size and shape.

WHILE YOU can buy bulk caulking to load in a caulking gun, even this slight chore has been made easier. Caulking is available in cartridges.

The cartridge provides its own barrel and nozzle all loaded with caulking and ready to go. With a cartridge, you can use a simpler and cheaper gun. Instead of a full barrel the gun just provides a frame to hold the cartridge, plus a trigger and plunger mechanism.

When the cartridge is empty just throw it away. There is no cleaning up to do.

For smaller jobs you can also obtain caulking in tubes which you squeeze like toothpaste.

Caulking is generally available in white or gray. There also is a black caulking for sealing cracks on or around roofs.

—:—

CAULKING can be done almost any time, except when the temperature drops below 40 degrees. Though you can caulk either before or after painting, it is preferable to do so before painting. This way you can paint it and the caulking won't show.

Do not, however, attempt to paint over black caulking. This contains asphalt and it will bleed through the paint.

Keep a steady pressure on the trigger. At the same time, move the gun along at a slow and even pace. The even pressure will assure a neat job without gaps and without piling up of the caulking.

If old caulking is present and in bad condition, scrape it out before applying the new. Clean up particles with a wire brush. And if you want to do a thorough job, wash the area with turpentine.

Proper Polisher Will Bring Real Shine To Floors

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Every careful housewife knows that well - kept floors are not to be had without quite an amount of effort.

Hand polishing is hard work and the small, light polishers do not have the weight and power to give a floor the high luster that means lasting and easy-to-maintain surfaces.

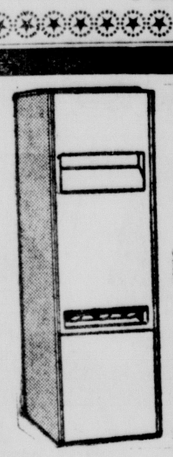

The real answer to the problem is to rent a professional polisher every month or so, and then between times resort to the smaller type or to the hand type.

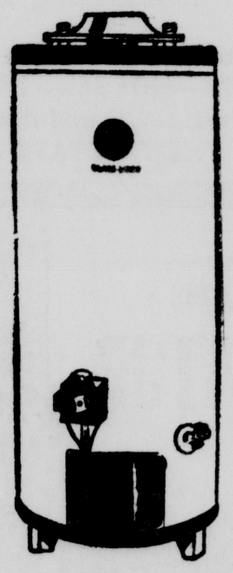

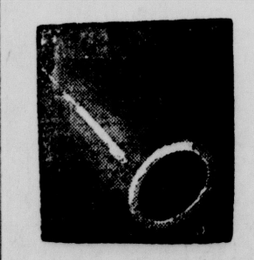

Wood floors, which constitute about 80 per cent of the floor surfaces in this country, are not hard to keep in prime shape. The first step is a good cleaning without soaking the floor with water, and then a thorough drying. After this, a good paste wax should be applied, but not too heavily. This should be buffed with a heavy machine so that the wax is practically whipped into the wood. A second and thinner coat should follow.

One of the best things about doing this kind of a professional job is that the floor can be gone over lightly for quite a length of time without applying any further wax, and the floor will return to the original high gloss.

The Duchess of Windsor enjoyed the longest reign as "best dressed woman," from 1938 to 1953.

For mammoth nailing jobs, a stapler can cut down the required time to just a fraction of that which would be needed with a regular hammer.

Consider using a stapler for such jobs as fastening roofing, putting up ceiling tile. If you think you might have no further use for a stapler other than the one job, then rent one.

THE STAPLES may look small but they have amazing holding power. Don't forget that there are two points, not one, being driven in. The broad, flat head adds to their holding power and, in the case of materials that tear easily, nothing will do so well.

Not all staplers are the same. There are three basic stapling tools. Pick the one that suits you best.

The staple gun is the one most used around the shop. Squeeze the handle and you compress a spring that trips the staple free and drives it at the same time.

It's a handy tool to use, easy to handle, accurate and powerful. Some are adjustable for different jobs, which is a handy feature. Though designed for one-hand operation you can put a little extra zip into the gun by pressing the palm of your hand against the back of the gun when using it. There is a certain amount of kick-back with a staple gun and this will minimize it.

THE PLIER stapler is a little like the office and home stapler that has been around for years. For shop use they've made them sturdier and more powerful. This type of stapler has jaws with the work going in between, good for fastening thin materials together.

Instead of the staple going straight in, it is crimped on the other side of the material. Again, because of a powerful spring, a light squeeze is converted into greater force. Because it drives a closed staple, it is not good for nailing jobs.

The hammer stapler is great for fast tacking jobs and it works just the way its name implies.

You swing it like a hammer and when it meets a surface it triggers a staple and the weight of the head at the same time. This is less accurate than the gun but it is faster because you can operate it as fast as you can swing it. Use it on big jobs —insulation, roll roofing and the like.

PRICES for staplers vary greatly. In recent years there have been cheap ones put on the market but their use is limited. They look like the real thing but power, capacity and versatility are limited.

Get a tool that will handle a variety of sizes of staples. One size staple will not do for all. The tool should take plenty of staples at a single loading. It should have the power to drive the staple in flush with the surface of the work.

Get a stapler that is not limited to one manufacturer's staples. There are a great many staples on the market and at one time or another you may want to try them all.

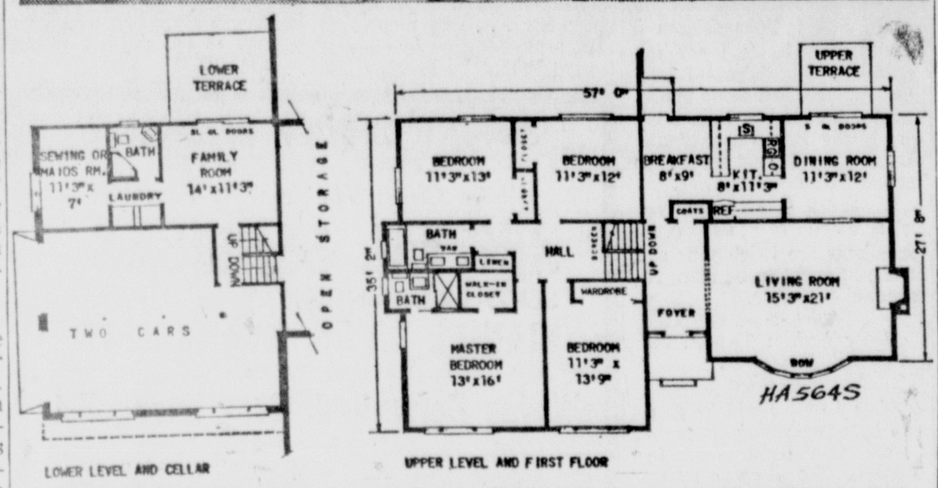

Air Traffic Delayed By Rambling Moose

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — A moose tied up air traffic Sunday at Waterville Airport, which serves a city of 20,000 in central Maine.

Airport officials said the female moose ambled onto the runway and sat down, delaying landings and takeoffs until she meandered into nearby woods.

A plane circled the airport waiting for the moose to leave, but finally landed at the other end of the 5,000 foot-long runway.

Enamel Is On The Move

Once king in the nursery and kitchen, enamel is moving out into the sophisticated world of contemporary living.

Gaily - enameled dining room chairs and tables, colorful couches and cabinets are no longer relegated to back rooms but are coming out into the open. Why? Because enamel is a quick and easy way to give furniture a dramatic, different appearance.

Or to revive the appeal of an old piece of furniture. Or to inject a splash of color into a room. And enamel is colorful —available in a wide range of colors — from avacado to zippy oranges and light - hearted yellows.

IN ADDITION to being colorful, enamel covers surface marks and scars. And its colorfast and durable. So an enamel finish is care-free; no worries about damage from spills or dirt. Just whisk stains away with a damp cloth.

The uses for enamel paints are infinite. Everything from umbrella stands and mirror frames to end tables and chairs will be enhanced with enamel. Even old pieces retrieved from the attic take on new usefulness with a colorful enamel finish.

As always, your paint project will be the best possible if you prepare the furniture properly. When working with wood, make sure that the surface is clean. Use odorless paint thinner to remove oil, wax or polish. Then sand lightly to dull the gloss and improve the adhesion between the old finish and the enamel.

Wood furniture that is in poor condition should be stripped down to the bare wood. Use a good paint remover and follow the directions carefully. Fill any cracks or holes with plastic wood or water putty and let it dry thoroughly. Finally, sand as smooth as possible and apply an enamel undercoat. If you apply a second undercoat, sand lightly between coats.

EVEN factory - sanded unfinished furniture should be sanded lightly before the enamel undercoat is applied. Be sure that there are no stray fingermarks or dirt on the surface of the piece before the undercoat is applied. again, if a second undercoat is applied, sand lightly between the coats to improve the bonding.

When renewing wrought iron, aluminum or other metal furniture, clean thoroughly and sand away all traces of rust. Prime the bare spots with a rust inhibiting metal primer such as one containing zinc Chromate. When this is dry, apply the enamel.

The final step is a bright new finish is the proper application of the enamel. Load the brush generously. Flow the enamel onto the surface in long, smooth strokes with the grain of the wood. Don't re-load the brush. Cross-stroke. Then with the nearly dry brush, go over the surface with the grain, once again using long, smooth strokes. You will get an even coverage and eliminate any excess which might cause runs.

Caulking Gun Can Seal Gaps In Door, Window

Newspaper Enterprises Assn.

Anyone finding a broken window pane or a hole in the wall would repair it quickly enough.

You may have enough open joints and cracks in your home right now that equal the area of a missing pane of glass or a hole in the siding.

The joints around door and window frames alone might equal an opening even larger than the ones mentioned.

THE BEST and easiest way to seal those joints is with caulking compound. Use a good quality compound, one that will not run because it is too liquidy and yet is pliable enough to fill joints no matter how irregular.

Caulking is a putty - like material. When dry it has a plastic consistency. This is why it can expand and contract without cracking.

Properly applied, it will prevent moisture from creeping in, block drafts and hold down fuel bills.

The easiest way to apply caulking compound is with a caulking gun. The gun has a barrel that is loaded with caulking. Pressure on the trigger pushes the caulking out through a tip or nozzle that allows it to flow in a bead of the proper size and shape.

WHILE YOU can buy bulk caulking to load in a caulking gun, even this slight chore has been made easier. Caulking is available in cartridges.

The cartridge provides its own barrel and nozzle all loaded with caulking and ready to go. With a cartridge, you can use a simpler and cheaper gun. Instead of a full barrel the gun just provides a frame to hold the cartridge, plus a trigger and plunger mechanism.

When the cartridge is empty just throw it away. There is no cleaning up to do.

For smaller jobs you can also obtain caulking in tubes which you squeeze like toothpaste.

Caulking is generally available in white or gray. There also is a black caulking for sealing cracks on or around roofs.

CAULKING can be done almost any time, except when the temperature drops below 40 degrees. Though you can caulk either before or after painting, it is preferable to do so before painting. This way you can paint it and the caulking won't show.

Do not, however, attempt to paint over black caulking. This contains asphalt and it will bleed through the paint.

Keep a steady pressure on the trigger. At the same time, move the gun along at a slow and even pace. The even pressure will assure a neat job without gaps and without piling up of the caulking.

If old caulking is present and in bad condition, scrape it out before applying the new. Clean up particles with a wire brush. And if you want to do a thorough job, wash the area with turpentine.

Proper Polisher Will Bring Real Shine To Floors

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Every careful housewife knows that well - kept floors are not to be had without quite an amount of effort.

Hand polishing is hard work and the small, light polishers do not have the weight and power to give a floor the high luster that means lasting and easy-to-maintain surfaces.

The real answer to the problem is to rent a professional polisher every month or so, and then between times resort to the smaller type or to the hand type.

Wood floors, which constitute about 80 per cent of the floor surfaces in this country, are not hard to keep in prime shape. The first step is a good cleaning without soaking the floor with water, and then a thorough drying. After this, a good paste wax should be applied, but not too heavily. This should be buffed with a heavy machine so that the wax is practically whipped into the wood. A second and thinner coat should follow.

One of the best things about doing this kind of a professional job is that the floor can be gone over lightly for quite a length of time without applying any further wax, and the floor will return to the original high gloss.

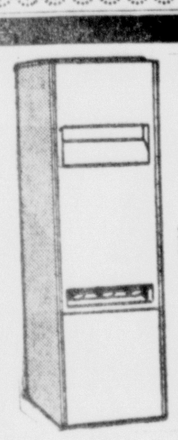

The Duchess of Windsor enjoyed the longest reign as "best dressed woman," from 1938 to 1953.

Beavers Hold Springfield To Minus Yards, Win First

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Dennis Klembara, Beaver Local product, continues to shine as the top signal-caller for Youngstown University's football team.

Klembara threw two touchdown passes Saturday, though the Penguins fell 24-20 at Central Michigan. Overall the freshman quarterback hit on 16 of 33 passes for 138 yards and rushed for 64 yards in 15 attempts.

THE LOS ANGELES news media were unimpressed by Pitt and the Steelers before the two teams took the field over the weekend, and were probably more impressed after the games were over, as Pitt was slaughtered by UCLA 63-7 and the Steelers were dumped 45-10 by the Rams. If the squads had changed place, Pittsburgh would have had one victory to show for the weekend. Maybe.

WHILE PITT and the Steelers were getting clobbered, the Pirates have quickly won seven of their last eight games to move into the first division. Third place is in reach for the Bucs if they can handle Cincinnati and Chicago the final week.

IN CASE you missed it, Wintersville extended its long unbeaten string by downing Steubenville Central 28-14 Saturday night. Niles kept its nine-year home unbeaten string alive with a 16-0 win over Canton McKinley. Warren Western Reserve bopped tough Cuyahoga Falls 36-10 Friday night and Alliance blanked Akron Buchtel 20-0. Boardman won its first of the year, 28-24 over Campbell.

Archbishop Carroll of Washington was scouting East Liverpool Friday night. Carroll tied its opener, 7-7, with Washington and Lee of Arlington, Va., and played its second game yesterday.

JOHN ANGELLONE of Midland, sophomore at Steubenville College, is on the baseball team there. The Barons are playing a fall as well as a spring schedule and open at home with Duquesne today.

FRESHMEN ENDS Jim Taucher and Kip Reeves of East Palestine are the only Columbiana County players on the 1968 Mt. Union College football team.

Gary Stenlund, an Ohio U. grad and an assistant track coach at the school, qualified for the U.S. Olympic team last week in the javelin. Stenlund threw 254-9, third behind Mark Murro and Frank Covelli. Stenlund was the only Ohio athlete to gain a place on the men's track and field team. California had 24 of the 67 qualifiers.

Center Falls 19-7

W. Beaver Wins First, Petchel Brothers Star

Western Beaver won its first game of the season after two losses Saturday night, downing Center Twp. 19-7 at Midland Stadium.

The win was the first under new coach Mike Hornick. Western trailed 7-6 at halftime, but on the first play from scrimmage in the second half John Petchel ran 61 yards to put the Golden Beavers up 12-7. Western got the ball on their 39 after a poor kickoff that went out of bounds there.

Western also had a spectacular play the first play of the game, a triple-reverse pass from Petchel to brother Bob Petchel that carried 48 yards to the 18. John Tenerelli capped the drive with a three-yard scoring run.

Center took the ensuing kickoff and came right back, marching along the ground. Bob Zupsic scored on a 12-yard run and then ran for the extra point to put the Trojans ahead.

John Petchel scored an insurance touchdown in the third period, with Stephen Elko converting. Petchel, playing quarterback in the first half and halfback in the second, was the leading rusher for the Golden Beavers, gaining 78 yards.

Rams Hit Scoreboard, Drop Third Straight

South Side Beaver dropped its third straight football game of the season, 27-7 at Edgewood Saturday morning, but the Rams got on the scoreboard for the first time this year.

Bruce Potts scored on a two-yard run and Chuck Gillespie converted in the last period. Potts led Ram ball carries with 78 yards.

Edgewood jumped off to a 14-0 lead when Dallas Frey hit Mark Balbach on two long TD passes.

Edgewood is coached by George Zanic, former South Side coach.

Jim Bowersock Leads 26-0 Win

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

An aroused Beaver Local defense held Springfield (Jefferson) to minus 11 yards total offense and Jim Bowersock ran for 105 yards and two touchdowns as the Beavers won their first game under Dick Bryan, 26-0 over the Tigers at Beaver Local Saturday night.

"We finally played like I know we can", said a happy Bryan afterwards. The Beavers dropped their first two games and Springfield is winless in three starts.

Bryan was very happy with his defense, which saw Lew Brown, Scott Dubberly, Bruce Diddle, Bill Lucas and sophomore Rick Palmer break into the Springfield backfield time and again to throw the ball carrier for losses. On 38 running plays, Springfield was thrown for a net loss of 62 yards, gaining ground only 11 times, only twice for more than three yards. The Tigers lost on every running play they tried in the third period, as the blocking seemed to break down completely.

Bowersock, a speedy halfback, also gained 76 yards on six punt returns, keeping the Beavers in good field position throughout the game. Five fumbles by the Beavers kept the score as low as it was.

The first period was a real defensive struggle, with not a pass being tried and Springfield making the only first down, their only one by rushing the whole game and their only one of any kind until the last period.

A 19-yard punt return by Bowersock to the Springfield 33 at the beginning of the second period set up the first Beaver score. On fourth and two from the 25 Bowersock took a pitchout and went around right end all the way for the TD. Tim Mellon, who was playing his first full game at quarterback, swept left end for the conversion. Bryan was pleased with the job Mellon did directing the team.

The nex Beaver TD was set up by a Springfield mental error. The Tigers went into punt formation on their 28, but the punter wasn't in the game, and the center snap rolled to the 12, where Brown fell on the ball. Diddle scored three plays later on a sweep around left end.

Following the kickoff, Bill Morgan completed a pass to Rich Maple, but Maple fumbled and Brown again pounced on the ball, on the Springfield 34. Bowersock carried 16 yards on a sweep, Brown went 13 up the middle and Bowersock powered his way six yards for the third TD within a span of 6:40.

The Beavers had another opportunity when Dubberly recovered a Morgan fumble on the first play after the kickoff, but Ed Zak intercepted a Mellon pass on his own 18 and returned it all he way to the Beaver Local 45 before being hauled down. Time ran out before Springfield could start to move, however.

Following the second half kickoff the Beavers drove 70 yards in 11 plays for the final tally of the game. A 30-yard sprint by Bowersock featured the drive and Brown carried the last four yards for the score.

Springfield made its only drive at the end of the game, mainly against the Beaver reserves. Starting at mid-field with a fumble recovery, a 22-yard pass from Morgan to John Bick led the Tigers to the Beaver 27. On fourth down Morgan was smothered on the 36, but Brown fumbled on the first play for the Beavers, with Springfield recovering on the 39. Morgan passed to Bick for 12 yards and then on fourth down Morgan threw a flat pass to John Bendle, who got to the five before being downed. Morgan was caught on the next play and the gun sounded ending the game.

Tiger Streak Snapped

Tovar Plays 9 Positions, Twins Edge Athletics 2-1

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cesar Tovar took the grand tour of Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium. . .position-by-position.

And for a tantalizing few innings, it looked like the Twins' chief handyman might own a tiny piece of a no-hitter as well as the distinction of being only the second man in major league history to play all nine positions in a single game.

But Oakland eventually managed three hits against young Tom Hall, who relieved in the second inning Sunday after Tovar started his tour by pitching a hitless first inning.

Tovar moved behind the plate in the second and around the infield and outfield inning by inning as the Twins nipped the A's 2-1.

In other American League action Sunday, Baltimore shut out Chicago 3-0, Washington blanked Detroit 6-0, Boston tripped New York 5-1 and Cleveland squeezed by California 2-1.

Tovar scored Minnesota's first run in the third when he singled and scored on Bob Allison's triple. Rod Carew drove in the Twins' other run with a fifth inning single.

Oakland's Bert Campaneris, the only other man to play all nine positions in one game, was the Athletics' leadoff batter in the first against Tovar and fouled out. Reggie Jackson struck out and then Danny Cater walked. Tovar balked the runner to second before retiring Sal Xando on a foul pop.

The A's didn't get a hit against Hall until the sixth and had only one until the eighth when they rallied for a run, knocking the youngster out. But Al Worthington shut the door.

Dave McNally scattered eight hits and became the winningest pitcher in modern Baltimore history by shutting out Chicago 3-0. McNally, 21-10 for the season, is 13-2 since the All Star break.

Chicago's Wilbur Wood tied a major league record with his 84th appeaance of the year. Ted Abernathy, then with the Chicago Cubs, established the mark in 1965.

Rich Billings and Brant Alyea tagged home runs and Camilo Pascual's four-hitter eased Washington past Detroit and ended a 11-game winning streak for the Tigers.

Billings' homer was his first in the majors and Alyea's three-run shot was his sixth.

Lou Johnson singled pinch runner Tommy Harper home with Cleveland's winning run in the eighth inning against California.

Tony Horton, whose sixth inning homer was Cleveland's first hit, singled in the eighth and Harper, running for him, stole second. Then Johnson singled the run home.

Jerry Moses cracked a two-run homer and Joe Foy drove in two runs with a third inning single, helping the Red Sox past the Yankees.

Pirates Move Into Fourth

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's World Series dossier on the St. Louis Cardinals might be a trifle thin today . . through no fault of the Tiger scouts.

For the past week the National League champs have shown the Bird-dogs practically nothing.

Los Angeles' late-streaking Dodgers beat St. Louis ace Bob Gibson 3-2 Sunday, completing a three-game sweep of the Cardinals for a 15-4 mark over the last three weeks.

The Cards have won one of six starts since they locked up the flag at Houston one week ago. The victory was Ray Washburn's no-hit gem at San Francisco . . . the day after the Giants' Gaylord Perry nipped Gibson 1-0 with a no-hitter.

Sunday's loss killed the Cards' last hope for a 100-victory season. They're 94-63 with five games remaining.

Second place San Francisco belted Atlanta 10-2, Pittsburgh trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-1, Houston topped Cincinnati 6-1 and the New York Mets downed Philadelphia 5-2 in other NL games.

Right-hander Don Sutton blanked the Cardinals on one hit until the eighth inning, when he balked home the second of two St. Louis runs for a 2-2 deadlock.

But the Dodgers broke the tie in the bottom of the eighth on a walk, a sacrifice and rookie right fielder Joe Hague's throwing error. Bill Sudakis scored the winning run when Hague caught Paul Popovich's short fly and then threw wildly past third base.

Willie Crawford homered off Gibson, 21-9, who has beaten the Dodgers only 11 times in 28 lifetime decisions.

Willie McCovey drove in three runs for the Giants with a double and his 35th homer, boosting his league RBI lead to 102. Willie Mays lashed three hits and Jim Hart drove in three runs, helping Bob Bolin, 10-5, breeze past the Braves with a five-hitter.

Bob Moose fired a four-hitter as the Pirates climbed into fourth place. Gene Alley delivered two runs with a homer and single and Roberto Clemente hit an inside - the - park homer to pace the Pittsburgh attack.

Jim Wynn's 24th and 25th homers knocked in three runs, leading the Astros past the third place Reds behind southpaw Mike Cuellar, who scattered eight hits.

The victory left Houston one game behind the ninth place Mets, who subdued Philadelphia on the tight relief pitching of Don Cardwell.

Beavers Hold Springfield To Minus Yards, Win First

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Dennis Klembara, Beaver Local product, continues to shine as the top signal-caller for Youngstown University's football team.

Klembara threw two touchdown passes Saturday, though the Penguins fell 24-20 at Central Michigan. Overall the freshman quarterback hit on 16 of 33 passes for 138 yards and rushed for 64 yards in 15 attempts.

THE LOS ANGELES news media were unimpressed by Pitt and the Steelers before the two teams took the field over the weekend, and were probably more impressed after the games were over, as Pitt was slaughtered by UCLA 63-7 and the Steelers were dumped 45-10 by the Rams. If the squads had changed place, Pittsburgh would have had one victory to show for the weekend. Maybe.

WHILE PITT and the Steelers were getting clobbered, the Pirates have quickly won seven of their last eight games to move into the first division. Third place is in reach for the Bucs if they can handle Cincinnati and Chicago the final week.

IN CASE you missed it, Wintersville extended its long unbeaten string by downing Steubenville Central 28-14 Saturday night. Niles kept its nine-year home unbeaten string alive with a 16-0 win over Canton McKinley. Warren Western Reserve bopped tough Cuyahoga Falls 36-10 Friday night and Alliance blanked Akron Buchtel 20-0. Boardman won its first of the year, 28-24 over Campbell.

Archbishop Carroll of Washington was scouting East Liverpool Friday night. Carroll tied its opener, 7-7, with Washington and Lee of Arlington, Va., and played its second game yesterday.

JOHN ANGELLONE of Midland, sophomore at Steubenville College, is on the baseball team there. The Barons are playing a fall as well as a spring schedule and open at home with Duquesne today.

FRESHMEN ENDS Jim Taucher and Kip Reeves of East Palestine are the only Columbiana County players on the 1968 Mt. Union College football team.

Gary Stenlund, an Ohio U. grad and an assistant track coach at the school, qualified for the U.S. Olympic team last week in the javelin. Stenlund threw 254-9, third behind Mark Murro and Frank Covelli. Stenlund was the only Ohio athlete to gain a place on the men's track and field team. California had 24 of the 67 qualifiers.

Center Falls 19-7

W. Beaver Wins First, Petchel Brothers Star

Western Beaver won its first game of the season after two losses Saturday night, downing Center Twp. 19-7 at Midland Stadium.

The win was the first under new coach Mike Hornick. Western trailed 7-6 at halftime, but on the first play from scrimmage in the second half John Petchel ran 61 yards to put the Golden Beavers up 12-7. Western got the ball on their 39 after a poor kickoff that went out of bounds there.

Western also had a spectacular play the first play of the game, a triple-reverse pass from Petchel to brother Bob Petchel that carried 48 yards to the 18. John Tenerelli capped the drive with a three-yard scoring run.

Center took the ensuing kickoff and came right back, marching along the ground. Bob Zupsic scored on a 12-yard run and then ran for the extra point to put the Trojans ahead.

John Petchel scored an insurance touchdown in the third period, with Stephen Elko converting. Petchel, playing quarterback in the first half and halfback in the second, was the leading rusher for the Golden Beavers, gaining 78 yards.

Rams Hit Scoreboard, Drop Third Straight

South Side Beaver dropped its third straight football game of the season, 27-7 at Edgewood Saturday morning, but the Rams got on the scoreboard for the first time this year.

Bruce Potts scored on a two-yard run and Chuck Gillespie converted in the last period. Potts led Ram ball carries with 78 yards.

Edgewood jumped off to a 14-0 lead when Dallas Frey hit Mark Balbach on two long TD passes.

Edgewood is coached by George Zanic, former South Side coach.

Crestview Falls 12-0

LOWELLVILLE — Crestview dropped its second Inter-County game here Saturday night, falling 12-0.

Both teams are now 1-2 overall on the season. The Rockets did all the scoring in the first period when Gary Slaven took a pass from Gary Berardinelli and Rick Palumbo went over on a three - yard plunge.

Chip McConville, Joe Remish and Dan Unger were the leading backs for Crestview and Joe Dutch, Mark Rupert, Jerry Anderson and Bob Cresanto the leading linemen.

Jim Bowersock Leads 26-0 Win

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

An aroused Beaver Local defense held Springfield (Jefferson) to minus 11 yards total offense and Jim Bowersock ran for 105 yards and two touchdowns as the Beavers won their first game under Dick Bryan, 26-0 over the Tigers at Beaver Local Saturday night.

"We finally played like I know we can", said a happy Bryan afterwards. The Beavers dropped their first two games and Springfield is winless in three starts.

Bryan was very happy with his defense, which saw Lew Brown, Scott Dubberly, Bruce Diddle, Bill Lucas and sophomore Rick Palmer break into the Springfield backfield time and again to throw the ball carrier for losses. On 38 running plays, Springfield was thrown for a net loss of 62 yards, gaining ground only 11 times, only twice for more than three yards. The Tigers lost on every running play they tried in the third period, as the blocking seemed to break down completely.

Bowersock, a speedy halfback, also gained 76 yards on six punt returns, keeping the Beavers in good field position throughout the game. Five fumbles by the Beavers kept the score as low as it was.

The first period was a real defensive struggle, with not a pass being tried and Springfield making the only first down, their only one by rushing the whole game and their only one of any kind until the last period.

A 19-yard punt return by Bowersock to the Springfield 33 at the beginning of the second period set up the first Beaver score. On fourth and two from the 25 Bowersock took a pitchout and went around right end all the way for the TD. Tim Mellon, who was playing his first full game at quarterback, swept left end for the conversion. Bryan was pleased with the job Mellon did directing the team.

The nex Beaver TD was set up by a Springfield mental error. The Tigers went into punt formation on their 28, but the punter wasn't in the game, and the center snap rolled to the 12, where Brown fell on the ball. Diddle scored three plays later on a sweep around left end.

Following the kickoff, Bill Morgan completed a pass to Rich Maple, but Maple fumbled and Brown again pounced on the ball, on the Springfield 34. Bowersock carried 16 yards on a sweep, Brown went 13 up the middle and Bowersock powered his way six yards for the third TD within a span of 6:40.

The Beavers had another opportunity when Dubberly recovered a Morgan fumble on the first play after the kickoff, but Ed Zak intercepted a Mellon pass on his own 18 and returned it all he way to the Beaver Local 45 before being hauled down. Time ran out before Springfield could start to move, however.

Following the second half kickoff the Beavers drove 70 yards in 11 plays for the final tally of the game. A 30-yard sprint by Bowersock featured the drive and Brown carried the last four yards for the score.

Springfield made its only drive at the end of the game, mainly against the Beaver reserves. Starting at mid-field with a fumble recovery, a 22-yard pass from Morgan to John Bick led the Tigers to the Beaver 27. On fourth down Morgan was smothered on the 36, but Brown fumbled on the first play for the Beavers, with Springfield recovering on the 39. Morgan passed to Bick for 12 yards and then on fourth down Morgan threw a flat pass to John Bendle, who got to the five before being downed. Morgan was caught on the next play and the gun sounded ending the game.

Tiger Streak Snapped

Tovar Plays 9 Positions, Twins Edge Athletics 2-1

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cesar Tovar took the grand tour of Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium. . .position-by-position.

And for a tantalizing few innings, it looked like the Twins' chief handyman might own a tiny piece of a no-hitter as well as the distinction of being only the second man in major league history to play all nine positions in a single game.

But Oakland eventually managed three hits against young Tom Hall, who relieved in the second inning Sunday after Tovar started his tour by pitching a hitless first inning.

Tovar moved behind the plate in the second and around the infield and outfield inning by inning as the Twins nipped the A's 2-1.

In other American League action Sunday, Baltimore shut out Chicago 3-0, Washington blanked Detroit 6-0, Boston tripped New York 5-1 and Cleveland squeezed by California 2-1.

Tovar scored Minnesota's first run in the third when he singled and scored on Bob Allison's triple. Rod Carew drove in the Twins' other run with a fifth inning single.

Oakland's Bert Campaneris, the only other man to play all nine positions in one game, was the Athletics' leadoff batter in the first against Tovar and fouled out. Reggie Jackson struck out and then Danny Cater walked. Tovar balked the runner to second before retiring Sal Xando on a foul pop.

The A's didn't get a hit against Hall until the sixth and had only one until the eighth when they rallied for a run, knocking the youngster out. But Al Worthington shut the door.

Dave McNally scattered eight hits and became the winningest pitcher in modern Baltimore history by shutting out Chicago 3-0. McNally, 21-10 for the season, is 13-2 since the All Star break.

Chicago's Wilbur Wood tied a major league record with his 84th appeaance of the year. Ted Abernathy, then with the Chicago Cubs, established the mark in 1965.

Rich Billings and Brant Alyea tagged home runs and Camilo Pascual's four-hitter eased Washington past Detroit and ended a 11-game winning streak for the Tigers.

Billings' homer was his first in the majors and Alyea's three-run shot was his sixth.

Lou Johnson singled pinch runner Tommy Harper home with Cleveland's winning run in the eighth inning against California.

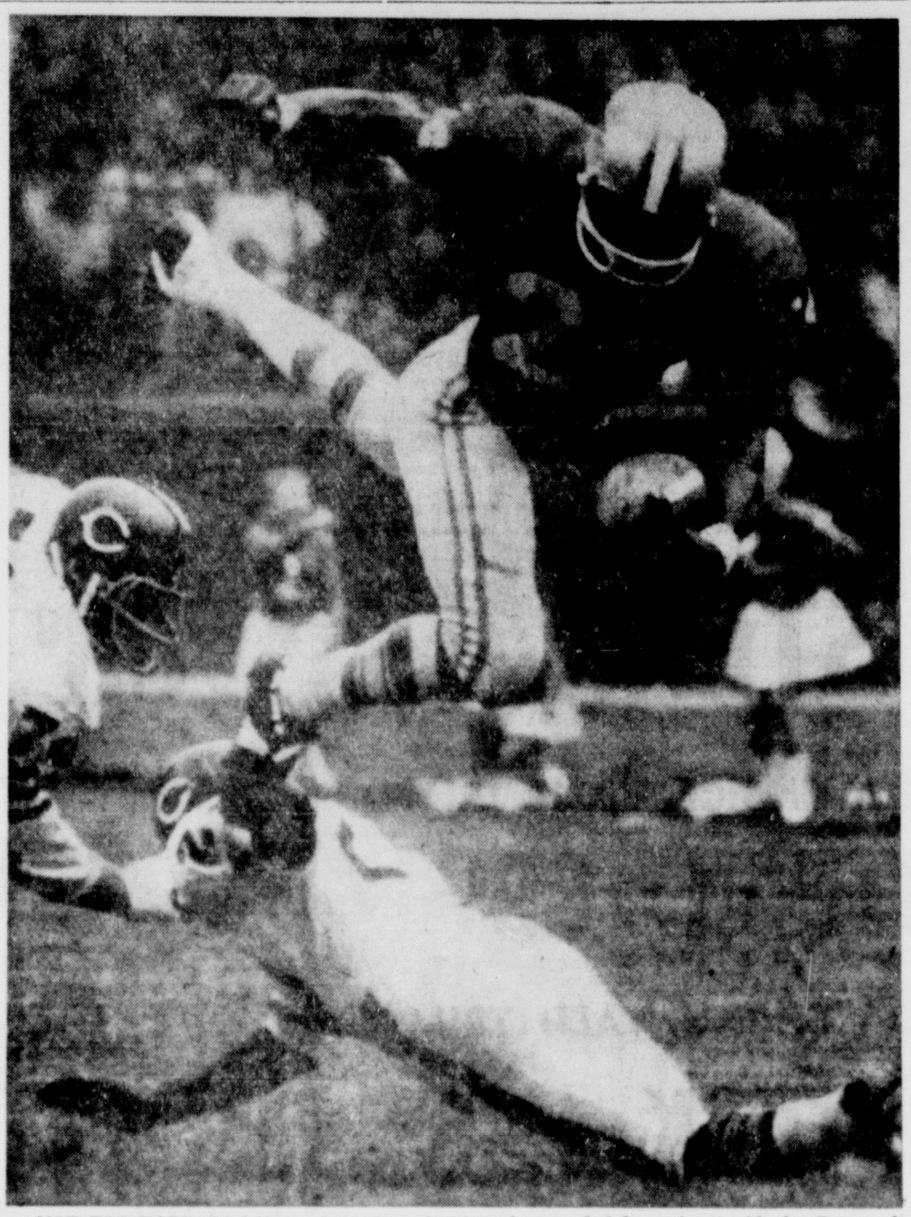

Tony Horton, whose sixth inning homer was Cleveland's first hit, singled in the eighth and Harper, running for him, stole second. Then Johnson singled the run home.

Jerry Moses cracked a two-run homer and Joe Foy drove in two runs with a third inning single, helping the Red Sox past the Yankees.

Pirates Move Into Fourth

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's World Series dossier on the St. Louis Cardinals might be a trifle thin today . . through no fault of the Tiger scouts.

For the past week the National League champs have shown the Bird-dogs practically nothing.

Los Angeles' late-streaking Dodgers beat St. Louis ace Bob Gibson 3-2 Sunday, completing a three-game sweep of the Cardinals for a 15-4 mark over the last three weeks.

The Cards have won one of six starts since they locked up the flag at Houston one week ago. The victory was Ray Washburn's no-hit gem at San Francisco . . . the day after the Giants' Gaylord Perry nipped Gibson 1-0 with a no-hitter.

Sunday's loss killed the Cards' last hope for a 100-victory season. They're 94-63 with five games remaining.

Second place San Francisco belted Atlanta 10-2, Pittsburgh trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-1, Houston topped Cincinnati 6-1 and the New York Mets downed Philadelphia 5-2 in other NL games.

Right-hander Don Sutton blanked the Cardinals on one hit until the eighth inning, when he balked home the second of two St. Louis runs for a 2-2 deadlock.

But the Dodgers broke the tie in the bottom of the eighth on a walk, a sacrifice and rookie right fielder Joe Hague's throwing error. Bill Sudakis scored the winning run when Hague caught Paul Popovich's short fly and then threw wildly past third base.

Willie Crawford homered off Gibson, 21-9, who has beaten the Dodgers only 11 times in 28 lifetime decisions.

Willie McCovey drove in three runs for the Giants with a double and his 35th homer, boosting his league RBI lead to 102. Willie Mays lashed three hits and Jim Hart drove in three runs, helping Bob Bolin, 10-5, breeze past the Braves with a five-hitter.

Bob Moose fired a four-hitter as the Pirates climbed into fourth place. Gene Alley delivered two runs with a homer and single and Roberto Clemente hit an inside - the - park homer to pace the Pittsburgh attack.

Jim Wynn's 24th and 25th homers knocked in three runs, leading the Astros past the third place Reds behind southpaw Mike Cuellar, who scattered eight hits.

The victory left Houston one game behind the ninth place Mets, who subdued Philadelphia on the tight relief pitching of Don Cardwell.

Vikings Upset Packers, Saints Surprise Redskins

Browns, Steelers Both Lose Badly

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Give the Minnesota Vikings two inches and they'll take 74 yards—and the Green Bay Packers.

The Packers got a taste of such ingratitude Sunday when the improving Vikings used those inches to spring the biggest upset of the young National Football League season by upending the world champions 26-13.

The Vikings decided they'd like those two inches in the third quarter after Green Bay had scored and cut Minnesota's lead to 16-6. The Packers, their momentum growing, had Minnesota stopped, fourth down and two inches needed for a first down on the Vikings' 26 yard line.

But Coach Bud Grant decided to try for it and quarterback Joe Kapp crept two inches for a first down, and then drove Minnesota 74 yards for the back-breaking touchdown.

In more minor surprises, the Detroit Lions, bouncing back after being shellacked 59-13 by Dallas last week, turned on the favored Chicago Bears 42-0, and the New Orleans Saints piled past the Washington Redskins 37-17.

Baltimore subdued Atlanta 28-20, Los Angeles leveled Pittsburgh 45-10, and Dallas squashed Cleveland 28-7 as the other NFL powerhouses rolled on. In other games, San Francisco beat St. Louis 35-17 and the New York Giants outlasted Philadelphia 34-25.

"It was just an occasion where we felt we had to take the momentum away from them," Grant said of Minnesota's gamble, and Coach Phil Bengtson of the Packers admitetd it succeeded.

"That fourth down play took a lot of steam out of us," he said.

Bill Munson, making his debut as Detroit's quarterback, didn't bother with inches as he threw touchdown passes of 86 yards to Mel Farr and 37 and 15 to rookie Earl McCulloch. The Lions stifled the Bears' offense with eight interceptions, one short of the record. Mike Weger and Lem Barney each stole three.

Don McCall became the first New Orleans back to gain more than 100 yards in a game—he ran for 127 and scored two times. Dave Whitsell blocked a punt and carried it four yards for a score, blocked a field goal try and intercepted a pass leading to a touchdown as the Saints stopped Sonny Jurgenson until the fourth period.

Earl Morrall, again filling in for injured Johnny Unitas, threw three interceptions and had one of three Baltimore fumbles, but he overcame the errors with three scoring passes and set up another touchdown with an 84-yard throw.

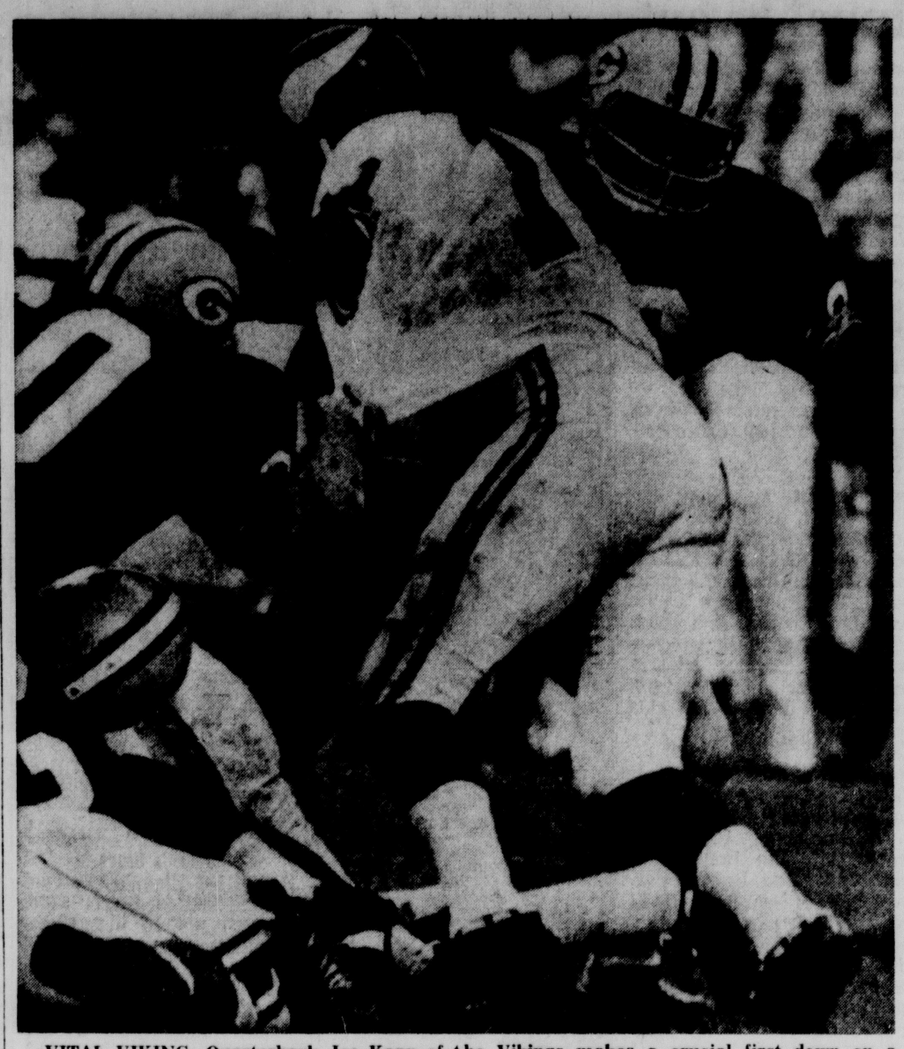

The winning touchdown—for a 21-20 lead—came with 39 seconds left in the half when Morrall threw a parallel pass to halfback Tom Matte, who tossed back to Morrall, who threw 46 yards to Jimmy Orr.

Roman Gabriel hit 16 of 20 passes for 261 yards and four touchdowns and Dick Bass scored three times as the Rams routed Pittsburgh.

Defensive end Willie Townes recovered quarterback Frank Ryan's fumble and rumbled 20 yards for a touchdown and a 14-0 lead for Dallas in the second quarter, and Dan Reeves added two short scoring runs in the final half.

John Brodie, who spent two days in the hospital with a crick in his neck last week, fired three scoring passes for San Francisco and set up a fourth with his passing.

Pete Gogolak's second field goal put the Giants ahead 20-19 in the third quarter and Fran Tarkenton passed for a 27-19 lead after Al Haymond returned a kickoff 98 yards for the Eagles and Carl Lockhart brought back an interception 72 yards for New York. Three blocked extra point tries set back the Eagles.

VITAL VIKING. Quarterback Joe Kapp of the Vikings makes a crucial first down on a fourth-down play deep in Viking territory, leading Vikings to 26-13 win over Packers at Milwaukee yesterday. Lee Roy Caffey grabs Kapp's shirt and Dave Robinson comes up on right. (UPI Telephoto)

Houston Ties Texas 20-20

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

O.J. Simpson of Southern California was a first team All-American halfback last year. Chris Gilbert of Texas and Paul Gipson of Houston only made the second team.

On college football's first big Saturday, Simpson scored four touchdowns and rambled for 236 yards on 39 carries as second-ranked Southern California defeated Minnesota 29-29.

O.J., however, did not overshadow the play of Gilbert and Gipson in what some people called the championship game of the Southwest. Both had a lot to do with the 20-20 tie that resulted from the clash between the nation's No. 4 team, Texas, and the No. 11 team, Houston.

Gilbert ran for 195 yards on 21 carries; Gipson gained 173 yards on 28 tries. Simpson's average per carry was six yards, the same as Gipson's. Gilbert finished with a nine-yard average.

Included in Gilbert's gains were touchdown runs of 57 and eight yards. Gipson scored all three of Houston's touchdowns on runs of one, 66 and five yards.

There was one time, however, when Texas stopped Gipson, and that meant the difference between a tie and a Houston victory. The Cougars had the ball at the Texas two with a fourth down, and the Longhorns stopped Gipson at the line.

Another 1967 All-American back, Leroy Keyes of top-ranked Purdue, played only sparingly in the Boilermakers' 44-7 rout of Virginia. Keyes was hampered by a bruised right hip but still scored one touchdown on a three-yard burst and threw 12 yards to Bob Dillingham for another.

The Boilermakers hope Keyes will be fully recovered for next Saturday's encounter with Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., because the third-ranked Irish opened their season last Saturday by crushing Oklahoma, No. 5, 45-21. Like Simpson, Gilbert and Gipson did individually, the Irish compiled some impressive statistics.

They amassed a school record 35 first downs, ran for 357 yards and passed for 214 more, giving them a total offense of 571 yards. End Jim Seymour also set a record, catching two touchdown passes for a career total of 14, one more than Leon Hart had in his days with the Irish.

Oklahoma and Minnesota were not the only members of the Top 20 to lose. Iowa edged eight-ranked Oregon State 21-20; and Louisiana State, No. 20, nipped Texas A&M, No. 13, 13-12.

Florida, No. 6, got past Air Force 22-20; seventh-ranked Alabama downed Virginia Tech 14-7; 10th-ranked Penn State whipped Navy 31-6; Nebraska, No. 14, crushed Utah 31-0; Indiana, No. 15, outslugged Baylor 40-36; and UCLA tied with Minnesota for 16th, smashed Pitt 63-7.

It was obvious that UCLA didn't miss its All-America quarterback, Gary Beban. Bill Bolden, the Heisman Trophy winner's successor, suffered a shoulder separation after leading the Bruins to three touchdowns, but sophomore Jim Nader took over and passed for four more scores.

Other sophomores also made impressive debuts.

Bill Hunter dashed 90 yards with a punt return for a touchdown that sparked Army past the Citadel 34-14. Ron Volbrecht kicked a 51-yard field goal that gave Washington a 35-35 tie with Rice.

Jim Plunkett completed 10 of 13 passes for 277 yards and four touchdowns as Stanford trounced San Jose State 68-20. Chuck Hixson hit on 27 of 48 passes in Southern Methodist's 37-28 triumph over Auburn.

In other games North Carolina State whipped North Carolina 38-6, Georgia Tech defeated Texas Christian 17-7, Michigan State topped Syracuse 14-10, California beat Michigan 21-7, Arizona State crushed Wisconsin 55-7, Wyoming battered Utah State 48-3 and Colorado stopped Oregon 28-7.

Jets Top Pats For East Lead; Raiders, Chargers Lead West

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Patriots had their home opener in Birmingham, Ala., the Patriots looking for sole control of the top spot in the Eastern Division and Birmingham looking for a franchise in the American Football League.

The Patriots suffered a complete disappointment and Birmingham at least a mild one. Boston is having difficulty finding a suitable playing site, and the game was billed as a test to see how the AFL would draw in Birmingham.

A crowd of 29,129 turned out at Legion Field, which seats about 70,000, Sunday to watch the New York Jets and Boston, sharing the lead in the East with 1-0 records.

New York won it 47-31 on Joe Namath's passing and an alert defense, the Jets taking sole possession of the No. 1 position.

Cincinnati beat Buffalo 34-23 and Kansas City whipped Denver 34-2 in the other Sunday games. San Diego topped Houston 20-14 and Oakland stopped Miami 47-21 Saturday night.

Boston never led against New York, but the Patriots were threatening to make a game of it early in the third period when Mel Witt intercepted a Namath pass and returned it four yards for a touchdown, closing the gap to 20-17.

But the Jets quickly put it out of reach, scoring 17 points before the period was over. Mark Smolinski picked up a blocked punt and scored from three yards out.

A fast Jet rush forced a shot punt, gave New York field position and Namath capitalized on it with a 27 yard touchdown pass, his second of the day. A pass interception set up a 27 yard field goal by Jim Turner, the Jets had a 37-17 lead and were out of danger.

The heavily favored Chiefs couldn't get started against Denver, managed only a 6-2 halftime lead and coach Hank Stram made some changes.

He sent in second-string quarterback Jackie Lee, who hit on seven of eight passes for 99 yards and two touchdowns, and third string running back Robert Holmes, who scored twice on runs of 17 and six yards as the Chiefs made a rout of it.

Cincinnati converted a pair of second-half interceptions into touchdowns and handed Buffalo its third consecutive loss. Al Beauchamp returned one 17 yards and Charley King 32 yards for another.

Daryle Lamonica fired touchdown passes of 74, 3, 49 and 16 yards in the first half, the Raiders built a 33-14 halftime lead and coasted home against Miami.

San Diego broke open a tight game with three fourth-quarter touchdowns against Houston. Brad Hubbert ran three yards for one, John Hadl passed 80 yards to Lance Alworth for another and Joe Beauchamp returned a pass interception 24 yards for the third.

Glenmoor Stays Unbeaten In Bill Booth Grid Play

Glenmoor rallied to top Northside 34-18 at Air Beacon Road Field yesterday to remain in the lead in the American Division of the Bill Booth football little league.

Cunningham scored twice for the winners on runs of 65 and 40 yards, Francis scored twice, including on a run of 50 yards, and Serago scored the other TD. Fitzgerald scored three times for Northside, which led 18-0 at halftime. Northside won 14-0 in the Pee Wee game with Badgley scoring both TDs.

Dixonville, the leaders in the National Division, was tied 6-6 by East End at Bell Field. Kim Kuczynski scored for Dixonville and Randy Jones for East End. Dixonville won 14-0 in the Pee Wee game with Bruce Rohrer scoring twice.

St. Al's blanked West End 38-0 at Thompson Park with Mark Hissom leading the way with three TDs. Charley Bell and Jim Sullivan scored the other markers. West End won the Pee Wee game 14-8 as Koupper scored on a pass from Baker and Scott ran 45 yards. Keith Bell scored for the losers.

Next week only two games are scheduled, Northside vs. West End at Bell Field and St. Al's vs. Glenmoor at Air Beacon Road Field.

Archer, Nichols Capture PGA Pairs Championship

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — "It beats packing bags," said a beaming George Archer, who along with Bobby Nichols had just fired a blistering seven-under-par 65 Sunday to win the PGA team championship by two strokes.

Archer and Nichols divided the top prize of $40,000 in the best-ball tourney, which had a total purse of $200,000.

Nichols announced Sunday he would participate in no more tourneys this year.

"Stick a fork in me," he said, "I'm done. This is a good way to end the year."

The two veteran partners toured the rough 7,173-yard par-72 Quail Creek Country Club course in a 22-under-par 265 to win the tourney.

They bogeyed only one hole, the 12th hole at Twin Hills Country Club across town, where players put in one round.

They both three-putted that hole.

Rives McBee and Monty Kaser shot a three-under-par 69 Sunday to win second place and $24,000 in the tournament, two strokes behind Nichols and Archer.

Tom Weiskopf and R. H. Sikes also had a 69 Sunday for a tournament total of 268, good enough for third place and a cash prize of $15,000.

Nichols was red hot Sunday, as he birdied the first three holes and saved a par on the 18th to pull the team from a third-place tie after 54 holes to the championship.

McBee and Kaser held the lead after 54 holes with Dale Douglass and Hale Irwin at 198, 17-under-par.

McBee and Kaser ended the tournament at 20-under-par 267, while Douglass and Irwin remained at even par Sunday for 17 under and a sixth-place tournament finish.

The teams of Sam Snead and Gardner Dickinson and Tommy Aaron and Charles Coody finished with an 18-under-par 269 for fourth place.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the defending champions, finished with a 68 for a 273 and a five-way tie for 15th place. Dave and Mike Hill, the pacesetters for the first 54 holes, wound up in a three-way tie for 12th place with 272.

Pickin Team Wins Am-Am At ELCC

The team of William Pickin, W. L. Smith and A. C. Purinton won the Men's Amateur - Amateur at the East Liverpool Country Club Saturday with a 31-32-63.

Tying for second with scores of 31-33-64 were the teams of W. E. Pickin Jr., J. T. Smith, Dr. J. J. LaNeve and Grant Stover and J. E. Laughlin, G. A. Weese, Mark Hoffrichter and J. M. Koos.

Winning the best ball of four with no handicap was the team of Bob Patterson, Dr. H. F. Banfield and D. E. Beatty with a 33-35-68. Wayne Rice was closest to the pin on number four, Dr. Frank Bragg was closest to the pin on number six and Rick Crable had the longest drive on number nine.

The University of Pittsburgh has been honored by having four men named to Sports Illustrated's Silver Anniversary Teams. Former Panther greats Dr. Ralph Dougherty, John Michelosen, Marshall Goldberg, and Dr. John Dickinson were the honored players.

The consensus of the Review Grid Yogis was fooled only by Wellsville, but the upset pickers fell farther back.

The consensus, embodied by leader Chuck Campbell, Turk Pierce and Bob Duffy, went 9-1, missing only on Wellsville's 26-18 win over Toronto. Pete Weaver went 8-2, also missing the Bengals' 34-23 win over the Bills. Bob Shaffer went 7-3, getting the Bengals but missing Beaver, a 13-0 winner over Midland, and Beaver Local, a 26-0 victor over Springfield. Rose Nuzzo went 6-4, missing the Bengals, Beaver Local and Stanton, a 48-0 loser to Southern Local, as well as Wellsville. None of Ed Clutter's upset specials came through for him, and he went 5-5. He fell with Oak Glen, a 27-0 loser to Follansbee, the Browns, a 28-7 loser to the Cowboys, and Oklahoma, a 45-21 loser to Notre Dame, as well as the Bills and Wellsville.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool, a 28-22 winner over Berea Mid-Park, and the Rams, a 45-10 winner over the Steelers.

Vikings Upset Packers, Saints Surprise Redskins

Browns, Steelers Both Lose Badly

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Give the Minnesota Vikings two inches and they'll take 74 yards—and the Green Bay Packers.

The Packers got a taste of such ingratitude Sunday when the improving Vikings used those inches to spring the biggest upset of the young National Football League season by upending the world champions 26-13.

The Vikings decided they'd like those two inches in the third quarter after Green Bay had scored and cut Minnesota's lead to 16-6. The Packers, their momentum growing, had Minnesota stopped, fourth down and two inches needed for a first down on the Vikings' 26 yard line.

But Coach Bud Grant decided to try for it and quarterback Joe Kapp crept two inches for a first down, and then drove Minnesota 74 yards for the back-breaking touchdown.

In more minor surprises, the Detroit Lions, bouncing back after being shellacked 59-13 by Dallas last week, turned on the favored Chicago Bears 42-0, and the New Orleans Saints piled past the Washington Redskins 37-17.

Baltimore subdued Atlanta 28-20, Los Angeles leveled Pittsburgh 45-10, and Dallas squashed Cleveland 28-7 as the other NFL powerhouses rolled on. In other games, San Francisco beat St. Louis 35-17 and the New York Giants outlasted Philadelphia 34-25.

"It was just an occasion where we felt we had to take the momentum away from them," Grant said of Minnesota's gamble, and Coach Phil Bengtson of the Packers admitetd it succeeded.

"That fourth down play took a lot of steam out of us," he said.

Bill Munson, making his debut as Detroit's quarterback, didn't bother with inches as he threw touchdown passes of 86 yards to Mel Farr and 37 and 15 to rookie Earl McCulloch. The Lions stifled the Bears' offense with eight interceptions, one short of the record. Mike Weger and Lem Barney each stole three.

Don McCall became the first New Orleans back to gain more than 100 yards in a game—he ran for 127 and scored two times. Dave Whitsell blocked a punt and carried it four yards for a score, blocked a field goal try and intercepted a pass leading to a touchdown as the Saints stopped Sonny Jurgenson until the fourth period.

Earl Morrall, again filling in for injured Johnny Unitas, threw three interceptions and had one of three Baltimore fumbles, but he overcame the errors with three scoring passes and set up another touchdown with an 84-yard throw.

The winning touchdown—for a 21-20 lead—came with 39 seconds left in the half when Morrall threw a parallel pass to halfback Tom Matte, who tossed back to Morrall, who threw 46 yards to Jimmy Orr.

Roman Gabriel hit 16 of 20 passes for 261 yards and four touchdowns and Dick Bass scored three times as the Rams routed Pittsburgh.

Defensive end Willie Townes recovered quarterback Frank Ryan's fumble and rumbled 20 yards for a touchdown and a 14-0 lead for Dallas in the second quarter, and Dan Reeves added two short scoring runs in the final half.

John Brodie, who spent two days in the hospital with a crick in his neck last week, fired three scoring passes for San Francisco and set up a fourth with his passing.

Pete Gogolak's second field goal put the Giants ahead 20-19 in the third quarter and Fran Tarkenton passed for a 27-19 lead after Al Haymond returned a kickoff 98 yards for the Eagles and Carl Lockhart brought back an interception 72 yards for New York. Three blocked extra point tries set back the Eagles.

VITAL VIKING. Quarterback Joe Kapp of the Vikings makes a crucial first down on a fourth-down play deep in Viking territory, leading Vikings to 26-13 win over Packers at Milwaukee yesterday. Lee Roy Caffey grabs Kapp's shirt and Dave Robinson comes up on right. (UPI Telephoto)

Houston Ties Texas 20-20

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

O.J. Simpson of Southern California was a first team All-American halfback last year. Chris Gilbert of Texas and Paul Gipson of Houston only made the second team.

On college football's first big Saturday, Simpson scored four touchdowns and rambled for 236 yards on 39 carries as second-ranked Southern California defeated Minnesota 29-29.

O.J., however, did not overshadow the play of Gilbert and Gipson in what some people called the championship game of the Southwest. Both had a lot to do with the 20-20 tie that resulted from the clash between the nation's No. 4 team, Texas, and the No. 11 team, Houston.

Gilbert ran for 195 yards on 21 carries; Gipson gained 173 yards on 26 tries. Simpson's average per carry was six yards, the same as Gipson's. Gilbert finished with a nine-yard average.

Included in Gilbert's gains were touchdown runs of 57 and eight yards. Gipson scored all three of Houston's touchdowns on runs of one, 66 and five yards.

There was one time, however, when Texas stopped Gipson, and that meant the difference between a tie and a Houston victory. The Cougars had the ball at the Texas two with a fourth down, and the Longhorns stopped Gipson at the line.

Another 1967 All-American back, Leroy Keyes of top-ranked Purdue, played only sparingly in the Boilermakers' 44-7 rout of Virginia. Keyes was hampered by a bruised right hip but still scored one touchdown on a three-yard burst and threw 12 yards to Bob Dillingham for another.

The Boilermakers hope Keyes will be fully recovered for next Saturday's encounter with Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., because the third-ranked Irish opened their season last Saturday by crushing Oklahoma, No. 5, 45-21. Like Simpson, Gilbert and Gipson did individually, the Irish compiled some impressive statistics.

They amassed a school record 35 first downs, ran for 357 yards and passed for 214 more, giving them a total offense of 571 yards. End Jim Seymour also set a record, catching two touchdown passes for a career total of 14, one more than Leon Hart had in his days with the Irish.

Oklahoma and Minnesota were not the only members of the Top 20 to lose. Iowa edged eight-ranked Oregon State 21-20; and Louisiana State, No. 20, nipped Texas A&M, No. 13, 13-12.

Florida, No. 6, got past Air Force 22-20; seventh-ranked Alabama downed Virginia Tech 14-7; 10th-ranked Penn State whipped Navy 31-6; Nebraska, No. 14, crushed Utah 31-0; Indiana, No. 15, outslugged Baylor 40-36; and UCLA tied with Minnesota for 15th, smashed Pitt 63-7.

It was obvious that UCLA didn't miss its All-America quarterback, Gary Beban. Bill Bolden, the Heisman Trophy winner's successor, suffered a shoulder separation after leading the Bruins to three touchdowns, but sophomore Jim Nader took over and passed for four more scores.

In other games North Carolina State whipped North Carolina 38-6, Georgia Tech defeated Texas Christian 17-7, Michigan State topped Syracuse 14-10, California beat Michigan 21-7, Arizona State crushed Wisconsin 55-7, Wyoming battered Utah State 48-3 and Colorado stopped Oregon 28-7.

230 Attend Dinner

Trapshooters Present Awards At Annual Event

Some 230 attended the annual awards banquet of the Beaver County Trapshooters League at the Willows Motel in Industry Saturday.

Joe Craig, president of the Beaver County Conservation League, outlined gun legislation. He said, "Gun laws are not new. Different parties have been trying to pass gun legislation since 1957."

Craig said there will be a public meeting at the Big Knob Grange Oct. 10 concerning gun legislation and other matters and urged the audience to attend. Representatives of both political parties will be there.

Bernard Cashdollar, chief of Beaver County Detectives, also spoke. He said his office is giving crime in Beaver County "a tough going over." He stated, "we are not only interested in gun legislation, but other problems in Beaver County."

He called on citizens not to be shy about notifying police about suspicious situations, and cited cases of calls which have helped solve major crimes. Cashdollar said the public as a whole has a better opportunity of knowing what is going on simply because of the numerical difference.

Bill Russell To Re-Sign With Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, a 12-year National Basketball Association veteran, is ready to sign one of the richest contracts in NBA history to continue as player-coach of the Boston Celtics for another couple of years.

A source told The Associated Press Sunday night that Russell has agreed to terms in a two-year contract calling for slightly more than $200,000 a season.

Although a club spokesman said he had no knowledge of the signing, there was speculation the announcement might be made at a noon luncheon for Russell and his teammates.

The agreement, which reportedly includes salary and fringe benefits, was worked out by Celtics' General Manager Red Auerbach and Russell's attorney, Morris Krisner of Boston, during the past few weeks.

Russell, who will be 35 in February, received an estimated $150,000 as player-coach the last two years. He has shown little concern over a new contract as Auerbach and Krisner negotiated.

Russell is the second highest member of the NBA. Wilt Chamberlain recently signed for an estimated $3 million for playing the next five years with the Los Angeles Lakers. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Jerry West of the Lakers are believed in the $100,000 class.

Whitworth Wins Kings River Golf

KINGSBURG, Calif. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth of Dallas is closing in on Carol Mann-financially.

Miss Whitworth shot a final round 69 Sunday and finished 10 strokes ahead of second place Sandra Haynie in the $15,000 Kings River Open Golf Tournament. And she won $2,071 more than Miss Mann.

Her 54-hole score of 208 was 20 shots better than Miss Mann, the leading money-winner on the ladies tour with $47,381. But Miss Whitworth is in second and driving.

After winning $2,250 Sunday, Miss Whitworth had rung up $46,144 and she could surpass Miss Mann with a victory in the Fallbrook, Calif., Open next weekend.

Vermont, in ratio to population, keeps more dairy cows than any other state.

Rector Quits At Mexico U. Over Troops

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The rector of the University of Mexico resigned Sunday night in protest against army occupation of his campus. He was the first major political casualty of more than two months of student unrest.

Javier Barros Sierra is the second rector of the 85,000-student university to resign in less than three years. His predecessor was forced out in May 1966 after a two-month student strike against his administration.

Barros Sierra, a well known Mexican educator, was the personal choice of President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz. He announced his resignation after repeated public attacks against him by congressmen and leaders of the ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party.

"The inescapable conclusion is that those who don't understand the conflict nor have been able to solve it decided at any cost to show supposed persons guilty of what has happened and among them they have selected me," the rector said.

There were reports of scattered violence Sunday in Mexico City but nothing like the fighting Saturday night in which one policeman was killed and dozens of people injured. The policeman was shot by an army officer as the policeman tried to arrest the officer's mother.

Barros Sierra declared the university to be in mourning and led a huge student protest march on July 30 after federal paratroopers invaded a university high school to chase out rioters. He said the invasion signified the death of university autonomy in Mexico.

Demonstrators Invade Church In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Antiwar demonstrators invaded a Roman Catholic church while Mass was being celebrated Sunday. Eight were taken into custody by police after the church rector was pushed to the sanctuary floor.

Msgr. James E. Kelly, rector of St. John's Cathedral, called the incident "blasphemy—close to sacrilege and bordering on desecration of the church."

About 40 demonstrators, some of them school teachers and many of them students at Roman Catholic Marquette University, had gathered at the church. They asked permission to read a statement from the pulpit urging ther church to "actively resist war and racism."

Kelly, 73, said he was pushed to the floor by a bearded youth. Five policemen, called to the church by reports there would be a demonstration, moved into the sanctuary as worshipers stood and shouted for the protesters to leave.

The Rev. Peter Moch, celebrant of the Mass, canceled the remaining portion of the service after a few demonstrators crowded around the pulpit.

Checking Homicide

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — An investigation was continuing today in the death of William M. Bennett, 46, of rural Millbury, Wood County.

Sheriff Earl Rife said Bennett, whose body was found in a car Saturday on a county road, definitely was a homicide victim. The sheriff would not say how Bennett died. A coroner's investigation report was expected early this week.

Pole Position Pays At San Juan Track

SAN JUAN (AP) — Horses carrying No. 1 won the first five races at San Juan El Comandante Race Track Sunday. A spokesman for the track said it was the first time in Puerto Rico and the United States that the No. 1 horse has won the first five races of the day.

230 Attend Dinner

Trapshooters Present Awards At Annual Event

Some 230 attended the annual awards banquet of the Beaver County Trapshooters League at the Willows Motel in Industry Saturday.

Joe Craig, president of the Beaver County Conservation League, outlined gun legislation. He said, "Gun laws are not new. Different parties have been trying to pass gun legislation since 1957."

Craig said there will be a public meeting at the Big Knob Grange Oct. 10 concerning gun legislation and other matters and urged the audience to attend. Representatives of both political parties will be there.

Bernard Cashdollar, chief of Beaver County Detectives, also spoke. He said his office is giving crime in Beaver County "a tough going over." He stated, "we are not only interested in gun legislation, but other problems in Beaver County."

He called on citizens not to be shy about notifying police about suspicious situations, and cited cases of calls which have helped solve major crimes. Cashdollar said the public as a whole has a better opportunity of knowing what is going on simply because of the numerical difference.

Bill Russell To Re-Sign With Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, a 12-year National Basketball Association veteran, is ready to sign one of the richest contracts in NBA history to continue as player-coach of the Boston Celtics for another couple of years.

A source told The Associated Press Sunday night that Russell has agreed to terms in a two-year contract calling for slightly more than $200,000 a season.

Although a club spokesman said he had no knowledge of the signing, there was speculation the announcement might be made at a noon luncheon for Russell and his teammates.

The agreement, which reportedly includes salary and fringe benefits, was worked out by Celtics' General Manager Red Auerbach and Russell's attorney, Morris Krisner of Boston, during the past few weeks.

Russell, who will be 35 in February, received an estimated $150,000 as player-coach the last two years. He has shown little concern over a new contract as Auerbach and Krisner negotiated.

Russell is the second highest member of the NBA. Wilt Chamberlain recently signed for an estimated $3 million for playing the next five years with the Los Angeles Lakers. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Jerry West of the Lakers are believed in the $100,000 class.

Whitworth Wins Kings River Golf

KINGSBURG, Calif. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth of Dallas is closing in on Carol Mann-financially.

Miss Whitworth shot a final round 69 Sunday and finished 10 strokes ahead of second place Sandra Haynie in the $15,000 Kings River Open Golf Tournament. And she won $2,071 more than Miss Mann.

Her 54-hole score of 208 was 20 shots better than Miss Mann, the leading money-winner on the ladies tour with $47,381. But Miss Whitworth is in second and driving.

After winning $2,250 Sunday, Miss Whitworth had rung up $46,144 and she could surpass Miss Mann with a victory in the Fallbrook, Calif., Open next weekend.

Vermont, in ratio to population, keeps more dairy cows than any other state.

Rector Quits At Mexico U. Over Troops

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The rector of the University of Mexico resigned Sunday night in protest against army occupation of his campus. He was the first major political casualty of more than two months of student unrest.

Javier Barros Sierra is the second rector of the 85,000-student university to resign in less than three years. His predecessor was forced out in May 1966 after a two-month student strike against his administration.

Barros Sierra, a well known Mexican educator, was the personal choice of President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz. He announced his resignation after repeated public attacks against him by congressmen and leaders of the ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party.

"The inescapable conclusion is that those who don't understand the conflict nor have been able to solve it decided at any cost to show supposed persons guilty of what has happened and among them they have selected me," the rector said.

There were reports of scattered violence Sunday in Mexico City but nothing like the fighting Saturday night in which one policeman was killed and dozens of people injured. The policeman was shot by an army officer as the policeman tried to arrest the officer's mother.

Barros Sierra declared the university to be in mourning and led a huge student protest march on July 30 after federal paratroopers invaded a university high school to chase out rioters. He said the invasion signified the death of university autonomy in Mexico.

Demonstrators Invade Church In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Antiwar demonstrators invaded a Roman Catholic church while Mass was being celebrated Sunday. Eight were taken into custody by police after the church rector was pushed to the sanctuary floor.

Msgr. James E. Kelly, rector of St. John's Cathedral, called the incident "blasphemy—close to sacrilege and bordering on desecration of the church."

About 40 demonstrators, some of them school teachers and many of them students at Roman Catholic Marquette University, had gathered at the church. They asked permission to read a statement from the pulpit urging ther church to "actively resist war and racism."

Kelly, 73, said he was pushed to the floor by a bearded youth. Five policemen, called to the church by reports there would be a demonstration, moved into the sanctuary as worshipers stood and shouted for the protesters to leave.

The Rev. Peter Moch, celebrant of the Mass, canceled the remaining portion of the service after a few demonstrators crowded around the pulpit.

Checking Homicide

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — An investigation was continuing today in the death of William M. Bennett, 46, of rural Millbury, Wood County.

Sheriff Earl Rife said Bennett, whose body was found in a car Saturday on a county road, definitely was a homicide victim. The sheriff would not say how Bennett died. A coroner's investigation report was expected early this week.

Pole Position Pays At San Juan Track

SAN JUAN (AP) — Horses carrying No. 1 won the first five races at San Juan El Comandante Race Track Sunday. A spokesman for the track said it was the first time in Puerto Rico and the United States that the No. 1 horse has won the first five races of the day.

Junior Editors Quiz on FALCONS

QUESTION: What is the difference between a hawk and a falcon?

* * * *

ANSWER: Hawks are a large family of birds of prey, having sharp beaks and talons, and living by catching other birds and small animals. True hawks are often called buzzard hawks. Falcons, or bird hawks, are a closely related family known as the Falconidae. They have sharp bills and talons like hawks, but the wings are more narrow and pointed. They are savage, relentless hunters and fly at tremendous speed. Plunging down at its prey, a falcon may make 180 miles an hour. Because of their skill at hunting, falcons were once widely trained to catch prey for human masters, but this cruel sport is little practiced today. The true hawks, such as those in the lower picture of a red-tailed hawk, have broader wings, and many soar around in circles high in the air, their keen vision spotting prey below. A few of these birds kill chickens, but most hawks are more valuable to man than harmful because they eat so many mice. Other useful hawks include the marsh hawk, the red shouldered hawk and the broad winged hawk. Falcons, such as the duck hawk, Cooper's hawk, and goshawk, are listed as being more harmful because they kill many chickens.

(Joyce Hampton of Tyler, Tex., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
